UNION FORK & HOE CO.

ADJUSTMENT OF MAXIMUM PRICES

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and pursuant to Supplementary Order No. 133, it is ordered:

(a) Manufacturer's maximum prices. The Union Fork & Hoe Company, 9 Buttles Avenue, Columbus, Ohio, may increase by 5 percent its current maximum prices (exclusive of any permitted increases), for sales of forks, hoes, hooks, rakes, and miscellaneous tools covered by Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 which it manufactures.

(b) Maximum prices of purchasers for resale. A reseller shall calculate his ceiling price by adding to his invoice cost the same percentage markup which he has on the "most comparable article" for which he has a properly established ceiling price. For this purpose, the "most comparable article" is the one which meets all of the following tests:

(i) It belongs to the narrow test trade category which includes the article being priced.

(ii) Both it and the article being priced were purchased from the same class of supplier.

(iii) Both it and the article being priced belong to a class of articles to which, according to customary trade practices, an approximately uniform percentage markup is applied.

(iv) Its net replacement cost is nearest to the net cost of the article being priced.

The determination of a ceiling price in this way need not be reported to the Office of Price Administration; however, each seller must keep complete records showing all the information called by the OPA Form 620–759 with regard to how he determined his ceiling price, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect.

If the maximum resale price cannot be determined under the above method, the reseller shall apply to the Office of Price Administration for the establishment of a ceiling price under § 1499.3 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation. Ceiling prices established under that section will reflect the supplier's prices as adjusted in accordance with this order.

(c) Terms of sale. Maximum prices adjusted by this order are subject to each seller's terms, allowances and other price differentials in effect during March 1942, or which have been properly established under the applicable OPA regulation.

(d) Notification. At the time of, or prior to, the first invoice to a purchaser for resale, showing a price adjusted in accordance with the terms of this order, the seller shall notify the purchaser in writing of the methods established in paragraph (b) of this order for determining adjusted maximum prices for resales of the articles covered by this order. This notice may be given in any convenient form.

(e) Reports. The manufacturer shall file the report described in section 5 of Supplementary Order No. 133 with the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C.

The provision of Supplementary Order No. 153 shall not apply to resale prices of articles covered by this order.

(f) Revocation or amendment. This order may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(g) Effective date. This order shall become effective on the 24th day of May 1946.

Issued this 23d day of May 1946.

Administrator.

(b) Reseller's maximum prices (1) Each reseller shall calculate his maximum resale prices for articles covered by this order by adding to his invoice cost, the same percentage markup which he has on the "most comparable article" for which he has a properly established maximum price. The determination of a maximum price in this way need not be reported to the Office of Price Administration; however, each seller must keep complete records showing all the information called by OPA Form 620-759 with regard to how he determined his maximum price, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended remains in effect.

If the maximum resale price cannot be determined under the above method the reseller shall apply to the Office of Price Administration for the establishment of a maximum price under § 1499.3 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation. Maximum price established under that section will reflect the suppliers prices as adjusted in accordance with this order.

(2) The provisions of Supplementary Order No. 153 shall not apply to sales of articles covered by this order.

(c) Terms of sale. Maximum prices adjusted by this order are subject to each seller's terms, discounts, allowances, and other price differentials, in effect during March, 1942 or which have been properly established under the applicable OPA regulation.

(d) Notification. At the time of, or prior to the first invoice to a purchaser for resale, showing a price adjusted in accordance with the terms of this order, the seller shall notify the purchaser in writing of the methods established in paragraph (b) of this order for determining adjusted maximum prices for resale of the articles covered by this order. MEXICAN FRUITFLY REGULATIONS REVISED—EXTENSION OF HARVESTING SEASON TO JUNE 30, 1946

Introductory note. The following administrative instructions extend to June 30, 1946, the harvesting season for grapefruit, sweet limes, and "sour" and "bittersweet" oranges produced in the area regulated by the Mexican fruitfly quarantine. This action is taken to permit the harvesting of the large crop of fruit which has been retarded due to transportation conditions, and is deemed safe inasmuch as sterilization of grapefruit from Cameron, Hidalgo, and Willacy Counties will continue to be required during the extended period.

[WFO 1, Amdt. 15]

PART 1404—BAKERY PRODUCTS

WEIGHT OF BAKERY PRODUCTS

War Food Order 1, as amended (10 F.R. 5347), is further amended by adding immediately after paragraph (q) the following new paragraph:

(r) Weight of bakery products. No baker shall make or sell any variety of bread or rolls the baked weight of which is more than 90 percent of the baked weight of such variety as produced by such baker on March 15, 1946, or if such variety was not produced on that date, then on the latest date prior to March 15, 1946, such variety was produced: Provided, however, That the baked weight of any bread or rolls produced under this provision shall be subject to a tolerance of not more than 2 percent: And provided further, That any baker who because of equipment difficulties cannot reasonably comply with the foregoing requirement is exempted therefrom without the necessity of application to the Administrator on condition that on or before June 10, 1946, he files with the Administrator a statement of the facts with respect to his equipment difficulties and the reasons why he cannot reasonably comply. Any such exemption may be revoked by the Administrator by a specific order if he determines that compliance may reasonably be required. Every baker shall use wrappers, packages or labels indicating plainly the correct weight of products of changed weight manufactured under this order: Provided, however, That a baker who does not ordinarily wrap, package or label his products, and is not required by law to do so, is exempted from this requirement if he gives notice to the persons to whom delivery is made of the reduced weight of such products. In the event that any baker cannot obtain such wrappers, packages or labels or have those on hand corrected to show the changed weight for use on current production, then such baker may, during the period required to obtain new wrappers, packages or labels, use existing stocks or stocks on order on May 31, 1946, of wrappers, packages and labels: Provided, Such baker furnishes to each retail establishment to which bread or rolls so wrapped, packaged or labeled are delivered by him a sign or card, of sufficient size to be clearly noticeable to customers, containing print of a size which will be clearly legible, reading as follows:

NOTICE OF REDUCTION IN WEIGHT OF BREAD AND ROLLS

As part of the Famine Emergency Committee program and by order of the Secretary of Agriculture (War Food Order No. 1) the weight of all bread and rolls has been reduced by 10 percent. It is impossible to obtain a new supply of packaging materials in the short time available, and these products are being packaged with the materials now on hand. The labels do not indicate the correct weight and it is the purpose of this notice to insure that you are fully informed as to the true weight. The packaging of these products in the manner described is limited to the duration of the emergency famine campaign.

(If the percentage is more than 10 percent such percentage shall be shown.) No baker shall deliver any bakery product so wrapped, packaged or labeled to a retail establishment unless such sign or card is prominently displayed where bakery products are offered for sale in such establishment. No baker shall deliver any bakery product so wrapped, packaged or labeled to any person other than a retail establishment unless he gives written notice to the person to whom delivery is made of the facts set forth in such sign or card.

These provisions shall be applicable to goods sold or transported in interstate commerce, as well as to goods sold or transported within the limits of a single state.

This amendment shall become effective at 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., June 1, 1946. With respect to violations, rights accrued, liabilities incurred, or appeals taken, prior to said date, under War Food Order No. 1, as amended, all provisions of said order shall be deemed to remain in full force for the purpose of sustaining any proper suit, action, or other proceeding with respect to any such violation, right, liability, or appeal.

PART 238—CERTIFICATES OF PUBLIC CONVENIENCE AND NECESSITY

TEMPORARY SUSPENSIONS OF SERVICE BY AIR CARRIERS (EXCEPT ALASKAN AIR CARRIERS)

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 21st day of May 1946. (Amendment No. 1 of Revised § 238.6 of the Economic Regulations)

The Civil Aeronautic Board acting pursuant to the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, particularly sections 205 (a) and 401 thereof, hereby makes and promulgates the following regulation:

1. Effective May 21, 1946, paragraph (e) of § 238.6 of the Economic Regulations is amended to read as follows:

(e) Disposition. The Board will grant such application if it finds that such temporary suspension of service is in the public interest. In case a certificate of public convenience and necessity contains a condition or limitation requiring service to a point on each trip or schedule operated on a route or a route segment by the holder of such certificate, an application based upon the fact that the air carrier operating certificate of the holder does not authorize service to such point through any airport convenient thereto with any type of aircraft then regularly being used or proposed to be used by the holder will be granted only if the Board finds that such temporary suspension of service will not substantially change the character of the service for which the certificate of public convenience and necessity was granted and is otherwise in the public interest. An order authorizing temporary suspension of service will be subject to revocation or amendment by the Board at any time.

2. Subparagraph (2) of paragraph (f) of § 238.6 of the Economic Regulations is amended by striking out the comma and the word "or" at the end of such subparagraph and inserting in lieu thereof a colon and the following: "Provided, That the provisions of this subparagraph (2) shall not apply to the temporary suspension of service to a point by the holder of a certificate of public convenience and necessity if such certificate contains a condition or limitation requiring service to such point on each trip or schedule operated on a route or a route segment by the holder of such certificate; or".

In the Matter of Bernard Singerman, an Individual, Trading as Pixacol Company

It is further ordered, That the respondent shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon him of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which he has complied with this order.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[SR 14D, Amdt. 12]

SCRAP CHEWING TOBACCO

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Supplementary Regulation 14D is amended in the following respects:

1. The following sentence is added to section 4 (a) (1) (i): "The above prices for the 2¼-ounce item may be adjusted to the applicable amounts in Table A, below, as if such prices had been established under section 1499.2 of the General Maximum Price Regulation".

2. Section 4 (a) (2) is amended to read as follows:

(2) For same package contents. Any manufacturer of an item of scrap chewing tobacco, the maximum list price, established by the General Maximum Price Regulation, and the March 1942 stated retail price of which are listed in columns 2 and 3, respectively, in Table A, below, may adjust those prices to the new maximum list prices and maximum retail prices shown on the same line under columns 4 and 5, respectively, of such table.

TABLE A

Col. 1	Col. 2	Col. 3	Col. 4	Col. 5
Variety	Maximum list price per dozen packages established by General Maximum Price Regulation (March 1942 list price)	March 1942 stated retail price per package	Maximum list price per dozen packages after June 3, 1946	Maximum retail price per package after June 3, 1946
Plain	$0.48	$0.05	$0.68	$0.07
	.95	.10	1.34	.14
	.99	.10	1.39	.14
	1.00	.10	1.40	.14
Sweetened	.96	.10	1.25	.13
	1.23	.13	1.54	.16
	1.44	.15	1.92	.20

[1] Or 2 for 25¢.

(i) Any manufacturer who desires to adjust his maximum list price for an item of scrap chewing tobacco, not covered by columns 2 and 3, of Table A, above, shall apply by letter to the Office of Price Administration, Tobacco Section, Washington, D. C., for authority to establish an adjusted maximum list price for the item. The letter shall state:

(a) His maximum list price per dozen packages, as established under the General Maximum Price Regulation, together with applicable discounts and allowances, for the item, and his March 1942 stated retail price per package.

(b) The quantity of package contents or package size.

After receipt of the application, the Price Administrator will, by order, establish maximum prices for the applicant and subsequent sellers of the item, which are in line with the maximum prices established by this section. Maximum prices so established may be revoked or modified by the Price Administrator at any time.

3. A new section 4 (a) (3) is added to read as follows:

SEC. 4. (a) (3) Adjustments of manufacturers' maximum prices for private brands of scrap chewing tobacco. An owner of a private brand of scrap chewing tobacco and the manufacturer of the brand may pay and receive whatever price they may agree on for the private brand of scrap chewing tobacco supplied to the private brand owner; provided, that the private brand owner may not use any increased price which he agrees to pay his manufacturer as a basis for an increase in his maximum prices for such private brand.

4. Sections 4 (b) to 4 (h) are redesignated sections 4 (c) to 4 (i), respectively, and a new section 4 (b) is added to read as follows:

(b) Increases in maximum prices established by orders issued under 4 (a) (1) (ii) and 4 (a) (2) (ii). After June 3, 1946 maximum list prices and maximum retail prices established by orders issued under 4 (a) (1) (ii) and 4 (a) (2) (ii), above, prior to June 3, 1946 may be adjusted upward by the following amounts:

(1) The maximum retail prices for items of sweetened scrap chewing tobacco and plain scrap chewing tobacco shall be multiplied by the factors 1.15 and 1.165, respectively.

(2) The resulting retail price shall be rounded off to the next highest full cent.

(3) The new maximum list price shall bear the same relationship percentagewise to the maximum retail price produced by (2), above, as the list price established in the order issued under 4 (a) (1) (ii) and 4 (a) (2) (ii), above, bore to the retail price established in such order.

Example: Order issued under 4 (a) (1) (ii) established maximum retail price of 17¢ and manufacturer's list price of $1.63 for an item of sweetened scrap chewing tobacco weighing 2½ ounces.

Step 1. Retail price of 17¢ established by order multiplied by 1.15 (factor for sweetened scrap) equals 19.55¢.

Step 2. Next highest full cent is 20¢, the new maximum retail price.

Step 3. Old maximum list price $1.63 was 79.9% of old maximum retail price of $2.04 per dozen packages. Therefore, new maximum list price is 79.9% of new maximum retail price of $2.40 per dozen packages. $2.40 × 79.9 equals $1.9176, which may be rounded off to $1.92 as the new maximum list price per dozen packages.

Before a manufacturer places new maximum prices established by this paragraph in effect, he shall apply by letter to the Tobacco Section of the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. The letter shall contain the manufacturer's calculations on his items of scrap chewing tobacco as in the example given above, and the resulting new maximum prices for such items.

If the Office of Price Administration makes no objection to the proposed new maximum prices within fifteen days of its receipt of such letter the manufacturer may take the increases in maximum prices in accordance with the calculations made in his letter after giving the notice prescribed by paragraph 4 (e), below.

5. In redesignated paragraph 4 (c), "(d)" in the first sentence is amended to read "(e)". In the last sentence the words "or (b)" are inserted after the words "(a) (1) or (2)".

6. In redesignated paragraph (4) (d), "(d)" in the first sentence is amended to read "(e)" and the following sentence is added to redesignated paragraph (4) (d): "When the allowed price increase results in a price ending in a half cent for a single package, the maximum retail price for a single package may be increased to the next highest full cent but the retailer must give each purchaser the option of buying at least two packages of the item of scrap chewing tobacco at the multiple unit price."

7. The first sentence is redesignated paragraph (4) (e) is amended to read as follows: "Every seller (other than a retailer) of an item of scrap chewing tobacco, the maximum list price and maximum retail price of which have been adjusted in accordance with (a) or (b), above, shall give the following written notice on or before his first delivery to a purchaser after the seller has made such adjustment."

8. In redesignated paragraph 4 (g) the first sentence is amended to read as follows: "Maximum prices established by (a) (1) or (2), or (b), above, are exclusive of state and local taxes upon tobacco products."

9. The following definition is added to redesignated paragraph 4 (i): "General Maximum Price Regulation" as used in this section 4 does not include Supplementary Regulation 14D or Revised Supplementary Regulation 14.

This amendment shall become effective June 3, 1946.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 27th day of May 1946.

Administrator.

EMPLOYMENT OF MINORS BETWEEN 16 AND 18 YEARS OF AGE IN OCCUPATIONS INVOLVED IN OPERATION OF POWER-DRIVEN HOISTING APPARATUS

NOTICE OF HEARING ON PROPOSED FINDING AND ORDER

Whereas, section 12 (a) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 (Act of June 25, 1938, c. 676, 52 Stat. 1060, U. S. Code, tl. 29, sec. 201) prohibits the shipment or delivery for shipment of goods in commerce, as defined in the act, which are produced in establishments situated in the United States in or about which within 30 days prior to the removal of such goods therefrom any oppressive child labor has been employed; and

Whereas, section 3 (l) of the said Act which defines oppressive child labor provides in part as follows:

(1) "Oppressive child labor" means a condition of employment under which (1) any employee under the age of 16 years is employed by an employer * * * in any occupation, or (2) any employee between the ages of sixteen and eighteen years is employed by an employer in any occupation which the Chief of the Children's Bureau in the Department of Labor shall find and by order declare to be particularly hazardous for the employment of children between such ages or detrimental to their health or well-being; * * *

and

Whereas, the Chief of the Children's Bureau issued on November 3, 1938, a regulation prescribing the Procedure Governing Determinations of Hazardous Occupations: [1] and

Whereas, pursuant to the said regulation, an investigation has been conducted with respect to the hazardous nature of occupations involved in the operation of power-driven hoisting apparatus with special reference to the employment of minors between 16 and 18 years of age; and

Whereas, a report of the investigation, entitled Occupational Hazards to Young Workers (Report No. 7—The Operation of Hoisting Apparatus) has been submitted to the Chief of the Children's Bureau, copies of which will be sent upon request directed to the Office of the Children's Bureau, United States Department of Labor, Washington, D. C., showing that:

1. Many minors under 18 years of age are being injured in operating or assisting in the operation of hoisting apparatus.

2. The number of industrial injuries caused by hoisting apparatus is substantial in comparison with industrial injuries in general.

3. Injuries due to hoisting apparatus are relatively severe, resulting in a disproportionately high number of deaths and permanent disabling injuries.

4. Injuries due to hoisting apparatus occur not only to the operators but also to those assisting in the operation of hoisting apparatus and to other employees.

5. The hazards of operating or assisting in the operation of hoisting apparatus tend to be greater for young persons than for more mature persons because young persons usually lack the characteristics of caution and judgment needed to operate hoisting apparatus safely.

6. The hazards to minors of operating hoisting apparatus is recognized by minimum-wage standards for the employment of young workers imposed by State laws, and in nationally recommended safety codes; and

Whereas, the Chief of the Children's Bureau, under the authority of section 3 (1) of said act proposes to issue a finding and order in the form set forth below relating to occupations involved in the operation of power-driven hoisting apparatus.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given of a public hearing to be held on June 25, 1946, commencing at 10 a. m. in room 7129, United States Department of Labor Building, 14th Street and Constitution Avenue, Washington, D. C., before a presiding officer to be designated hereafter, at which interested parties will be given opportunity to appear and to be heard with respect to the said report and proposed finding and order. All parties desiring to appear at the hearing are requested to notify the Children's Bureau at least 5 days prior to the date fixed for hearing. Any interested party who is unable to appear in person or by representative may submit a written comment or brief to the Children's Bureau not later than the day prior to the date fixed herein for said hearing in order that the same may be made part of the record of the hearing.

Proposed Finding and Order

[Hazardous Occupations Order 7]

§ 422.7 Occupations involved in the operation of power driven hoisting apparatus—(a) Finding and declaration of fact. By virtue of and pursuant to the authority conferred by section 3 (1) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 [1] and pursuant to the regulation prescribing the Procedure Governing Determination of Hazardous Occupations; [2] an investigation having been conducted with respect to the hazards for minors between 16 and 18 years of age in employment in occupations involved in the operation of power-driven hoisting apparatus and a report of the investigation having been submitted to the Chief of the Children's Bureau;

Now, therefore, I, Katherine F. Lenroot, Chief of the Children's Bureau of the United States Department of Labor, hereby find and declare that the following occupations involved in the operation of power-driven hoisting apparatus are particularly hazardous for minors between 16 and 18 years of age:

(1) Work of operating an elevator, crane, derrick, hoist, or high-lift truck.

(2) Work of loading or unloading a freight elevator or riding on a freight elevator in conjunction with such work or with the transportation of materials.

(3) Work of assisting in the operation of a crane, derrick, hoist, or high-lift truck by preparing the load for lifting, signaling the operator, unhooking the load after lowering and similar work usually performed by crane hookers, chasers, hookers-on, riggers, rigger helpers, and the like.

(b) Definitions. As used in this order:

(1) The term "elevator" shall mean any power-driven hoisting or lowering mechanism equipped with a car or platform which moves in guides in a substantially vertical direction. The term shall include both passenger and freight elevators (including portable elevators or tiering machines), but shall not include dumbwaiters or unattended automatic-operation elevators.

(2) The term "crane" shall mean a power-driven machine for lifting and lowering a load and moving it horizontally, in which the hoisting mechanism is an integral part of the machine. The term shall include all types of cranes, such as cantilever gantry, crawler, gantry, hammerhead, ingot-pouring, jib, locomotive, motor-truck, overhead traveling, pillar jib, pintle, portal, semi-gantry, semi-portal, storage bridge, tower, walking jib, and wall cranes.

(3) The term "derrick" shall mean a power-driven apparatus consisting of a mast or equivalent members held at the top by guys or braces, with or without a boom, for use with a hoisting mechanism or operating ropes. The term shall include all types of derricks, such as A-frame, breast, Chicago boom, gin-pole, guy, and stiff-leg derrick.

(4) The term "hoist" shall mean a power-driven apparatus for raising or lowering a load by the application of a pulling force that does not include a car or platform running in guides. The term shall include all types of hoists, such as base-mounted electric, clevis suspension, hook suspension, monorail, overhead electric, simple drum, and trolley suspension hoists.

(5) The term "high-lift truck" shall mean a power-driven industrial type of truck used for lateral transportation that is equipped with a power-operated lifting device usually in the form of a fork or platform capable of tiering loaded pallets or skids one above the other. Instead of a fork or platform, the lifting device may consist of a ram, scoop, shovel, crane, revolving fork, or other attachments for handling specific loads. The term shall mean and include high-lift trucks known under such names as fork lifts, fork trucks, fork-lift trucks, tiering trucks, or stacking trucks, but shall not mean low-lift trucks or low-lift platform trucks that are designed for the transportation of but not the tiering of material.

This order shall not justify noncompliance with any Federal or State law or municipal ordinance establishing a higher standard than the standard established herein.

This order shall become effective on August 1, 1946 and shall be in force and effect until amended or repealed by order hereafter made and published by the Chief of the Children's Bureau.

Dated at Washington, D. C., this 23d day of May 1946.

Chief of the Children's Bureau.

2. Paragraph (d) is amended by adding thereto the following undesignated paragraph:

Upon issuance of any amendment to this order which either adds an article to those already listed in paragraph (a) or changes the retail ceiling price of a listed article, the manufacturer or wholesaler, as to such article, must comply with the preticketing requirements of this paragraph within 30 days after the issuance of the amendment. After 60 days from the issuance date, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is preticketed in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph. Prior to the expiration of the 60 day period, unless the article is so preticketed, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this order. However, the pricing provisions of this order or of any subsequent amendment thereto shall apply as of the effective date of the order or applicable amendment.

3. A new paragraph (h) is added to read as follows:

(h) In connection with each delivery under this order, the manufacturer shall state on his invoice, or on an attachment thereto, his "unadjusted price" for each article. "Unadjusted price" means the manufacturer's ceiling price prior to any adjustments under Supplementary Order 131 plus the amount by which such adjustments exceed 20% of that ceiling price.

This amendment shall become effective May 24, 1946.

Issued this 24th day of May 1946.

Administrator.

BOXSPRINGS AND HAND-TIED BOXSPRING CONSTRUCTIONS

ADJUSTMENT OF MAXIMUM PRICES

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, and filed with the Division of the Federal Register; and pursuant to § 1499.159e of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, it is ordered:

Sec.

1. Articles covered by this order.
2. Manufacturers' maximum prices.
3. Maintenance of normal production.
4. Manufacturers' reports.
5. Maximum prices for sales at wholesale; or to commercial and institutional users.
6. Invoices to purchasers for resale.
7. Notification to purchasers for resale.
8. Retailers' maximum prices.
9. "Branded articles."
10. Credit charges.
11. Terms of sale.
12. Relationship of this order to other orders or regulations.
13. Revision of maximum prices.
14. Revocation or amendment.
15. Effective date.

SECTION 1. Articles covered by this order. This order covers all boxsprings and hand-tied boxspring constructions.

SEC. 2. Manufacturers' maximum prices—(a) Determination of maximum prices. Manufacturers shall continue to determine their maximum prices for articles covered by this order under the same regulation and pricing provisions applicable before this order was issued.

(b) Increase factor. Manufacturers may increase, by 16 per cent, their maximum prices (exclusive of any permitted increases) properly established under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 for sales to all persons except household consumers.

(c) "Adjusted maximum price". A manufacturer's "adjusted maximum price" is the highest of the following three amounts:

(1) His maximum price properly established under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 increased by 16 percent in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section.

(2) His maximum price properly established under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 or Order No. 4332 under that regulation, plus any increases in that maximum price permitted by an OPA order,[1] other than this order.

(3) His maximum price properly established under section 5 of Supplementary Order No. 118.

A manufacturer may make sales and deliveries at or below his adjusted maximum price computed under this section.

(d) "Unadjusted maximum price". A manufacturer's "unadjusted maximum price" for his sale of an article covered by this order is 89 percent of his actual selling price for the article (before making discounts, allowances and other price differentials, including PMs—premium money payments).

SEC. 3. Maintenance of normal production. An order may be issued under this section denying a manufacturer permission to adjust his maximum prices by all or part of the increase factor specified in section 2 when it appears to the Price Administrator, on the basis of information available to the Office of Price Administration, that: (a) the manufacturer has discontinued production of the low-end models which he made and delivered during the period from July 1, 1940 to June 30, 1941; or (b) the manufacturer has decreased the proportion of low-priced to high-priced models which he made and delivered during the period from July 1, 1940 to June 30, 1941, so that his present or prospective production is not representative, in that respect, of his production during that period.

The average price at which the manufacturer's production of each article will be sold shall be a consideration in determining the amount, if any, of the increase which will be granted such a manufacturer.

SEC. 4. Manufacturers' reports. (a) Before delivering an article covered by this order, each manufacturer shall file a report with the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., which report shall set forth the following:

(1) The date of the report.

(2) The manufacturer's name and address.

(3) The model designation of the article.

(4) The specifications of the article.

(5) The manufacturer's "adjusted maximum price" for sales of the article to each class of purchaser (as defined in section 2 of this order).

(6) The manufacturer's terms, discounts, allowances, and other price differentials in effect during March 1942 or thereafter properly established under the applicable OPA regulation.

The report must be filed by every manufacturer of articles covered by this order, regardless of the provision under which his maximum prices were established or adjusted.

NOTE: Section 9 sets forth additional information required with respect to "branded articles."

(b) No manufacturer may sell an article covered by this order at a price higher than 89 percent of his adjusted maximum price for the particular sale, (as defined in section 2), unless the report specified in (a) has been filed.

SEC. 5. Maximum prices for sales at wholesale; or to commercial and institutional users—(a) Sales covered by Maximum Price Regulation No. 590. This paragraph (a) modifies the pricing provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 590 with respect to articles covered by this order. Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions in Maximum Price Regulation No. 590 apply to the terms used in this paragraph.

(1) Adjusted maximum price. The adjusted maximum price of a wholesaler whose sales are covered by Maximum Price Regulation No. 590, for sales to each class of purchaser of an article covered by this order is the "net cost" of the article (based on his supplier's unadjusted maximum price) plus 80 percent of the dollar-and-cent difference between his supplier's unadjusted maximum price and the wholesaler's actual invoice cost, multiplied by the wholesaler's appropriate "category markup." For the purposes of this subparagraph (1) "supplier's unadjusted maximum price" and "wholesaler's actual invoice cost" refer to those amounts as they appear on his supplier's invoice after all discounts except cash discounts.

(2) Unadjusted maximum price. The "unadjusted maximum price" of a wholesaler whose sales are covered by Maximum Price Regulation No. 590 is the price determined by multiplying the "net cost" of the article (based on his supplier's unadjusted maximum price) by the wholesaler's appropriate "category markup." However, if the wholesaler's selling price for the article is below the "unadjusted maximum price" computed in this way, the "unadjusted maximum price" which must appear on the wholesaler's invoice for that article is the same as the wholesaler's selling price.

If, in accordance with section 4 or 7 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 590, a wholesaler elects to sell an article at his "highest price charged during March, 1942," instead of at the price found by applying his "category markup" to his "net cost," the "unadjusted maximum price" which must appear on the wholesaler's invoice for that article is the same as his selling price.

If, in accordance with section 3a of Maximum Price Regulation No. 590, a wholesaler adopts, as his own, the manufacturer's maximum price to a particular class of purchaser, the "unadjusted maximum price" which must appear on his invoice for the article is the same as the manufacturer's "unadjusted maximum price" for sales of that article to the same class of purchaser.

(b) Sales not covered by Maximum Price Regulation No. 590; and sales to commercial and institutional users. This paragraph (b) sets forth the methods by which persons making sales at wholesale, which are not covered by Maximum Price Regulation No. 590, shall determine their maximum prices. A person who purchases a boxspring from the manufacturer, and resells it to a hospital, hotel, or any other commercial or institutional user, shall also determine his maximum price under this paragraph.

(1) Adjusted maximum prices. (i) A seller who must determine his maximum price under this paragraph (b), who delivered or offered for delivery during March 1942 an article which meets the definition of "most comparable commodity" contained in § 1499.3 (a) of the General Maximum Price Regulation, except that it need not be currently offered for sale, shall find his adjusted maximum price according to the method and procedure set forth in that section by adding the same markup which he had on that comparable article to the total of:

His supplier's unadjusted maximum price, as it appears on his purchase invoice; and 80 percent of the dollar-and-cent difference between his supplier's unadjusted maximum price and the seller's actual invoice cost.

The seller may make sales covered by the General Maximum Price Regulation, at prices at or below his adjusted maximum price computed in this way.

The determination of a maximum resale price in this way need not be reported to the Office of Price Administration. However, each seller must keep complete records showing all the information called for on OPA Form 620-759, with regard to how he determines his maximum resale price. These records shall be kept available for inspection by the Office of Price Administration, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect.

(ii) If the seller cannot determine his adjusted maximum price under (i), he shall apply to the Office of Price Administration for the establishment of his adjusted maximum price under § 1499.3 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation. The application shall, in addition to the information specifically required by that section, also give the following information:

His supplier's unadjusted maximum price as it appears on his purchase invoice.

His actual invoice cost.

An adjusted maximum price established in this way will be in line with adjusted maximum prices established generally under section 6 of this order.

(2) Unadjusted maximum Prices. (i) A seller who must determine his maximum price under this paragraph (b), who delivered or offered for delivery during March 1942 an article which meets the definition of "most comparable commodity" contained in § 1499.3 (a) of the General Maximum Price Regulation, except that it need not be currently offered for sale, shall find his "unadjusted maximum price" according to the method and procedure set forth in that section by adding the same markup which he had on that comparable article to his supplier's unadjusted maximum price as it appears on his purchase invoice.

(ii) If the seller cannot determine his unadjusted maximum price under (i), he shall, at the time he applies for an adjusted maximum price to the Office of Price Administration under paragraph (b) (1) (ii) of this section also, apply for the establishment of an unadjusted maximum price. Unless such an unadjusted maximum price is established, he may not make sales of the article even though his adjusted maximum price is properly established.

SEC. 6. Invoices to purchasers for resale. (a) Every person who delivers an article covered by this order to a purchaser for resale (except a retailer making a "cross-stream sale" covered by section 9 (b) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 580) shall furnish to the purchaser an invoice or other written evidence of sale, containing the following:

(1) The name and address of both the seller and purchaser, and the date of sale.

(2) The name, number, or other identification of each article sold.

(3) The quantity of each article sold.

(4) The seller's unadjusted maximum price for each article sold.

(5) The actual selling price of each article sold.

(6) The nature and amount of any additional charges.

(7) The terms of sale.

(b) An article covered by this order may not be sold at a price higher than 89 percent of the seller's adjusted maximum price for the particular sale, unless the information specified in items (4) and (5) of the preceding paragraph is separately stated on the invoice or other written evidence of sale, and unless the seller's unadjusted maximum price is so identified.

(c) The seller shall retain a copy of such invoice or other written evidence of sale, for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect.

(d) A retailer making a cross-stream sale to another retailer must furnish the purchaser with the proper invoice required by section 9 (b) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 580. If the cross-stream sale is made in accordance with section 9 (b) (1) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 580 the seller must also state on his sales invoice his supplier's unadjusted maximum price for each article covered by this order which appears on the invoice.

NOTE: The provisions of this section are modified by section 9 with respect to transactions involving "branded articles."

SEC. 7. Notification to purchasers for resale. At the time of, or prior to, the first invoice to each purchaser for resale showing a maximum price adjusted in accordance with this order, the seller shall notify the purchaser in writing that:

(a) If he is a wholesaler he must determine his maximum resale prices for articles covered by this order under section 5 of Order No. 17 under § 1499.159e of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188.

(b) If he is a retailer he must determine his maximum resale prices for articles covered by this order under section 8 of Order No. 17 under § 1499.159e of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188; or, if the article is a "branded article" under section 9 of that order; or if his sale is to a commercial or institutional user, under section 5 of that order.

SEC. 8. Retailers' maximum prices—(a) Retailers whose sales are covered by Maximum Price Regulation No. 580. If the retailer determines his maximum price under Maximum Price Regulation No. 580, he shall calculate his maximum price following the rules set forth in that regulation, by using a "net cost" based on his supplier's "unadjusted maximum price" as it appears on his purchase invoice.

(b) Retailers whose sales are covered by the General Maximum Price Regulation. If the retailer determines his maximum prices under the General Maximum Price Regulation, his maximum price for sales of an article covered by this order shall be computed as follows:

(1) A retailer who delivered or offered for delivery during March 1942 an article which meets the definition of "most comparable commodity" contained in § 1499.3 (a) of the General Maximum Price Regulation, except that it need not be currently offered for sale, shall determine his maximum resale price by adding to his supplier's unadjusted maximum price (as it appears on his purchase invoice) the same markup which he had on that comparable article, according to the method and procedure set forth in that section.

(2) The determination of a maximum resale price under (1) need not be reported to the Office of Price Administration. However, each seller must keep complete records showing all the information called for on OPA Form 620-759, with regard to how he determines his maximum resale price. These records shall be kept available for inspection by the Office of Price Administration, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect.

(3) If a retailer cannot determine his maximum resale price under (1), he shall apply to the Office of Price Administration for the establishment of his maximum resale price under § 1499.3 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation. The retailer's application shall, in addition to the information specifically required by that section, also give the following information:

(i) His supplier's unadjusted maximum price.

(ii) His actual invoice cost.

(iii) A retailer's maximum price established under this subparagraph (3) will be in line with retailer's maximum prices established generally under this order.

NOTE: If the article being priced is a "branded article" its retail ceiling price is fixed by section 9.

[1] This refers to Supplementary Order No. 118, and to orders issued under Revised Supplementary Order No. 119, or under Supplementary Order No. 133, and Order No. A-2 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188.

SEC. 9. "Branded articles." This section sets forth the changes and additions to the other provisions of this order, applicable to transactions involving "branded articles".

(a) Definition. An article covered by this order is a "branded article" if:

(1) It was advertised at a uniform retail price, during or prior to March 1942; and

(2) It is identified by a brand or company name; and

(3) During or prior to March 1942, it generally was sold at retail at the advertised uniform retail price.

(b) Retail ceiling price. (1) The maximum price for sales of a branded article by a retailer to an ultimate consumer is the retail ceiling price which the manufacturer has calculated, and has properly stated on the tag attached to the article.

(2) Each manufacturer shall calculate the retail ceiling price of his branded article in the following manner: He shall multiply by 172 percent his highest f. o. b. factory or f. o. b. warehouse l. c. l. maximum price for sales of the particular article to retailers, after deducting cash discounts, rounding the result to the nearest twenty-five cents.

(c) Manufacturers' reports. Before first offering a branded article covered by this order, for sale after the effective date of this order, each manufacturer shall file a report with the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., which report shall set forth the information specified in section 4 (a), and also:

(1) The brand name of the article.

(2) The retail ceiling price of the article.

(d) Invoices to purchasers for resale. (1) If the branded article is sold by a manufacturer to a retailer, the invoice required by section 6 (a) of this order shall set forth all the information required by that section, except that it shall not set forth the manufacturer's unadjusted maximum price but shall instead state the retail ceiling price of the article in the following form (with the blank properly filled in).

OPA Retail Ceiling Price—$_____.

(2) If the branded article is sold to a wholesaler, the invoice required by section 6 (a) of this order shall, in addition to the information set forth in that section, also state the retail ceiling in the following form (with the blank properly filled in).

OPA Retail Ceiling Price—$_____.

(3) If the branded article is sold by a wholesaler to a retailer, the invoice required by section 6 (a) of this order shall set forth all the information required by that section, except that it shall not set forth the seller's unadjusted maximum price.

(4) If the branded article is sold by a retailer to another retailer (cross-stream sale) the seller shall furnish the purchaser only with the proper invoice required by section 9 (b) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 580.

(e) Tagging by manufacturers. On and after June 10, 1946, no manufacturer shall deliver any branded article unless it has attached to it a durable tag or label which shall state in clearly readable print, the brand name of the article, and the following statement with the amount properly filled in:

OPA Retail Ceiling Price—$_____
This Tag May Not Be Detached Until After Delivery to the Consumer

SEC. 10. Credit charges. Charges for the extension of credit may be added to the maximum (ceiling) retail prices established by this order only to the extent permitted by this section.

(a) Sellers who in March 1942 collected a separately stated additional charge for the extension of credit on sales of any article covered by this order, or similar types of articles may collect a charge for the extension of credit on sales under this regulation, not exceeding such charge in March 1942 on a similar sale or similar terms to the same class of purchaser. Sellers who did not so state and collect an additional charge may collect a charge for the extension of credit only on installment plan sales; and the charge shall not exceed the separately stated additional charge collected for the extension of credit on a similar sale or similar terms to the same class of purchaser in March 1942 by the seller's closest competitor who made such a separately stated charge.

An installment-plan sale, as used in the above paragraph, means a sale where the unpaid balance is to be paid in installments over a period of either (1) six weeks or more from the date of sale in the case of weekly installments, or (2) eight weeks or more in the case of other than weekly installments.

(b) All charges for the extension of credit shall be quoted and stated separately. Any charge which is not quoted and stated separately or which otherwise does not conform to this section, shall for the purpose of this regulation be considered to be part of the price charged for the article sold.

(c) No seller may require as a condition of sale that the purchaser must buy on credit.

SEC. 11. Terms of sale. Every seller of an article covered by this order must maintain all terms, discounts, allowances, and other price differentials (including PMs—premium money payments), in effect during March 1942, or which have been subsequently properly established under Office of Price Administration regulations or orders.

SEC. 12. Relationship of this order to other orders or regulations—(a) Maximum Price Regulation Nos. 188, 580 and 590. The provisions of this order supersede the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation Nos. 188, 580 and 590, only to the extent that they are inconsistent with the provisions of these regulations.

(b) Revised Supplementary Order No. 119, Supplementary Order Nos. 118 and 133, or Order No. A–2 under Maximum Price Regulation 188. Manufacturers may continue to adjust their maximum prices in accordance with the increase permitted under Revised Supplementary Order No. 119, Supplementary Orders Nos. 118 and 133 or Order No. A–2 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, instead of the increase factor specified in section 2.

If a seller's maximum prices are adjusted under one of these orders instead of under this order, he must nevertheless comply with the invoicing, reporting, tagging and notification provisions of this order. These provisions supersede any contrary provisions contained in any individual order issued to any seller.

SEC. 13. Revision of maximum prices. Any maximum price established under this order may be revised by the Price Administrator whenever he determines that such adjusted maximum price is not in line with the level of October 1941 prices increased by 16 percent, giving due consideration to the manufacturer's customary price relation to other manufacturers in the industry.

SEC. 14. Revocation or amendment. This order may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

SEC. 15. Effective date. This order shall become effective on May 30, 1946.

NOTE: The reporting and recording keeping provisions of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942, as amended.

Issued this 27th day of May 1946.

Administrator.

3. The following is added at the end of paragraph (p): "The maximum prices so calculated include delivery within the seller's metropolitan free delivery area. If the manufacturer wishes to calculate his delivered maximum price to retailers for sales outside of that area, he shall add to his f. o. b. factory l. c. l. maximum price to retailers, the lowest common carrier l. c. l. charge from his factory to the point of delivery; or, in the case of an actual carload shipment, the lowest common carrier carload charge."

[MPR 188, Amdt. 1 to Rev. Order 4332]

NEW SMALL-VOLUME MANUFACTURERS

RULES TO OBTAIN CEILING PRICES

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and pursuant to § 1499.159b of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, It is ordered, That Revised Order No. 4332 be amended in the following respects:

1. Section 2 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 2. Scope of this order. This order provides simplified rules which eligible new small-volume manufacturers may use to obtain ceiling prices instead of using the Third or Fourth Pricing Methods of Maximum Price Regulation 188. The provisions of this order may also be used by any eligible manufacturer to obtain new ceiling prices to take the place of ceiling prices which had been established under Maximum Price Regulation 188, whether by order or otherwise on or after September 1, 1944. All the other provisions of Maximum Price Regulation 188 continue to apply to manufacturers obtaining ceiling prices under this order.

Not all new small-volume manufacturers of products covered by Maximum Price Regulation 188 may use this order. Manufacturers of the following products may not use the provisions of this order:

(1) Dry cell batteries.
(2) Fountain pens and mechanical pencils.
(3) Household aluminum cooking utensils.
(4) Ice boxes.
(5) Inner-constructions for upholstered dual purpose sleeping equipment.
(6) Innerspring mattresses.
(7) Lawn mowers.
(8) Metal double deck beds.
(9) Metal cots (folding and rollaway).
(10) Small electrical appliances.
(11) Upholstered dual purpose sleeping equipment.
(12) Household furniture.
(13) Luggage.
(14) Lamps.
(15) Wheel goods.
(16) Venetian blinds.

However, manufacturers of any of the products listed above and numbered (1) through (11) (except small electrical appliances) who previously established ceiling prices for a particular article under this order before March 20, 1946, may continue to use such ceiling prices. Manufacturers of other products who established ceiling prices under this order for a particular article prior to the effective date of any amendment to this order which adds these products to the list contained in this section may continue to use such previously established ceiling prices. New small-volume manufacturers of small electrical appliances are subject to the provisions of Order No. 6 under § 1499.159e of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188.

2. A new sentence is added at the end of the first paragraph of section 4 to read as follows: "Once you have determined a ceiling price for a particular article under this section, you may not refigure your ceiling price for the same article, except as you are required to do so by section 7 of this order."

3. Section 6 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 6. When you may sell at the proposed price. Unless OPA notifies you not to do so, you may begin to sell and deliver articles at your new ceiling price 20 days after you mailed your report to OPA. However, if within the 20 day period OPA asks you to furnish additional information you may not begin to sell and deliver at your new ceiling prices until 20 days after the day you mail the information which OPA has requested. OPA may at any time order any of your ceiling prices to be decreased if it finds that you did not calculate them correctly, or if it finds that they are based on material prices which are higher than supplier's ceiling prices (as provided by section 4(b) or on labor rates which are higher than the prevailing locally established rates for labor of similar types or if for any other reason it finds that your ceiling prices are unduly out of line with the ceiling prices of other small-volume manufacturers. OPA will notify you if it finds any errors which you have made in computing your ceiling prices which have resulted in the computation of a lower ceiling than that to which you are entitled. OPA may revoke your ceiling prices entirely if it finds that you were not eligible to fix your ceiling prices under this order.

This amendment shall become effective on the 3d day of June 1946.

Issued this 27th day of May 1946.

Administrator.

POTOMAC EDISON CO. AND POTOMAC LIGHT AND POWER CO.

MEMORANDUM FINDINGS, OPINION AND ORDER

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania on the 24th day of May A. D. 1946.

The Potomac Edison Company ("Potomac") is an electric utility company, a registered holding company and a subsidiary of American Water Works and Electric Company, Inc., and of The West Penn Electric Company, also a registered holding company. Potomac Light and Power Company ("Light"), also an electric utility company, is a direct subsidiary of Potomac.

Potomac and Light filed a joint application and declaration and amendments thereto under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, proposing a refinancing of the preferred stock of Potomac and the transactions discussed below relating to the recapitalization of Light. On January 9, 1946, the Commission issued its Findings and Opinion and Order in this proceeding granting and permitting effectiveness to those portions of the application and declaration relating to the refinancing by Potomac, subject to certain terms and conditions, and reserving jurisdiction over those portions of the application and declaration concerned with the proposed changes in the capitalization of Light and the proposed transactions relating thereto[1] until such time as the record with respect thereto should be completed by applicants-declarants. The record has now been completed.

As at September 30, 1945, Light's capitalization consisted of $613,330.94 principal amount of demand notes, $89,802.63 principal amount of open account indebtedness, 3,500 shares of 6% Cumulative Preferred Stock, par value $100 per share, and 21,500 shares of common stock, par value $100 per share. All of these obligations and securities are owned by Potomac and pledged under the indenture securing Potomac's outstanding bonds except 2,178 shares of the 6% Cumulative Preferred Stock of Light which are publicly held. The preferred stock of Light, is redeemable on any dividend date (dividends are payable on February 1 and August 1) on 60 days' prior notice at the par value thereof and accrued dividends to the date of redemption.

[1] The Potomac Edison Company, et al., — S. E. C. — (1946), Holding Company Act Release No. 6362; see also Holding Company Act Release No. 6369 (1946).

The proposed transactions, which would result in Light's having no securities outstanding except common stock, all held by Potomac, are as follows:

(a) Light will issue 1,322 additional shares of its common stock to Potomac in exchange for the 1,322 shares of 6% Cumulative Preferred Stock of Light now owned by Potomac. The balance of the 6% Cumulative Preferred Stock (2,178 shares) held by the public will be called for redemption on August 1, 1946.

(b) Light will discharge its indebtedness to Potomac aggregating $703,133.57 principal amount, by a payment from Light to Potomac in cash of the principal amount thereof plus interest accrued to date of payment.

(c) Light will issue and sell 9,178 additional cares of its common stock to Potomac for $917,800 in cash. Light will apply such cash and additional treasury funds to the redemption of its publicly held preferred stock and the discharge of its indebtedness to Potomac.

The 10,500 additional shares of common stock of Light to be acquired by Potomac, in connection with the foregoing transactions, will be pledged under the indenture securing Potomac's bonds in lieu of the presently pledged indebtedness and shares of preferred stock of Light.

Light, a corporation organized in 1916 under the laws of the State of West Virginia, operates both hydro-electric and steam generating plants and serves electricity to consumers principally in the towns of Martinsburg, Shepherdstown, Hedgeville, Petersburg, Romney, Moorefield, Harpers Ferry, Keyser and Piedmont, West Virginia. The proposed acquisition by Potomac of 10,500 additional shares of the common stock of Light has been approved by the Public Service Commissions of Maryland and of West Virginia. Counsel for the companies have represented that none of the other transactions require State commission authorization.

We find that the proposed issue and sale of common stock by Light satisfy the requirements of subsections (c) (1) and (g) of section 7, that no adverse findings pursuant to subsection (d) should be made, and that it is not necessary or appropriate to impose special conditions pursuant to subsection (f) thereof. The proposed acquisition, retirement and redemption by Light of its presently outstanding indebtedness and shares of preferred stock, and the proposed acquisition by Potomac of additional shares of the common stock of Light comply with the applicable standards of sections 10, 12 (c) of the act and the applicable rules thereunder; we find that these transactions will serve the public interest by tending towards the economical and efficient development of an integrated public-utility system. The proposed sales by Potomac to Light of indebtedness and shares of the preferred stock of Light, and the proposed pledge by Potomac of the additional shares of Light's common stock to be acquired by Potomac, meet the standards of sections 12 (d), 12 (f) and the applicable rules thereunder. Accordingly.

It is ordered, That the portions of the joint application-declaration herein over which jurisdiction was heretofore reserved be and they are hereby granted and permitted to become effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24.

By the Commission.

1. All alien enemies within the continental limits of the United States brought here from other American republics after December 7, 1941, who are within the territory of the United States without admission under the immigration laws, shall, if their continued residence in the Western Hemisphere is deemed by the Secretary of State to be prejudicial to the future security or welfare of the Americas, be subject upon the order of the Secretary of State to removal from the United States and may be required to depart therefrom in accordance with such regulations as the Secretary of State may prescribe.

2. In all cases in which the Secretary of State shall have ordered the removal of an alien enemy under the authority of this Proclamation or in which the Attorney General shall have ordered the removal of an alien enemy under the authority of Proclamation No. 2655 of July 14, 1945, thirty days shall be considered, and is hereby declared to be, a reasonable time for such alien enemy to effect the recovery, disposal, and removal of his goods and effects, and for his departure.

§ 57.2 Order of the Secretary of State. When a determination has been made by the Secretary of State that the continued residence in the Western Hemisphere of an alien enemy, brought to the United States from another American republic after December 7, 1941, who is within the territory of the United States without admission under the immigration laws, would be prejudicial to the future security or welfare of the Americas, an order will be signed by the Secretary of State directing that the said alien enemy depart from the United States within thirty days after notification of the order and that, if he fails or neglects so to depart, the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization is to provide for the alien enemy's removal to the territory of the country of which he is a native, citizen, denizen, or subject.

§ 57.3 Service of removal order on alien enemy. A copy of the Secretary of State's order of removal will be delivered to the alien enemy at the place where he is interned.

§ 57.4 Thirty-day period for voluntary departure. An alien enemy who is the subject of a removal order shall have thirty (30) days after receiving notification of the removal order to depart from the United States, Unless the public safety otherwise requires, the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization is authorized to release such alien enemy from internment under appropriate parole safeguards in order that the alien enemy may settle his personal and business affairs, provide for the recovery, disposal, and removal of his goods and effects, and make arrangements to depart from the United States.

§ 57.5 Involuntary removal from the United States. In the event that an alien enemy, who is the subject of a removal order, fails or neglects to depart from the United States within the abovementioned thirty-day period, the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization will take the alien enemy into custody and will provide for his removal to the territory of the country of which he is a native, citizen, denizen, or subject, as soon as transportation is available.

This regulation shall become effective immediately upon registration in the Division of the Federal Register.

TITLE 29—LABOR

Chapter VI—National Wage Stabilization Board

PART 803—GENERAL ORDERS

WAGES AND SALARIES FOR NEW EMPLOYEES, JOBS, DEPARTMENTS AND PLANTS

The National Wage Stabilization Board has amended General Order No. 6 to read as follows:

§ 803.6 Wages and salaries for new employees, new jobs, new departments and new plants. (a) The hiring of an individual at, and the payment of a wage or salary rate in excess of the rate properly established in the plant for employees of similar skill and productive ability within the classification in which the individual is employed is an increase in wages or salary. In accordance with the rules governing wage or salary increases, no approval is required for the payment of such excess rate, but the excess rate may not be used as a basis for price relief or for increasing the cost of goods or services furnished to the United States unless and to the extent that such excess rate has been approved by the National Wage Stabilization Board pursuant to the rules governing approval of wage increases.

(b) The hiring of an individual at a wage or salary rate lower than the rate or the minimum of the range of rates properly established in the plant for the job classification in which the individual is employed is a decrease in wages or salary and requires the prior approval of the National Wage Stabilization Board.

(c) Wage or salary rates, including incentive and piece rates, may be set in an established plant for new job classifications or for existing job classifications in which there has been a significant change in job content without the necessity of obtaining the specific approval of the National Wage Stabilization Board if the new rates are set on the basis of previously existing rate setting practices so that equivalent rates are paid for jobs of equivalent job content, and proper rate relationships are maintained between related job classifications. Rates set in accordance with this provision shall be deemed approved by the National Wage Stabilization Board and by the Economic Stabilization Director.

(d) Wage or salary rates may be established for job classifications in a new or in an established plant without the necessity of obtaining the specific approval of the National Wage Stabilization Board if there are employed in such plant at the time the rates are established not more than eight employees: Provided, That whenever such a plant employs more than eight employees the wage or salary rates of all employees, including any rates previously established without the approval of the Board, shall be submitted to the Board for approval within 30 days from the date when such plant first employs more than eight employees. Authorization or approval of all rates so submitted will be granted or denied, subject to the conditions specified in paragraph (e).

(e) Wage or salary rates for new plants, and for new job classifications in existing plants which are not covered by paragraphs (c) and (d) must be submitted to the National Wage Stabilization Board for approval prior to being put into effect. Such rates will be authorized as not constituting wage decreases and will be approved for purposes of price relief and increased costs to the United States Government if:

(1) They are based upon rates paid for comparable occupations in the local labor market area involved; or

(2) They are based upon wage rate practices previously established in other plants operated by the applicant; or

(3) Where neither (1) nor (2) is applicable, they are based upon rates paid for comparable occupations in other plants in the industry involved.

A schedule of rates for a new plant will be authorized and approved if the rates for key job classifications come within the standards specified in this paragraph, and if the rates for other related jobs bear a reasonable relationship to these key rates.

(f) If any of the proposed rates are found by the Board to exceed the applicable standards specified in this order, such rates will be authorized but will be approved as a basis for seeking price relief or for computing costs to the United States Government only to the extent that the rates come within such standards. If any of the proposed rates are found by the Board to be below the applicable standards specified in this order, such rates will be disapproved as constituting wage decreases and the payment of any rates so disapproved will subject the employed to the sanctions prescribed by the Stabilization Act and the orders and regulations issued thereunder.

PART 4700—VETERANS' EMERGENCY HOUSING PROGRAM

[Veterans' Housing Program Order 1, Supp. 3]

CLASSIFICATION OF STRUCTURES UNDER VHP–1 AND CONSTRUCTION NOT COVERED BY VHP–1

(a) What this supplement does. Paragraph (d) (1) of Veterans' Housing Program Order 1 provides that it is not necessary to get permission under the order to do one or more jobs on a structure if the cost of each job does not exceed the allowance given for that class of structure. Different classes of structures are listed in the order, each with a specific job allowance. This supplement lists certain kinds of buildings and states the classes into which the various buildings fall. This supplement also explains the rules applying to buildings used for more than one purpose. In addition, this supplement lists certain items which do not come within the definition of "structure" given in the order and which are therefore wholly exempt from the order.

(b) Classification of structures. Paragraph (d) (1) of VHP–1 provides for an allowance of $400 per job for certain kinds of structures, an allowance of $1,000 per job for other kinds of structures, an allowance of $15,000 per job for other kinds of structures, and an allowance of $200 per job for stuctures not covered by the previous classes. The provisions of VHP–1 are quoted below and additional examples of structures falling within each class are listed.

(1) "$400 for a house or other structure (such as a garage) on residential property designed for occupancy by five families or less. This allowance also applies to farmhouses and other housing accommodations on farms, except bunkhouses and other accommodations for transitory farm laborers". (Paragraph (d) (1) (i) of VHP–1.)

The following kinds of structures are included in this classification:

Any individual house designed for occupancy by 5 families or less even though it is on the property of a commercial, utility, institutional or industrial concern and used for the purpose of housing employees of the commercial, utility, institutional or industrial concern.
A rectory or parsonage even though near a church and owned by a church.
A house on a campus owned by a college and occupied by a college official.
A boarding or rooming house designed for occupancy by 10 boarders or roomers or less.
Row houses separated by party walls are considered separate houses.
All private structures situated near and used in connection with one to five family houses, such as garages, piers, tool sheds and the like (except on farms, see paragraph (b) (2) of this supplement).

(2) "$1,000 for a hotel, resort, apartment house, or other residential building designed for occupancy by more than five families". (Paragraph (d) (1) (ii) of VHP–1).

"$1,000 for a building used primarily for one or more commercial or service establishments such as offices, banks, stores, laundries, garages, restaurants, night clubs, theaters, repair shops, warehouses, frozen food locker plants and radio stations". (Paragraph (d) (1) (iii) of VHP–1).

"$1,000 for a farm, excluding farmhouses. . . . A farm means a place used primarily for raising crops, livestock, dairy products or poultry for the market". (Paragraph (d) (1) (iv) of VHP–1).

"$1,000 for a church, hospital, school, college or a publicly owned building used for public purposes, or for an orphanage or other building used exclusively for charitable purposes". (Paragraph (d) (1) (v) of VHP–1).

The following kinds of structures are included in this classification:

A boarding or rooming house designed for occupancy by more than 10 boarders or roomers.
A dormitory or fraternity.
A building used for a social club.
A service station or garage.
A butcher shop or bakery where most of the meat which is butchered or the products which are baked in the building are sold at retail in the building.
A funeral parlor or funeral home.
A radio broadcasting station.
A building in a drive-in theater, such as an enclosed projection room or a screen forming an enclosure for storage purposes, for rest rooms or for other purposes.
An individual barn or a farm building on a farm (other than a farmhouse).
A greenhouse whether on-farm (agricultural) or off-farm (commercial).
A building used for a nursery growing trees.
A bunkhouse for labor on a farm or on the site of another establishment having a $1,000 allowance.
A building on an experimental farm.
A parish house.
A college or university laboratory, field house or class room building.
A grain elevator.
A building in a retail or wholesale lumber yard.
A repair shop, except a plant primarily engaged in reconditioning or rebuilding equipment or articles for resale.
A drycleaning or laundering establishment, whether wholesale or retail.
An office building, whether or not owned and occupied exclusively by a transportation, utility or industrial concern (except where situated on the immediate premises of a plant having a $15,000 allowance; see paragraph (e) below).
A publicly owned pier not used for steamship or railway purposes.
Other commercial piers and piers situated near and used in connection with structures entitled to a $1,000 allowance.

(3) "$15,000 for a factory, plant or other industrial structure which is used for the manufacturing, processing, or assembling of any goods or materials, for a logging and lumber camp, for a pier (other than a pier designed for amusement, entertainment or other commercial purposes), for a structure used for or in connection with a railroad or street railway, or a commercial airport, for a bus terminal, for a truck terminal operated by a common or contract carrier by truck, or for a research laboratory or pilot plant or for a motion picture set. This allowance is applicable to structures used for oil, gas, or petroleum producing, refining or distributing (except service stations and garages . . .). It is also applicable to utility structures (public or private) providing for electric, gas, sewerage, water, central steam heating, or telephone or telegraph communication services". (Paragraph (d) (1) (vi) of VHP–1).

NOTE: A structure covered by this paragraph (including a structure in a plant listed below) has an allowance of $15,000 per job even though it is owned and operated by an educational, charitable or public organization. However, a house for 1 to 5 families owned or operated in connection with any plant listed below receives only the $400 per job allowance described in paragraph (b) (1) of this supplement.

A printing plant or newspaper publishing building.
A plant engaged in the wholesale printing, developing and enlarging of photographs.
A plant engaged in mixing and bottling syrup or soft drinks.
A slaughterhouse, except on a farm.
A bakery where most of the products baked are not sold at retail on the premises.
A government (Federal or State) printing plant or other industrial or utility building.
A plant primarily engaged in reconditioning or rebuilding articles or equipment for resale.
An off-farm plant engaged in pasteurizing, separating or bottling milk or making butter or cheese.
A scrap dealer's plant if it is primarily engaged in such processing operations as briquetting, pressing, or baling light iron, cutting up heavy melting steel, breaking up cast iron, detinning cans or smelting nonferrous materials for the purpose of making the scrap available for further use.
A cotton compress warehouse engaged primarily in compressing and baling cotton.
A building primarily used for a railroad station.
A roundhouse.
A railway or steamship pier or a pier situated near and used in connection with any structure or plant entitled to a $15,000 allowance (Warehouses and other buildings on a pier are considered part of the pier and are not separate structures).
A garage or work shop used primarily for a bus company or a common or contract carrier by truck.
An industrial or utility power house, whether public or private.
An industrial or utility pumping station for pumping gas, water or sewerage.
A telephone exchange.
A bunkhouse for employees of a plant covered by this paragraph, if located on the plant site.
A hangar, repair shop, waiting room or structure used in connection with the operation of a commercial airport (an airport operated for profit and open to the public).

A commercial or industrial research laboratory.
A radio telephone or radio telegraph station used as an international point to point radio communication carrier.
A pumphouse or terminal facility on an oil pipe line.
A mine tipple.

(4) "$200 for a structure covered by this order which does not fall within one of the classes listed above." (Paragraph (d) (1) (vii) of VHP–1).

The following kinds of structures are included in this classification:

A billboard.
A private pier or bathhouse which is not situated near and used in connection with another structure.
A stadium.
A grandstand and the like.
A tourist cabin whether a single cabin or one of a group of separate cabins. A cabin is considered a separate cabin if it has independent outside walls even though the space between it and the next cabin is sheltered by a roof and is used as a garage. A management building used for operating the cabins is considered a commercial building under paragraph (b) (2) of this supplement.

(c) Construction not covered by the order. The restrictions of VHP–1 apply to work on a "structure", which is defined in paragraph (b) (1) of the order as "any building, arena, stadium, grandstand, pier, moving picture set or billboard". The following are not considered "structures" under the order and the restrictions of the order do not apply to work on them. However, the restrictions of the order do apply to work on "structures" built or used in connection with the following or to work on "structures" which is made necessary by work on the following:

Boardwalks
Breakwaters
Bridges
Bulkheads
Canals
Cemetery monuments, including private burial vaults
Dams
Drainage or irrigation ditches
Driveways (public or private) Fences
Gravestones
Oil derricks
Outdoor swimming pools
Outdoor tennis courts
Parking lots
Pipe lines
Power transmission lines
Radio towers
Railroad or street car or interurban or plant railway tracks or operating facilities such as switching facilities, water tanks
Roads
Sidewalks
Silos
Streets
Subways
Surface or underground mines
Tanks for oil, water, gas and the like
Trailers (except when demounted and installed on a foundation—See Interpretation 3 to VHP–1)
Transformers
Tunnels
Utility facilities, such as power or telephone lines or cables, sewers, and outdoor substations, providing for electric, gas, sewerage, water, or central steam heating or telephone or telegraph communication service
Walls, including retaining walls (except where a wall serves as a foundation or other integral part of a structure)
Wells

(d) Structures used for more than one purpose. Paragraph (d) (4) of VHP–1 provides that if a structure is used for more than one purpose, the use to which the greatest part of the structure is put determines the allowance. In general the test will be made on the basis of floor area. For example, if a building has apartments on three of the floors and a store on the ground floor, it is primarily residential and falls under paragraph (b) (1) of this supplement, if it has five or less apartments, or under paragraph (b) (2) of this supplement if it has six or more apartments. If a building is half residential and half commercial or industrial, or half residential and half agricultural, it is considered primarily residential.

(e) Subordinate structures. The last sentence of paragraph (d) (4) of VHP–1 provides that "The allowance given for jobs on a structure apply to all subordinate or related structures situated near and used in connection with the structure". This means that office buildings, warehouses and garages situated on the immediate premises of an industrial or utility plant and used in the operation of the plant fall within paragraph (b) (3) of this supplement and the $15,000 per job allowance applies to them. However, a "downtown" office building, even though used exclusively for one industrial or utility company, does not come under this provision, but is under paragraph (b) (2) of this supplement like other office buildings. Houses, hotels and apartment houses are never considered to be used in connection with an industrial or commercial structure, except where they form an integral part of an industrial or other structure. Bunkhouses, on the other hand, if located on the plant site are considered to be used in connection with the related structures, if any, and have the same allowance as the related structure.

(f) Separate jobs. Paragraph (d) (3) of VHP–1 provides that a related series of operations in or on a structure performed at or about the same time or as part of a single plan or program constitute a single job and that no job may be subdivided for the purpose of coming within the allowance given under paragraph (d) (1). For example, all work done in connection with the conversion of a building from one purpose to another or the modernization of a building must be counted as a single job. However, if related work is done on 2 or more separate structures, the work is never considered one job, but the work done in each structure must be considered separately under the rules stated above. (See paragraph (f) of Supplement 2 to VHP–1 for an explanation of what jobs are exempt from the order as having been started before it became effective.)

PART 1346—BUILDING MATERIALS

[RPS 45, Amdt. 9]

ASPHALT AND TARRED ROOFING PRODUCTS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

A new § 1346.63 (l) is added to read as follows:

(l) Modification of maximum prices for sales made pursuant to "AAA" rating granted by letter by the Civilian Production Administration to the Red Cross. (1) The freight equalization requirement of this section shall not apply where:

(i) The manufacturer makes shipments of asphalt and tarred roofing products pursuant to an "AAA" rating granted by letter to the American Red Cross by the Civilian Production Administration, and

(ii) Such products will be used for relief of disaster caused by tornado, hurricane, and hailstorm in certain counties of Texas.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of (1) above, the manufacturers' modified maximum prices shall continue to be subject to the specific allowance of $0.09 per hundredweight.

(3) Notwithstanding the provisions of § 1346.65, any reseller purchasing asphalt or tarred roofing products for resale in the same form, from any manufacturer who has modified his maximum prices pursuant to (1) above, may increase his maximum prices established on May 26, 1946, by the dollars-and-cents increase in cost to him resulting from the increase permitted the manufacturer in (1) above. However, in any area where specific maximum prices are fixed by an area pricing order, such specific maximum prices shall apply in that area.

(4) Any manufacturer who modifies his maximum selling prices for asphalt and tarred roofing products pursuant to (1) above shall furnish to each buyer purchasing such products for resale in the same form on or before the date the manufacturer makes delivery at the adjusted price, a written statement to read as follows:

Sales of these products are made pursuant to an "AAA" rating granted by letter to the American Red Cross by the Civilian Production Administration for use in repairing damage caused by tornado, hurricane and hailstorm in certain counties in the State of Texas. Effective May 27, 1946, the Office of Price Administration has granted the manufacturer certain modifications in his maximum prices for asphalt and tarred roofing products for sales made under this "AAA" rating. Resellers are permitted to add the actual dollars-and-cents amount of the resulting price increase to his existing maximum price for these products actually purchased at the increased price for resale in the same form.

(5) This § 1346.63 (l) shall terminate on July 31, 1946.

This amendment shall become effective May 27, 1946.

Issued this 27th day of May 1946.

(b) Reseller's maximum prices. (1) Each reseller shall calculate his maximum resale prices for articles covered by this order by adding to his invoice cost, the same percentage markup which he has on the "most comparable article" for which he has a properly established maximum price. For the purposes of this order, the "most comparable article" is the one which meets all of the following tests:

(i) It belongs to the narrowest trade category which includes the article being priced.

(ii) Both it and the article being priced were purchased from the same class of supplier.

(iii) Both it and the article being priced belong to a class of articles to which, according to customary trade practices, an approximately uniform percentage markup is applied.

(iv) Its net replacement cost is nearest to the net cost of the article being priced.

The determination of a maximum price in this way need not be reported to the Office of Price Administration; however, each seller must keep complete records showing all the information called by OPA Form 620-759 with regard to how he determined his maximum price, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended remains in effect.

If the maximum resale price cannot be determined under the above method, the reseller shall apply to the Office of Price Administration for the establishment of a maximum price under § 1499.3 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation. Maximum prices established under that section will reflect the suppliers' prices as adjusted in accordance with this order.

(2) The provisions of Supplementary Order No. 153 shall not apply to sales of articles covered by this order.

(c) Terms of sale. Maximum prices adjusted by this order are subject to each seller's terms, discounts, allowances, and other price differentials, in effect during March 1942, or which have been properly established under the applicable OPA regulation.

(d) Notification. At the time of, or prior to the first invoice to a purchaser for resale, showing a price adjusted in accordance with the terms of this order, the seller shall notify the purchaser in writing of the methods established in paragraph (b) of this order for determining adjusted maximum prices for resale of the articles covered by this order. This notice may be given in any convenient form.

(e) Revocation of amendment. This order may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(f) Effective date. This order shall become effective on the 28th day of May 1946.

Issued this 27th day of May 1946.

Administrator.

[Order 110 Under 18 (c)]

TRANSPORTATION OF COAL ON GREAT LAKES

ESTABLISHMENT OF MAXIMUM PRICES

Applications have been made by carriers engaged in the transportation of coal from lower Lake ports to Milwaukee, Wisconsin and to Duluth, Minnesota, for authorization to increase their coal freight rates. The increase is sought to compensate the carriers for light return movements of their vessels. Although only two carriers have sought price relief, the problem is general to all carriers engaged in this service. Normally the basic cargo from upper Lake ports to lower Lake ports is ore, and coal is transported on return movements in vessels which would otherwise sail in ballast. The established rate on coal is accordingly too low for compensatory one-way operation but because of present emergency conditions, ore cargoes are not available. There is a critical coal shortage in areas on the upper Lakes which are normally supplied by Lake coal, and an adjustment in the coal freight rate is necessary to relieve a local shortage. It is indicated that the shippers will absorb the increased transportation costs. To provide for post-seasonal operation of vessels for the transportation of coal from lower to upper Lake ports in 1945, it was determined that a rate of $1.00 per net ton for such transportation of coal when return cargoes were not available, was reasonable and in line with rates otherwise established under the General Maximum Price Regulation. This order will establish the same level of rates.

For the reasons herebefore stated, and under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and § 1499.18 (c) as amended of the General Maximum Price Regulation, It is ordered, That the present maximum rates for the transportation of coal by water from lower Lake ports to Duluth, Minnesota may be increased by not to exceed 55 cents per net ton, and the present maximum rates to other upper Lake ports may be proportionately increased,[1] Provided, That the increases authorized by this order may be charged only when return trips are made light because of unavailability of cargo.

This order shall become effective as of May 1, 1946.

Issued this 27th day of May 1946.

Administrator.

Regulations 111 amended to conform to sections 5 and 6 (a) of the Tax Adjustment Act of 1945, relating respectively to the period of limitation in case of carry-backs and to interest in connection with deficiencies resulting from carry-backs and related matters, and to section 122 (c) and (f) of the Revenue Act of 1945, relating respectively to claims for refund based on carry-backs and to deficiencies attributable to carry-backs.

In order to conform Regulations 111 (26 CFR, Cum. Supp., Part 29) to sections 5 and 6 (a) of the Tax Adjustment Act of 1945 (Public Law 172, 79th Congress), approved July 31, 1945, and to section 122 (c) and (f) of the Revenue Act of 1945 (Public Law 214, 79th Congress), approved November 8, 1945, such regulations are amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. There is inserted immediately preceding section 293 the following:

SEC. 6. INTEREST IN CONNECTION WITH CARRY-BACKS. (Tax Adjustment Act of 1945.)

(a) Section 292 of the Internal Revenue Code is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new subsection:

(c) Deficiency resulting from carry-back and related matters. If any part of a deficiency is determined by the Commissioner to be attributable (A) to a carry-back to which an overpayment described in section 3771 (c) or a decrease determined under section 3780 (b), in any other tax is attributable, or (B) to an error in the amount or effect of a carry-back which resulted in a credit or refund of an overpayment with interest computed pursuant to section 3771 (c), or in a decrease determined under section 3780 (b), no interest shall be assessed or paid under subsection (a) with respect to such part of the deficiency for any period during which interest was not allowed with respect to such overpayment or for a period prior to the application of such decrease.

PAR. 2. There is inserted immediately preceding § 29.275-1 the following:

SEC. 5. PERIOD OF LIMITATION IN CASE OF CARRY-BACKS. (Tax Adjustment Act of 1945.)

* * * * * *

(e) Section 276 of the Internal Revenue Code is amended by inserting immediately following subsection (c) the following new subsection:

(d) Net operating loss carry-backs and unused excess profits credit carry-backs. A deficiency attributable to the application to the taxpayer of a net operating loss carry-back or an unused excess profits credit carry-back, including deficiencies which may be assessed pursuant to the provisions of section 3780 (b) and (c), may be assessed at any time prior to the expiration of the period within which a deficiency may be assessed with respect to the taxable year of the claimed net operating loss or unused excess profits credit resulting in such carry-back.

(f) Effective date. The amendments made by this section shall be applicable with respect to all taxable years beginning after December 31, 1940, except that the amendment made by subsection (d) shall not be applicable to any taxable year with respect to which the taxpayer and the Commissioner have entered into a closing agreement under the provisions of section 3760, prior to the date of enactment of this Act, in any case in which it is expressly provided in such closing agreement that the tax liability for such taxable year is not to be affected by a net operating loss carry-back or by an unused excess profits credit carry-back.

SEC. 122. REFUND OF EXCESS PROFITS TAX IN 1946. (Revenue Act of 1945.)

* * * * * *

(f) Deficiencies attributable to carry-backs. (1) Section 276 (d) is amended to read as follows:

(d) Net operating loss carry-backs and unused excess profits credit carry-backs. In the case of a deficiency attributable to the application to the taxpayer of a net operating loss carry-back or an unused excess profits credit carry-back, including deficiencies which may be assessed pursuant to the provisions of section 3780 (b) or (c), such deficiency may be assessed:

(1) In case a return was required under subchapter E of chapter 2 for the taxable year of the net operating loss or unused excess profits credit resulting in the carry-back, at any time before the expiration of the period within which (under section 275 or subsection (a) or (b) of this section) a deficiency (with respect to tax imposed either by chapter 1 or by subchapter B or E of chapter 2) for such taxable year (whichever is the longer period) may be assessed; or

(2) In case a return was not required under subchapter E of chapter 2 for the taxable year of the net operating loss or unused excess profits credit resulting in the carry-back, at any time before the expiration of the period within which (under section 275 or subsection (a) or (b) of this section) a deficiency (with respect to tax imposed either by chapter 1 or by subchapter A or B of chapter 2) for such taxable year (whichever is the longer period) may be assessed.

(2) Effective date. The amendment made by this subsection shall be applicable with respect to all taxable years beginning after December 31, 1940.

* * * * * *

PAR. 3. Section 29.275-1 is amended by inserting immediately preceding the last paragraph thereof the following:

(k) A special period of limitation is provided in section 276 (d) within which a deficiency in any tax (including a deficiency which may be assessed pursuant to the provisions of section 3780 (b) or (c), relating to tentative carry-back adjustments) which is attributable to the application to the taxpayer of a net operating loss carry-back or an unused excess profits credit carry-back may be assessed. The period within which such a deficiency may be assessed depends, in general, on the period within which a deficiency may be assessed with respect to the taxable year of the net operating loss or the unused excess profits credit which resulted in the carry-back. The period within which such a deficiency may be assessed depends further on whether an excess profits tax return was required to be filed in the case of the given taxpayer for the taxable year of the net operating loss or the unused excess profits credit which resulted in the carry-back. It is immaterial whether an excess profits tax return was required to be filed for the taxable year of the deficiency. The determinative factor is whether an excess profits tax return was required to be filed for the taxable year of the loss or unused credit which resulted in the carry-back.

If an excess profits tax return was required to be filed for the taxable year of the net operating loss or the unused excess profits credit which resulted in the carry-back, a deficiency in any tax attributable to the application to the taxpayer of such carry-back may be assessed at any time prior to the expiration of the period within which (under the provisions of section 275 or 276 (a) or (b), and sections 603 and 729 (a) respectively making such sections 275 and 276 (a) and (b) applicable to subchapters B and E of chapter 2) a deficiency may be assessed with respect to the same or any other tax imposed by chapter 1 or subchapter B or E of chapter 2 for the taxable year of such loss or unused credit. In such case, a deficiency attributable to the application to the taxpayer of a carry-back thus may be assessed at any time prior to the expiration of whichever of the following three periods, each period being determined under the applicable provisions of sections 275, 276 (a) and (b), 603, and 729 (a), expires the latest:

(1) The period within which a deficiency may be assessed with respect to the tax imposed by chapter 1 for the taxable year of the loss or unused credit which resulted in the carry-back;

(2) The period within which a deficiency may be assessed with respect to the declared value excess profits tax, imposed by subchapter B of chapter 2, for the taxable year of the loss or unused credit which resulted in the carry-back;

(3) The period within which a deficiency may be assessed with respect to the excess profits tax, imposed by subchapter E of chapter 2, for the taxable year of the loss or unused credit which resulted in the carry-back.

If a corporation is not subject to the declared value excess profits tax for the taxable year of the loss or unused credit which resulted in the carry-back, either because its net income, determined as provided in section 602, for such taxable year is not in excess of 10 percent of its declared value or because such taxable year ended after June 30, 1946, the period within which a deficiency may be assessed with respect to the declared value excess profits tax for the taxable year of the loss or unused credit shall be disregarded in determining the period within which a deficiency attributable to the application to the taxpayer of a carry-back, resulting from such loss or unused credit, may be assessed.

If no excess profits tax return was required to be filed for the taxable year of the net operating loss or unused excess profits credit which resulted in the carry-back, a deficiency in any tax attributable to the application to the taxpayer of such carry-back may be assessed at any time prior to the expiration of the period within which (under the provisions of section 275 or 276 (a) or (b), and sections 508 and 603 respectively making such sections 275 and 276 (a) and (b) applicable to subchapters A and B of chapter 2) a deficiency may be assessed with respect to the same or any other tax imposed by chapter 1 or subchapter A or B of chapter 2 for the taxable year of such loss or unused credit. It will be considered that no excess profits tax return was required to be filed for the taxable year of the loss or unused credit if (1) the taxpayer was exempt from the excess profits tax for such taxable year under the provisions of section 727; (2) the taxpayer, even though subject to the excess profits tax, was not required to file an excess profits tax return for such taxable year under the provisions of section 729; or (3) such taxable year began after December 31, 1945. In such case, a deficiency attributable to the application to the taxpayer of a carry-back thus may be assessed at any time prior to the expiration of whichever of the following three periods, each period being determined under the applicable provisions of sections 275, 276 (a) and (b), 508, and 603, expires the latest:

(i) The period within which a deficiency may be assessed with respect to the tax imposed by chapter 1 for the taxable year of the loss or unused credit which resulted in the carry-back;

(ii) The period within which a deficiency may be assessed with respect to the surtax on personal holding companies, imposed by subchapter A of chapter A of chapter 2, for the taxable year of the loss or unused credit which resulted in the carry-back;

(iii) The period within which a deficiency may be assessed with respect to the declared value excess profits tax, imposed by subchapter B of chapter 2, for the taxable year of the loss or unused credit which resulted in the carry-back.

If a corporation is not a personal holding company, as defined in section 501, for the taxable year of the loss or unused credit which resulted in the carry-back, the period within which a deficiency may be assessed with respect to the surtax on personal holding companies for the taxable year of the loss or unused credit shall be disregarded in determining the period within which a deficiency attributable to the application to the taxpayer of a carry-back, resulting from such loss or unused credit, may be assessed. Similarly, if a corporation is not subject to the declared value excess profits tax for the taxable year of the loss or unused credit which resulted in the carry-back, either because its net income, determined as provided in section 602, for such taxable year is not in excess of 10 percent of its declared value or because such taxable year ended after June 30, 1946, the period within which a deficiency may be assessed with respect to the declared value excess profits tax for the taxable year of the loss or unused credit shall be disregarded in determining the period within which a deficiency attributable to the application to the taxpayer of a carry-back, resulting from such loss or unused credit, may be assessed.

It is immaterial whether an excess profits tax return in fact was filed for the taxable year of the loss or unused credit which resulted in the carry-back, whether the deficiency is attributable to the application to the taxpayer of a net operating loss carry-back or an unused excess profits credit carry-back whether the deficiency is in respect of the excess profits tax or some other tax, or whether the deficiency is in respect of the same tax as that of the carry-back or in respect of some other tax. The determinative factor is whether an excess profits tax return was required to be filed for the taxable year of the loss or unused credit which resulted in the carry-back. It is like-wise immaterial whether the tax, in respect of which the deficiency resulting from the application to the taxpayer of the carry-back is to be assessed, is the same kind of tax with respect to which a deficiency might be assessed for the taxable year of the loss or unused credit which resulted in the carry-back. Thus, if a deficiency for the calendar year 1943 with respect to the tax imposed by chapter 1 is attributable to the application to the taxpayer of a net operating loss carry-back from 1945, and if the taxpayer was required to file an excess profits tax return for 1945 and if the periods within which deficiencies with respect to the taxes imposed by chapter 1, subchapter B of chapter 2, and subchapter E of chapter 2 for 1945 expire respectively on March 15, 1949, March 15, 1949, and September 15, 1949, the period within which such deficiency, attributable to the application to the taxpayer of the net operating loss carry-back from 1945, may be assessed with respect to the tax imposed by chapter 1 for 1943 will expire on September 15, 1949.

A deficiency attributable to the application to the taxpayer of a carry-back may result from an adjustment to the net operating loss or the unused excess profits credit, to the resulting carry-back, or to the net operating loss deduction or the unused excess profits credit adjustment. A deficiency may be attributable to the application to the taxpayer of a carry-back even though the net operating loss or the unused excess profits credit or the resulting carry-back, as claimed by the taxpayer, is identical in amount with the actual loss or unused credit or the resulting carry-back. For example, if in computing the net operating loss deduction the taxpayer fails to make the adjustment required by section 122 (c), the resulting deficiency will be considered to be attributable to the application to the taxpayer of any net operating loss carry-back which entered into the computation of such net operating loss deduction. A deficiency in excess profits tax attributable to the application to the taxpayer of an unused excess profits credit carry-back which itself is produced, or which is increased in amount, by a net operating loss carry-back is to be considered as likewise attributable to the application to the taxpayer of such net operating loss carry-back to the extent that such unused excess profits credit carry-back is so produced or increased; such deficiency may be assessed at any time prior to the expiration of whichever of the following two periods expires later; the period prescribed in section 276 (d) within which a deficiency attributable to the application to the taxpayer of such unused excess profits credit carry-back may be assessed, or the period prescribed in section 276 (d) within which a deficiency attributable to the application to the taxpayer of such net operating loss carry-back may be assessed.

If the period within which a deficiency may be assessed under any other applicable provision of law, both in the case where an excess profits tax return was required to be filed for the taxable year of the loss or unused credit which resulted in the carry-back and in the case where no excess profits tax return was required to be filed for such taxable year, is longer than the period provided in section 276 (d), a deficiency attributable to the application to the taxpayer of such carry-back may be assessed at any time prior to the expiration of such longer period.

PAR. 4. There is inserted immediately preceding § 29.322–1 the following:

SEC. 5. PERIOD OF LIMITATION IN CASE OF CARRY-BACKS. (Tax Adjustment Act of 1945.)

(a) Section 322 (b) (5) of the Internal Revenue Code is amended by striking the words "or of a carry-back" where they appear in subparagraph (B) thereof, and by striking the last sentence and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "If the claim for credit or refund relates to an overpayment on account of the effect that the deductibility of such a debt or loss has on the application to the taxpayer of a carry-back, the period shall be either seven years from the date prescribed by law for filing the return for the year of the net operating loss or the unused excess profits credit which results in such carry-back or the period prescribed in paragraph (6), whichever expires the later. In the case of a claim described in this paragraph, the amount of the credit or refund may exceed the portion of the tax paid within the period prescribed in paragraph (2) or (3), whichever is applicable, to the extent of the amount of the overpayment attributable to the deductibility of items described in this paragraph."

(b) Section 322 (b) of the Internal Revenue Code is amended by inserting immediately following paragraph (5) the following new paragraph:

(6) Special period of limitation with respect to net operating loss carry-backs and unused excess profits credit carry-backs. If the claim for credit or refund relates to an overpayment attributable to a net operating loss carry-back or to an unused excess profits credit carry-back, in lieu of the three-year period of limitation prescribed in paragraph (1), the period shall be that period which ends with the expiration of the three-year period prescribed in paragraph (1) or the period prescribed in paragraph (3), whichever expires later, within which claim for credit or refund may be filed with respect to the taxable year of the net operating loss or the unused excess profits credit which results in such carry-back. In the case of such a claim, the amount of the credit or refund may exceed the portion of the tax paid within the period provided in paragraph (2) or (3), whichever is applicable, to the extent of the amount of the overpayment attributable to such carry-back.

(c) Section 322 (d) of the Internal Revenue Code is amended by striking the period at the end thereof and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "; or (3), if such portion was not paid within the period described in clause (1), but the notice of deficiency was mailed within the period prescribed in subsection (b) (6) for the filing of a claim for credit or refund of an overpayment attributable to a carry-back, or such a claim was filed, that such portion does not exceed the amount of the overpayment attributable to a carry-back".

(d) Section 322 of the Internal Revenue Code is amended by inserting immediately following subsection (f) the following new subsection:

(g) Overpayments attributable to net operating loss carry-backs and unused excess profits credit carry-backs. If the allowance of a credit or refund of an overpayment of tax attributable to a net operating loss carry-back or to an unused excess profits credit carry-back is otherwise prevented by the operation of any law or rule of law other than section 3761, relating to compromises, such credit or refund may be allowed or made, if claim therefor is filed within the period provided in subsection (b) (6). If the allowance of an application, credit or refund of a decrease in tax determined under section 3780 (b) is otherwise prevented by the operation of any law or rule of law other than section 3761, such application, credit or refund may be allowed or made if application for a tentative carry-back adjustment is made within the period provided in section 3780 (a). In the case of any such claim for credit or refund or any such application for a tentative carry-back adjustment, the determination by any court, including The Tax Court of the United States, in any proceeding in which the decision of the court has become final, shall be conclusive except with respect to the net operating loss deduction and the unused excess profits credit adjustment, and the effect of such deduction or adjustment, to the extent that such deduction or adjustment is affected by a carry-back which was not in issue in such proceeding.

* * * * *

(f) Effective date. The amendments made by this section shall be applicable with respect to all taxable years beginning after December 31, 1940, except that the amendment made by subsection (d) shall not be applicable to any taxable year with respect to which the taxpayer and the Commissioner have entered into a closing agreement under the provisions of section 3760, prior to the date of enactment of this Act, in any case in which it is expressly provided in such closing agreement that the tax liability for such taxable year is not to be affected by a net operating loss carry-back or by an unused excess profits credit carry-back.

SEC. 122. REPEAL OF EXCESS PROFITS TAX IN 1946. (Revenue Act of 1945.)

* * * * * *

(e) Claims for refund based on carry-backs—(1) In general. The first sentence of section 322 (b) (6) (relating to periods of limitation with respect to claims for refund based on carry-backs) is amended to read as follows: "If the claim for credit or refund relates to an over-payment attributable to a net operating loss carry-back or to an unused excess profits credit carry-back, in lieu of the three-year period of limitation prescribed in paragraph (1), the period shall be that period which ends with the expiration of the fifteenth day of the thirty-ninth month following the end of the taxable year of the net operating loss or the unused excess profits credit which results in such carry-back, or the period prescribed in paragraph (3) in respect of such taxable year, whichever expires later."

(2) Taxable years to which applicable. The amendment made by this subsection shall be applicable to claims for credit or refund with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1940.

* * * * * *

PAR. 5. Section 29.322–7, as amended by Treasury Decision 5593, approved March 20, 1946, is further amended as follows:

(A) By striking the last sentence of paragraph (a) and inserting in lieu thereof the following sentence: "The provisions of this paragraph are subject to the exceptions provided in paragraphs (b), (c), (d), and (e) of this section and in section 201 of Public Law 291 (79th Congress), approved December 29, 1945, extending to December 31, 1946, the time for filing a claim for credit or refund based upon an overpayment of the tax as a result of the failure to take a war loss deduction in respect of property considered destroyed or seized under section 127 (a) of the Code for a taxable year beginning in 1941 or 1942."

(B) By striking subparagraph (2) of paragraph (c) and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

(2) The effect that the deductibility of a debt or loss described in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph has on the application to the taxpayer of a capital loss carry-over provided in section 117 (e), a net operating loss carry-over provided in section 122 (b), or an unused excess profits credit carry-over provided in section 710 (c) (3),

(C) By striking the second sentence of paragraph (c) which begins with the words "In the case of such a claim" and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

If the claim for credit or refund relates to an over-payment on account of the effect that the deductibility of a debt or loss described in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph has on the application to the taxpayer of a net operating loss carry-back provided in section 122 (b) or an unused excess profits credit carry-back provided in section 710 (c) (3), such period shall be whichever of the following two periods expires later:

(i) Seven years from the date prescribed by law for filing the return (determined without regard to any extension of time for filing such return) for the taxable year of the net operating loss or the unused excess profits credit; or

(ii) The period prescribed in paragraph (e) of this section.

In the case of any claim described in this section the amount of the credit or refund may exceed the portion of the tax paid within the period provided in paragraph (a) or (b) of this section, whichever is applicable, to the extent of the amount of the overpayment attributable to the deductibility of items described in this section.

(D) By striking "(i)" and "(ii)" where they appear in the first paragraph of paragraph (c) and inserting in lieu thereof "(A)" and "(B)," respectively.

(E) By striking the second paragraph of paragraph (c) and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

If claim for credit or refund is not filed within the applicable period described in the preceding paragraph, then credit or refund may be allowed or made only if claim therefor is filed, or if such credit or refund is allowed or made, within any period prescribed in paragraph (a) or (b) of this section, whichever is applicable, subject to the provisions of such paragraph (a) or (b), limiting the amount of credit or refund in the case of a claim filed, or, if no claim was filed, in the case of credit or refund allowed or made within such applicable period as prescribed in such paragraph (a) or (b).

(F) By striking subdivision (ii) of paragraph (d) (1) and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

(ii) If such portion of the tax was not paid within the period described in subdivision (i) of this subparagraph, but the notice of deficiency was mailed within seven years from the time prescribed for filing the return (determined without regard to any extension of time for filing such return), or a claim of the type described in paragraph (c) of this section was filed, that such portion of the tax does not exceed the amount of the overpayment attributable to the deductibility of items described in such paragraph (c); or

(iii) If such portion of the tax was not paid within the period described in subdivision (i) of this subparagraph, but the notice of deficiency was mailed within the period prescribed in paragraph (e) of this section for the filing of a claim for credit or refund of an overpayment attributable to a net operating loss carry-back or an unused excess profits credit carry-back, or such a claim was filed, that such portion of the tax does not exceed the amount of the overpayment attributable to the carry-back.

The amount of the overpayment attributable to the deductibility of items described in paragraph (c) of this section or to a carry-back shall be determined under the provisions of paragraphs (c) and (e), respectively, of this section. For the limitation on the allowance of interest for any portion of an overpayment described in subdivision

(ii) or (iii) of this subparagraph, see section 3771 (d) or (e), whichever is applicable.

(G) By adding at the end thereof the following new paragraph.

(e) Overpayment on account of net operating loss carry-backs and unused excess profits credit carry-backs—(1) Special period of limitation. If the claim for credit or refund relates to an overpayment attributable to a net operating loss carry-back, provided in section 122 (b), or to an unused excess profits credit carry-back, provided in section 710 (c) (3), then in lieu of the three-year period from the date the return was filed in which the claim may be filed or credit or refund allowed or made, as prescribed in paragraph (a) of this section, the period shall be whichever of the following two periods expires later:

(i) The period which ends with the expiration of the 15th day of the 39th month following the end of the taxable year of the net operating loss or the unused excess profits credit which resulted in the carry-back; or

(ii) The period which ends with the expiration of the period prescribed in paragraph (b) of this section within which a claim for credit or refund may be filed with respect to the taxable year of the net operating loss or the unused excess profits credit which resulted in the carry-back.

In the case of such a claim, the amount of the credit or refund may exceed the portion of the tax paid within the period prescribed in paragraph (a) or (b) of this section, whichever is applicable, to the extent of the amount of the overpayment attributable to the carry-back. Such a credit or refund cannot exceed the sum of the following:

(a) The portion, if any, of the tax paid within the period provided in paragraph (a) or (b) of this section, whichever is applicable, and

(b) The amount of the overpayment attributable to the carry-back.

The portion of an overpayment attributable to a carry-back shall be determined by treating the net operating loss reduction and the unused excess profits credit adjustment, to the extent that they are increased by the net operating loss carry-back or the unused excess profits credit carry-back, as the first adjustments to be made in computing such overpayment.

If claim for credit or refund is not filed, and if credit or refund is not allowed or made, within the period described in the preceding paragraph, then credit or refund may be allowed or made only if claim therefor is filed, or if such credit or refund is allowed or made, within any period prescribed in paragraph (a) or (b) of this section, whichever is applicable, subject to the provisions of such paragraph (a) or (b), limiting the amount of credit or refund in the case of a claim filed, or if no claim was filed, in the case of credit or refund allowed or made within such applicable period.

In the case of an overpayment of excess profits tax attributable to an unused excess profits credit carry-back which itself is produced, or is increased in amount, by a net operating loss carry-back, such overpayment is to be considered as attributable to the net operating loss carry-back to the extent that there would have been no overpayment of excess profits tax if there had been no net operating loss carry-back. Claim for credit or refund of that portion of the overpayment of excess profits tax which is thus attributable to the net operating loss carry-back may be filed, or credit or refund allowed or made, at any time prior to the expiration of the period within which claim for credit or refund of an overpayment attributable to the net operating loss carry-back may be filed or such credit or refund allowed or made if no claim is filed.

For the limitation on the allowance of interest for an overpayment where credit or refund is subject to the provisions of section 322 (b) (6), see section 3771 (e).

(2) Barred overpayments. If the allowance of a credit or refund of an overpayment of tax attributable to a net operating loss carry-back or to an unused excess profits credit carry-back is otherwise prevented by the operation of any law or rule of law (other than section 3761, relating to compromises), such credit or refund may be allowed or made under the provisions of section 322 (g) if a claim therefor is filed within the period provided in section 322 (b) (6) and § 29.322–7 (e) (1) for filing a claim for credit or refund of an overpayment attributable to a carry-back. Similarly, if the allowance of an application, credit or refund of a decrease in tax determined under section 3780 (b) is otherwise prevented by the operation of any law or rule of law (other than section 3761), such application, credit or refund may be allowed or made if an application for a tentative carry-back adjustment is filed within the period provided in section 3780 (a). Thus, for example, even though the tax liability for a given taxable year has previously been litigated before The Tax Court of the United States, credit or refund of an overpayment may be allowed or made, despite the provisions of section 322 (c), if claim for such credit or refund is filed within the period provided in section 322 (b) (6) and § 29.322–7 (e) (1). In the case of a claim for credit or refund of an overpayment attributable to a carry-back, or in the case of an application for a tentative carry-back adjustment, the determination of any court, including The Tax Court of the United States, in any proceeding in which the decision of the court has become final, shall be conclusive except with respect to the net operating loss deduction and the unused excess profits credit adjustment, and the effect of such deduction or adjustment, to the extent that such deduction or adjustment is affected by a carry-back which was not in issue in such proceeding. The provisions of section 322 (g), however, are not to apply to any taxable year with respect to which the Commissioner and the taxpayer have entered into a closing agreement under section 3760 prior to July 31, 1945, the date of enactment of the Tax Adjustment Act of 1945, in which it is expressly provided that the tax liability for such taxable year is not to be affected by a net operating loss carry-back or by an unused excess profits credit carry-back.

The provisions of section 322 (g) may be illustrated by the following example:

Example. Corporation A, which keeps its books and makes its tax returns on the calendar year basis, filed its income and excess profits tax returns for 1944 on March 15, 1945. The corporation claimed $100,000 as a deduction for depreciation on such returns. The Commissioner asserted that only $60,000 was properly allowable as a deduction for depreciation, and he further asserted that the corporation had realized certain long-term capital gains in 1944 which it improperly failed to include in its gross income. These issues were litigated before The Tax Court of the United States which sustained the Commissioner's determinations with respect to both the deduction for depreciation and the capital gains. Pursuant to the decision of The Tax Court, which became final on December 15, 1946, deficiency judgments were entered for the Commissioner with respect to both the income tax and the excess profits tax of the corporation for the year 1944. In computing the deficiency in excess profits tax, proper adjustment was made by The Tax Court for an unused excess profits credit carry-back from the year 1945 to 1944. The corporation did not appeal The Tax Court's decision. In a decision which became final on May 1, 1947, the Supreme Court decided that gains of the type held taxable as long-term capital gains by The Tax Court in the above proceeding are not subject to tax. The corporation sustained net operating losses in both 1946 and 1947 and had an unused excess profits credit for 1946. The net operating loss sustained by the corporation in 1947, when carried back to 1945, increased the unused excess profits credit for 1945. If proper claims for credit or refund are filed within the period provided in section 322 (b) (6) and § 29.322–7 (e) (1), the corporation may be allowed credit or refund of such portions of the overpayments of its income tax, its excess profits tax, and any other tax affected, for 1944 as are attributable to the net operating loss carry-back or unused excess profits credit carry-backs which result from the above losses and unused credits. In computing such overpayments, no adjustment is to be made with respect to the gains held taxable as long-term capital gains by The Tax Court or with respect to any other item, except the net operating loss deduction and the unused excess profits credit adjustment, which entered into the determination of the corporation's income tax and excess profits tax for 1944. The net operating loss deduction and excess profits credit adjustment, however, may be adjusted to the extent that they are affected by a carry-back which was not in issue in the above proceeding before The Tax Court. Likewise, adjustments may be made to reflect the effect of such net operating loss deduction and unused excess profits credit adjustment on any other items which enter into the determination of the tax liability. Thus, for example, any deduction limited by net income or adjusted gross income, such as the deduction for charitable contributions, is to be recomputed on the basis of the net income or adjusted gross income as affected by the carry-back. The portion of the overpayment attributable to the net operating loss carry-back or the unused excess profits credit carry-back is to be determined by treating the net operating loss deduction and the unused excess profits credit adjustment, to the extent that they are increased by a net operating loss carry-back or an unused excess profits credit carry-back, as the first adjustments to be made in computing such overpayment.

PAR. 6. The amendments to Regulations 111 (covering taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941) made by paragraphs 1 through 5 of this Treasury decision are hereby made applicable to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1940 and prior to January 1, 1942 (such years being covered by Regulations 103 (26 CFR, Part 19)).

(Section 62 of the Internal Revenue Code (53 Stat. 32; 26 U.S.C., 62), sections 5 and 6 (a) of the Tax Adjustment Act of 1945 (Public Law 172, 79th Congress), and section 122 (e) and (f) of the Revenue Act of 1945 (Public Law 214, 79th Congress))

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

THEODORE G. MEYER

Theodore G. Meyer is a general contractor located at 200 Quint Street, San Francisco, and is engaged in the building of small family dwellings. On January 28, 1946, Theodore G. Meyer was authorized on Form CPA-4386, Serial No. 66-121-00098, to carry on the construction of 38 housing units located in Miraloma Park Subdivision, San Francisco, California pursuant to Veterans' Housing Program under PR-33 and assigned an HH rating to procure certain construction materials. In February of 1946, Theodore G. Meyer applied HH ratings granted pursuant to the above authorization to obtain 760,000 board feet of lumber although only 565,068 board feet of lumber were required to complete the 38 houses. The application of these HH ratings to get 194,392 board feet of lumber in excess of the amount required to meet his construction schedule constituted a grossly negligent violation of Direction 1 to Priorities Regulation No. 33 and Priorities Regulation No. 3. On February 1, 1946, Theodore G. Meyer, placed an order bearing HH ratings assigned pursuant to the foregoing authorization for the purchase of 1,200 doors, although only 600 doors were required to complete the above project. The placing of these rated orders for 600 doors in excess of the amount required to complete the project constituted a wilful violation of Priorities Regulations Nos. 1 and 33. These violations have diverted critical materials to uses not authorized by the Civilian Production Administration. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered that:

§ 1010.939 Suspension Order No. S-939. (a) For a period of four months from the effective date of this order, no authorization shall be granted to Theodore G. Meyer to do construction or use preference ratings nor shall he apply or extend any preference ratings during such period, Provided that the provisions of this order shall not apply to the completion of the 38 houses located in Miraloma Park Subdivision, San Francisco, California, and authorized on Form CPA-4386, project Serial No. 66-121-00098.

(b) Theodore G. Meyer shall refer to this order in any application or appeal which he may file with the Civilian Production Administration or the FHA for priorities assistance or for authorization to carry on construction.

(c) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Theodore G. Meyer from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Civilian Production Administration, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(d) The restrictions and prohibitions contained herein shall apply to Theodore G. Meyer, his successors and assigns or persons acting on his behalf. Prohibitions against the taking of any action include the taking indirectly as well as directly of any such action.

(e) This order shall take effect on the 30th day of May 1946.

Issued this 20th day of May 1946.

[Directive 113]

PART 4003—SUPPORT PRICES: SUBSIDIES

IMPORTS OF WET SALTED HIDES, CALF AND KIPSKINS

The Office of Price Administration, the Civilian Production Administration, and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation have submitted information to me with respect to the need for continuing imports of certain types of wet salted hides from Latin America and the West Indies and with respect to the necessity for maintaining the domestic sales price of such hides at existing levels. After careful consideration and after consultation with representatives of the interested agencies, I hereby find that in order to continue imports of such wet salted hides without increasing the domestic price it will be necessary to provide a temporary program subsidizing such imports.

Accordingly, pursuant to the authority vested in me by the Stabilization Act of 1942, as amended, and by Executive Order 9250 of October 3, 1942 (7 F.R. 7871), Executive Order 9328 of April 8, 1943 (8 F.R. 4681), Executive Order 9599 of August 18, 1945 (10 F.R. 10155), Executive Order 9651 of October 30, 1945 (10 F.R. 13487), Executive Order 9697 of February 14, 1946 (11 F.R. 1691), and Executive Order 9699 of February 21, 1946 (11 F.R. 1929), It is hereby ordered:

1. The Reconstruction Finance Corporation is authorized and directed to establish and carry out the following purchase and resale at a loss program with respect to imports of wet salted hides:

(a) The program shall apply to purchases in Latin American countries and the West Indies of the following types of wet salted hides:

(1) Frigorifico and establishment hides, calf and kipskins.

(2) Any other type of hides, calf and kipskins.

(b) The Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall purchase hides of the types described in paragraph (a) at prices in excess of the schedule of maximum prices for purchase of such hides by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in effect on May 8, 1946, up to the following amounts:

(1) In the case of frigorifico and establishment hides, calf and kipskins—20%.

(2) In the case of any other hides, calf and kipskins—15%.

(c) The Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall absorb any increase in purchase price paid under the authority of paragraph (b) in sales to United States purchasers and any increased duty resulting directly from such increased purchase price.

2. The purchase and resale at a loss program authorized by section 1 shall be limited to the amount of hides and skins purchased by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation pursuant to the recommendations of the Civilian Production Administration and the Combined Hides, Skins and Leather Committee.

Issued and effective this 27th day of May 1946.

CHESTER BOWLES,
Director.

§ 8304.1 Definitions. (a) Terms defined in act. Terms not defined in paragraph (b) of this section which are defined in the Surplus Property Act of 1944 shall in this part have the meaning given to them in the act.

(b) Other terms. (1) "Aeronautical property" means personal property peculiar to aircraft, and includes but is not limited to aircraft, airframes, all spare parts of airframes, all airborne components, accessories and items of equipment which comprise complete airplanes and their spare parts, aeronautical training and instructional equipment and aids, specialized tools and equipment and tool kits used solely in aircraft maintenance and synthetic flight training devices and their spare parts. Aeronautical property does not include radios not installed in any aircraft, non-heated flight clothing, life rafts and life saving devices other than personnel parachutes, and such items of oxygen equipment and such navigation instruments and aids as are not normally installed in or attached to an aircraft.

(2) "Commercially unsalable property" as used herein is distinguished from property of no commercial value as used in Part 8319 [1] and means property which has no reasonable prospect of sale at or above a minimum price established by the disposal agency, or where such minimum price has not been established, no reasonable prospect of sale except as salvage or scrap.

(3) "Salvage" means property that is in such a worn, damaged, deteriorated or incomplete condition, or is of such a specialized nature that it has no reasonable prospect of sale as a unit, or is not usable as a unit without major repairs or alteration. Salvage has some value in excess of its basic material content because it may contain serviceable components or may have value to a purchaser who may make major repairs or alterations. Salvage includes used containers and cable reels.

(4) "Scrap" means property that has no reasonable prospect of sale except for its basic material content.

(5) "Instrumentality" as used herein refers to any instrumentality of a State, territory, or possession of the United States, the District of Columbia, or any political subdivision thereof, as well as such States and subdivisions themselves.

(6) "Nonprofit institution" means any nonprofit scientific, literary, educational, public-health, public-welfare, charitable or elemosynary institution, organization, or association, or any nonprofit hospital or similar institution, organization or association, which has been held exempt from taxation under section 101 (6) of the Internal Revenue Code, or any nonprofit volunteer fire company or cooperative hospital or similar institution which has been held exempt from taxation under section 101 (8) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(7) "Educational institution or instrumentality" means any school, school system, library, college, university, or other similar institution, organization, or association, which is organized for the primary purpose of carrying on instruction or research in the public interest, and which is a nonprofit institution or an instrumentality.

(8) "Public-health institution or instrumentality" means any hospital, board, agency, institution, organization or association, which is organized for the primary purpose of carrying on medical, public-health, or sanitational services in the public interest, or research to extend the knowledge in these fields, and which is a nonprofit institution or an instrumentality.

(9) "Tactical aircraft" means those generally useful only for military purposes and include aircraft of types designed and useful only for tactical and strategic military missions, as well as such advance trainers and such basic trainers as are not generally suitable for civilian flying.

(10) "Transport aircraft" means those which are designed to perform or can economically be converted to perform the commercial transportation of persons or property or both. This class includes single and multi-engined land aircraft, seaplanes and amphibians of 5,000 pounds gross weight and over.

§ 8304.2 Scope. This part applies to the disposal of surplus aeronautical property located in the continental United States, its territories and possessions.

§ 8304.3 Allocation. Surplus aeronautical property in short supply may be allocated by the Administrator to satisfy the needs of the armed forces as provided in section 6 of the Act and the needs of priority claimants as provided for in Part 8302 [2]. Thereafter the Administrator may allocate aeronautical property in short supply to others applying therefor. Allocations will be made in such a manner as will effectuate the objectives of the Act including the promotion of an adequate and economical national transportation system. In the allocation of such property, due consideration will be given to the needs of foreign transportation systems for such property, as recommended by the Department of State.

§ 8304.4 Interdepartmental Advisory Committee on Surplus Aircraft Disposal. Pursuant to arrangements made with other interested Government agencies, there is established an Interdepartmental Advisory Committee on Surplus Aircraft Disposal which shall function as an advisory committee to the Administrator and shall consist of representatives of the Department of State, the War Department, the Navy Department, the Department of Commerce, the Office of the Foreign Liquidation Commissioner, the Civil Aeronautics Board, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, the War Assets Administration, and a representative of the Administrator, who shall serve as Chairman of the Committee. It shall be the duty of such committee to furnish advice and make recommendations to the Administrator with respect to the policies and procedures to be applied in the disposal of surplus aircraft, the allocation of aeronautical property in short supply, and all other matters relating to surplus aeronautical property upon which advice may be requested by the Administrator.

§ 8304.5 Establishing minimum prices. The disposal agency is authorized to establish minimum prices for items of aeronautical property and to treat as commercially unsalable any such property which after a reasonable test of the market it concludes cannot be sold within a reasonable period of time at prices equal to or greater than such minimum prices.

§ 8304.6 Disposal of tactical aircraft. (a) Aside from a relatively small demand for tactical aircraft to serve specialized industrial, educational and private uses, there is no significant market for aeronautical property of this class.

(b) Tactical aircraft which have been determined to be commercially unsalable by the disposal agency shall be disposed of as salvage or scrap as hereinafter provided, or otherwise, and when disposed of other than as salvage or scrap by the disposal agency, such property shall be disposed of at fixed prices. Fixed prices for any such aircraft shall not be less than the sum of the fair market value of its usable components and the scrap value of its residual basic material.

[2] Reg. 2 (11 F.R. 5125).

§ 8304.7 Disposal of transport aircraft. In the disposal of transport aircraft, the disposal agency shall establish, with the approval of the Administrator fixed prices for such aircraft. In fixing such prices, the disposal agency should give consideration to the potential earning power of the aircraft in relation to other models, its estimated economical life in scheduled and nonscheduled commercial service, the degree of modification required for conversion to civilian use and the relationship between supply and demand. If the disposal agency determines that transport aircraft are beyond economical repair or that a fixed price cannot be readily established because of obsolescence, specialized design or other exceptional circumstances, such aircraft may be disposed of by competitive bidding or other method of sale considered appropriate by the disposal agency. The disposal agencies shall attempt, whenever practicable, to dispose of surplus transport type aircraft by sale rather than by lease. Transport aircraft of models approved by the Administrator, may, however, be leased by the disposal agency upon terms approved by the Administrator; Provided, however, That after June 30, 1946, transport aircraft shall be disposed of only by sale.

§ 8304.8 Disposal of other aircraft and aeronautical devices. Single and multi-engine aircraft other than those constituting transport or tactical aircraft which are primarily suitable for personal or charter flying, primary trainers and such basic trainers as are suitable for private flying and civilian flight training, miscellaneous aircraft, including gliders, airships, and rotary wing aircraft not otherwise classified, and synthetic flight training devices, should where practicable be sold at fixed prices or by competitive bidding, "where is, as is," with the disposal agency reserving the right to reject all bids.

§ 8304.9 Disposal of components and parts. It is recognized that substantial amounts of components and parts of aeronautical property are so specialized that only a small portion has value in the civilian economy, except as salvage and scrap. In order to minimize Government expense and in order to expedite the disposal of surplus components and parts, the following methods shall be employed in the reporting and disposal thereof:

(a) Listing of items which may have use in civil or commercial aviation. The disposal agency in conjunction with the owning agency shall, after a survey of those components and parts known or believed to be usable in civil and commercial aviation, prepare a list of such components and parts.

(b) Segregation of items which may have use in civil or commercial aviation. Upon preliminary report in writing by the owning agency, directed to the disposal agency that any depot or installation under the jurisdiction of such owning agency contains substantial quantities of surplus components and parts, the disposal agency shall examine the inventory in the preliminary report and promptly issue shipping instructions, authorizing physical transfer of such components and parts which are listed as usable in civil or commercial aviation, to a designated location. Such preliminary report shall be considered as an intention to file a declaration of surplus but shall not be considered to be the declaration of surplus property as provided in paragraph (d) of this section. The preliminary report shall contain sufficient data to identify the type of property, the cost to the Government thereof, and its location. Thereafter, the disposal agency shall dispose of such components and parts at fixed prices. Consistent with orderly disposal and after determination by inspection has been made by the disposal agency that components and parts are usable in civil or commercial aviation or otherwise have comercial value, the owning agency shall promptly declare such property surplus in the manner provided in paragraph (d).

(c) Residual components and parts. After shipment as described in paragraph (b) such portion of the residual quantities of components and parts in the possession of the owning agency as are determined by the disposal agency to be commercially unsalable may be disposed of by the owning agency as salvage or scrap pursuant to § 8304.14 (b), and such portion of the residual components and parts as are determined by the disposal agency to have possible commercial value, shall, with the assistance of the owning agency, be disposed of by the disposal agency by orderly sale, "where is, as is," at the best price obtainable.

(d) Declaration of surplus. Owning agencies declaring surplus components and parts usable in civil or commercial aviation, or having possible commercial value, under paragraphs (b) and (c), may use a copy of the shipping ticket, bill of sale or other list of property as the declaration, Providing, That a Form SPB–1 or Form SPB–1.2 (or any superseding form) is used as a cover sheet and that all of the information required by the Form SPB–1 or Form SPB–1.2 is shown either on the Form SPB–1 or Form SPB–1.2 or on the supporting documents, and Provided further, That not more than ninety-nine shipping tickets, bills of sale or other lists of property shall be attached to a single covering Form SPB–1 or Form SPB–1.2.

§ 8304.10 Determination to be commercially unsalable. In order to obtain the greatest return to the Government and at the same time to obviate all unnecessary expense of care, handling, shipping, reconditioning, and maintenance of such property, the disposal agency shall make prompt determination as to those items of aeronautical property which are commercially unsalable and should therefore be promptly disposed of as salvage or scrap. Such a determination by the disposal agency may be made by any of the following methods:

(a) By the offering of reasonable quantities for sale;

(b) By a finding of the Civilian Aeronautics Administration based upon considerations of flight safety;

(c) By a finding of the War Department or the Navy Department, based upon the requirements of national defense, that an item of aeronautical property should not be approved for general civilian flight use;

(d) By a finding of the disposal agency that there is an oversupply which exceeds any known or foreseeable demand;

(e) By the findings of expert consultants;

(f) By direct findings of the disposal agency in cases where the cost of care and handling is believed to exceed foreseeable returns.

§ 8304.11 Disposals for educational and public health purposes. (a) Where the disposal agency determines that any item of surplus aeronautical property is commercially unsalable, disposal may be made to educational or public-health institutions or instrumentalities as provided in this section. The disposal agency shall compile a list of such items and shall ascertain fixed prices which will reflect the benefit which has accrued or may accrue to the United States from the use of such property by educational or public-health institutions or instrumentalities. Such lists shall be submitted to the Administrator, and if approved, will be published by order hereunder. The disposal agency is authorized to dispose of such property to educational or public-health institutions or instrumentalities at the prices so approved: Provided, however, That no such disposals at the prices so approved may be allowed to any nonprofit institutions which are not exempt from taxation under section 101 (6) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(b) The disposal agency shall establish procedures pursuant to which educational or public-health institutions or instrumentalities may make written application for surplus aeronautical property available for disposal to such institutions or instrumentalities. Such procedures shall include (1) a certification that the applicant is an educational or public-health institution or instrumentality as defined in § 8304.1, (2) a certification of the purposes for which the property is to be acquired, and in the case of aircraft an agreement that it will not be flown except for purposes of research or experiment in connection with the science of aeronautics, and (3) an agreement that the property will not be resold to others within three (3) years of the date of purchase without the consent in writing of the disposal agency unless it is mutilated or otherwise rendered unfit for use except as scrap.

§ 8304.12 Nonprofit institutions and instrumentalities. The price at which nonprofit institutions and instrumentalities, including educational and public-health, shall be entitled to acquire surplus aeronautical property from the disposal agency if a price list has not been published under the preceding section, shall not be greater than the lowest price at which such property is offered other than scrap to any trade level at the time of acquisition by the nonprofit institution or instrumentality.

§ 8304.13 Donation, destruction, or abandonment. Donation, destruction, or abandonment of surplus aeronautical property shall be governed by the provisions of Part 8319: Provided, however, That donations to nonprofit educational or public health institutions or instrumentalities of aeronautical property listed on any order published pursuant to § 8304.11 shall not be made by owning agencies under the act of February 14, 1927 (44 Stat. 1096; 34 U. S. C. 546a) or the act of May 26, 1928 (45 Stat. 753; 20 U. S. C. 94) without the prior approval of the Administrator.

§ 8304.14 Disposal as salvage or scrap. Pursuant to arrangements reached between Reconstruction Finance Corporation, the War Department, and the Navy Department the following procedures shall be followed with regard to domestic disposal of surplus aeronautical property as salvage or scrap:

(a) Disposal of aircraft as salvage or scrap. (1) Surplus flyable aircraft which are determined by the disposal agency to be commercially unsalable may be disposed of by owning agencies as salvage or scrap unless other disposition is directed by such disposal agency; or such aircraft may be reported by the owning agency to the disposal agency, and the disposal agency shall dispose of them as salvage or scrap. Non-flyable aircraft determined by the disposal agency to be commercially unsalable shall be disposed of as salvage or scrap by owning agencies unless other disposition is directed by the disposal agency, and such aircraft should not be declared surplus by owning agencies.

(2) The disposal of flyable aircraft as salvage by owning or disposal agencies shall in each case be accompanied by a written representation from the purchaser thereof that he is acquiring such property as salvage (i. e. for salvaging by disassembly or for non-flight use) and that it will not be resold to another for purposes other than salvage. The disposal of aircraft as scrap by owning or disposal agencies shall in each case be accompanied by a scrap warranty as defined in Part 8309[1] obtained from the purchaser thereof.

(b) Disposal of components and parts as salvage or scrap. Surplus components and parts which are determined by the disposal agency to be commercially unsalable shall be promptly disposed of by owning agencies as salvage or scrap, unless other disposition is directed by such disposal agency. When such items are in the possession of the disposal agency, they shall be promptly disposed of as provided for in this part by such disposal agency.

(c) Removal of components and parts. When an owning agency disposes of commercially unsalable aeronautical property as salvage or scrap, the disposal agency may direct such owning agency to remove such components and parts therefrom as the disposal agency may find have sufficient value to warrant the cost of removal, storage, care, and handling.

§ 8304.15 Rendering components and parts unfit for intended use. (a) The Administrator has determined that, in the case of components and parts, such property may become commercially unsalable as the volume of surplus declarations increase and that in order not to incur excessive costs of care and handling and to insure orderly disposal and prevent speculative resale, certain components and parts determined to be commercially unsalable by reason of oversupply should be rendered unfit for intended use before disposal as salvage or scrap.

(b) Where the disposal agency finds such action to be required with respect to components and parts in its possession, it shall render such property unfit for intended use prior to sale as salvage or scrap.

(c) In those cases where the disposal agency finds such action to be required with respect to components and parts in the possession of an owning agency, it shall direct the owning agency not to dispose of such property as salvage or scrap in accordance with the provisions of § 8304.14 (b), but instead to declare such components and parts to the disposal agency in the same manner as commercially salable components and parts to the end that all such property may be rendered unfit for intended use by the disposal agency.

§ 8304.16 Regulations by agencies to be reported to the Administrator. Owning and disposal agency shall file with the Administrator copies of all regulations, orders, and instructions of general applicability which it has issued or may hereafter issue in furtherance of the provisions, or any of them, of this part.

§ 8304.17 Records and reports. Each owning and disposal agency shall prepare and maintain such records as will show full compliance with the provisions of this part and with the applicable provisions of the Surplus Property Act of 1944, relating to the disposal of surplus aeronautical property.

NOTE: All reporting requirements of this part have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This revision of this part shall become effective May 31, 1946.

E. B. GREGORY,
Administrator.

ADJUSTMENT OF MAXIMUM PRICES

For the reasons set forth in an opinion, issued simultaneously herewith, and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and pursuant to section 31 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation 136, It is ordered:

(b) As used in this order, the phrase "base prices" shall mean the maximum prices established under section 7 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation 136, or computed under sections 8, 9 or 10 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation 136 before the addition of any increase provided to an individual manufacturer by way of individual adjustment under the provisions of Revised Maximum Price Regulation 136 or Supplementary Order No. 142.

(c) Manufacturers maximum prices. (1) Except as provided in paragraph (c) (2) below, the maximum prices for sales by a manufacturer of any gears shall be (i) For any gears, except gear motors, the base prices increased by 13.0%; (ii) For any gear motors, at the election of the manufacturer, either (a) the base prices increased by 13.0%, or (b) the base prices increased by the appropriate percentage increase factor to be determined from the table following. To determine the appropriate percentage increase factor: first ascertain the percentage the sales price of a standard motor of the same rating and capacity as the particular motor manufactured bears to the total sales price of the gear motor; this percentage fixes the appropriate line in column number 1 in the table; on the line thus fixed, the manufacturer will find in column 2 entitled "Fractional Horsepower Gear Motors" the appropriate percentage increase factor to be applied to base prices in the case of fractional horsepower gear motors, and in column number 3 entitled "Integral Gear Motors" the appropriate percentage increase factor to be applied to base prices in the case of integral gear motors.

(2) If the manufacturer's base prices for any gears, including gear motors, are approved by the OPA as "in-line" prices under section 9 (c) of Revised Maximum Price Regulation 136 subsequent to May 27, 1946, the maximum prices shall be the prices so approved.

(d) Resellers' maximum prices. The maximum prices for sales of any gears by a reseller shall be the maximum prices in effect just prior to the issuance of this order increased by the dollars-and-cents amount by which his net invoiced cost has been increased by reason of the issuance of this order.

(e) Discounts, allowances, etc. All prices established under paragraphs (c) and (d) of this order shall be subject to the same discounts, deductions and other allowances in effect to any purchasers and classes of purchasers just prior to the issuance of this order.

(ii) Both it and the article being priced were purchased from the same class of supplier.

(iii) Both it and the article being priced belong to a class of articles to which, according to customary trade practices, an approximately uniform percentage markup is applied.

(iv) Its net replacement cost is nearest to the net cost of the article being priced.

The determination of a ceiling price in this way need not be reported to the Office of Price Administration; however, each seller must keep complete records showing all the information called for by OPA Form 620–759 with regard to how he determined his ceiling price, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect.

If the maximum resale price cannot be determined under the above method the reseller shall apply to the Office of Price Administration for the establishment of a ceiling price under § 1499.3 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation. Ceiling prices established under that section will reflect the supplier's prices as adjusted in accordance with this order.

2. A new sentence is added to paragraph (c) to read as follows: "The provisions of Supplementary Order No. 153 shall not apply to sales covered by this order."

This amendment shall become effective on the 29th day of May 1946.

Issued this 28th day of May 1946.

PAUL A. PORTER,
Administrator.

PROCLAMATION 2692

FLAG DAY, 1946

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS on June 14, 1777, the Continental Congress adopted the flag which we cherish as the flag of the United States of America; and

WHEREAS under this flag generations of Americans have lived and worked to establish the foundations of our country's greatness; and

WHEREAS this flag has become the honored symbol of our way of life, our achievements as a people, and the many blessings which Providence has heaped upon us; and

WHEREAS for many years it has been customary to observe the anniversary of the day of the adoption of the flag as Flag Day; and

WHEREAS in this year following our great victories on the field of battle it is especially appropriate that we continue the customary observance of this day, and dedicate ourselves with renewed devotion to the responsibilities and obligations of citizenship under this flag:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, HARRY S. TRUMAN, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate June 14, 1946, as Flag Day, and direct that the flag of the United States be displayed on all Government buildings on that day.

And I urge that the people of the United States observe that day by suitable public ceremonies and by the display of the flag at their homes and other appropriate places; and I suggest that, in recognition of the joint victories achieved by the United States and her allies, the flags of the United Nations be displayed, wherever possible, in the community of the flag of the United States.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Washington this 29th day of May in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and forty-six, [SEAL] and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and seventieth.

HARRY S. TRUMAN

By the President:

JAMES F. BYRNES,
Secretary of State.

EXECUTIVE ORDER 9731

CREATING AN EMERGENCY BOARD TO INVESTIGATE A DISPUTE BETWEEN THE HUDSON & MANHATTAN RAILROAD COMPANY AND CERTAIN OF ITS EMPLOYEES

WHEREAS a dispute exists between the Hudson & Manhattan Railroad Company, a carrier, and certain of its employees represented by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, labor organizations; and

WHEREAS this dispute has not heretofore been adjusted under the provisions of the Railway Labor Act, as amended; and

WHEREAS this dispute, in the judgment of the National Mediation Board, threatens substantially to interrupt interstate commerce within the states of New York and New Jersey, to a degree such as to deprive that portion of the country of essential transportation service:

NOW, THEREFORE, by virtue of the authority vested in me by section 10 of the Railway Labor Act, as amended (45 U.S.C. 160), I hereby create a board of three members, to be appointed by me, to investigate said dispute. No member of the said board shall be pecuniarily or otherwise interested in any organization of railway employees or any carrier.

The board shall report its findings to the President with respect to the said dispute within thirty days from the date of this order.

Chapter IX—Production and Marketing Administration (Marketing Agreements and Orders)

PART 934—MILK IN THE LOWELL-LAWRENCE MARKETING AREA

HANDLING OF MILK IN LOWELL-LAWRENCE, MASS., MARKETING AREA [1]

§ 934.1 Findings and determinations—(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress (May 12, 1933), as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (hereinafter referred to as the "act"), and the rules of practice and procedure governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR, Cum. Supp. 900.1 et seq., 10 F.R. 11791), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentatively approved marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Lowell-Lawrence, Massachusetts, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is hereby found that:

(1) The said order, as amended and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions of said order, as amended and as hereby further amended, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The said order, as amended and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in the said tentatively approved marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held; and

(3) The prices calculated to give milk produced for sale in the said marketing area a purchasing power equivalent to the purchasing power of such milk as determined pursuant to sections 2 and 5 (e) of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply of and demand for such milk, and the minimum prices specified in the said order are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest.

The foregoing findings are supplementary and in addition to the findings made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and the findings made in connection with the issuance of each of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings are hereby ratified and affirmed except insofar as such findings may be in conflict with the findings set forth herein.

(b) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing or shipping milk covered by this amended order) of at least 50 percent of the volume of milk covered by said order, as amended and as hereby further amended, which is marketed within the Lowell-Lawrence, Massachusetts, marketing area, refused or failed to sign the tentatively approved marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the Lowell-Lawrence, Massachusetts, marketing area; and it is further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said tentatively approved marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order further amending the order, as amended, is the only practical means, pursuant to the declared policy of the act, of advancing the interests of producers of milk which is produced for sale in the Lowell-Lawrence, Massachusetts, marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order further amending the said order, as amended, is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who, during the determined representative period were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said Lowell-Lawrence, Massachusetts, marketing area.

§ 934.2 Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered that, from and after the effective date hereof, the handling of milk in the Lowell-Lawrence, Massachusetts, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended and as hereby further amended; and the aforesaid order, as amended, is hereby further amended as follows:

1. Delete from § 934.3 (a) (3) the words "Boxford" and "Dunstable."

2. Revise § 934.4 (b) to read as follows:

(b) Powers. The market administrator shall have power:

(1) To administer the terms and provisions hereof;

(2) To make rules and regulations to effectuate the terms and provisions hereof;

(3) To receive, investigate, and report to the Secretary complaints of violations of the terms and provisions hereof; and

(4) To recommend to the Secretary amendments hereto.

3. In § 934.4 (c) (4) delete the word "and" at the end of the subparagraph.

4. In § 934.4 (c) renumber subparagraph (5) as (6), and add a new subparagraph (5) to read as follows:

(5) Prepare and disseminate for the benefit of producers, consumers, and handlers statistics and information concerning the operation of this order; and

5. Delete § 934.6 (a) (1) and substitute:

(1) For milk delivered from producers' farms to such handler's plant located within 20 miles from the city hall in Lowell or Lawrence, the price per hundredweight during each delivery period shall be computed as follows, except that for the months of May and June 1946 the price shall be increased by 25 cents over the price otherwise applicable:

(i) Compute the average of the quotations per pound of U. S. Grade A or U. S. 92-score butter at wholesale in the New York market, as reported daily by the United States Department of Agriculture for the 30 days ending on the 24th day of the immediately preceding month.

(ii) Using the midpoint of any range as one quotation, compute the average of all hot roller process dry skim milk quotations per pound for "other brands, animal feed, carlots, bags, or barrels," and for "other brands, human consumption, carlots, bags, or barrels," published during the 30 days ending on the 24th day of the immediately preceding month in "The Producers' Price Current"; subtract 4 cents; and multiply the remainder by 1.8.

(iii) Add the values determined pursuant to (i) and (ii).

(iv) The Class I price per hundredweight shall be as shown in the following table:

Value computed pursuant to (iii) of this subparagraph (cents)	Class I price (dollars per cwt.)
	April through June	July through March
Under 25	2.25	2.50
25 or over, but under 30	2.45	2.70

70 or over, but under 75	4.25	4.50
75 or over, but under 80	4.45	4.70

85 or over, but under 90	4.85	5.10
90 or over, but under 95	5.05	5.30
95 or over, but under 100	5.25	5.50
100 and over	5.45	5.70

6. Delete § 934.6 (b) (2) (iii) and substitute:

(iii) Compute any plus amount for skim milk value which results from the following calculation. Using the midpoint in any range as one quotation, compute the average quotation per pound of nonfat dry milk solids in carlots for roller process human food products in barrels, and for hot roller process animal feed products in bags, as published during the delivery period by the United States Department of Agriculture for New York City. Multiply each such average quotation by the applicable percentage indicated for the delivery period in the following table and combine the results, subtract 4 cents, and multiply the remainder by 7.5.

7. Delete § 934.6 (b) (2) (iv).

8. In § 934.8 (c) delete the words ". . . unless such handler, not including a cooperative association as qualified pursuant to § 904.11 (a) of such order, sells, distributes, or disposes of less than 10 percent of his total receipts of milk as Class I milk in the Greater Boston marketing area" and substitute therefor the words "unless such handler is subject to the provisions of § 904.8 (f) (1) of such order."

9. In § 934.8 add a new paragraph to read as follows:

(g) Special plant transfers. In the case of milk or skim milk handled at any of a handler's plants at which milk or skim milk is received from the type of handler described in (f) of this section, and from which all milk or skim milk sold, distributed, or disposed of in the marketing area is first moved to another plant of the receiving handler from which Class I milk is disposed of in the marketing area, the provisions of this order shall apply only to the milk so moved. Milk or skim milk so moved shall be considered as a receipt of Class II milk from the type of handler described in (f) of this section; Provided, That no greater quantity of milk or skim milk shall be considered as receipts of Class II milk at the plant from which Class I milk is disposed of in the marketing area than the total quantity of milk or skim milk utilized as Class II milk at that plant.

10. In § 934.12 (a) insert after the words ". . . with respect to milk or skim milk received from the type of handler described in § 934.8 (f)," the words "and moved to the marketing area."

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 24th day of May 1946, to be effective on and after the 1st day of June 1946.

Secretary of Agriculture.

Approved: May 29, 1946.

Economic Stabilization Director.

PART 904—MILK IN THE GREATER BOSTON MARKETING AREA

HANDLING OF MILK IN GREATER BOSTON, MASS., MARKETING AREA [1]

§ 904.1 Findings and determinations—(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress (May 12, 1933), as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (hereinafter referred to as the "act"), and the rules of practice and procedure governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR, Cum. Supp. 900.1 et seq., 10 F.R. 11791), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentatively approved marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Greater Boston, Massachusetts marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is hereby found that:

(1) The said order, as amended and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions of said order, as amended and as hereby further amended, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The said order, as amended and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in the said tentatively approved marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held; and

(3) The prices calculated to give milk produced for sale in the said marketing area a purchasing power equivalent to the purchasing power of such milk as determined pursuant to sections 2 and 8 (e) of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply of and demand for such milk, and the minimum prices specified in the said order are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest.

The foregoing findings are supplementary and in addition to the findings made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and the findings made in connection with the issuance of each of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings are hereby ratified and affirmed except insofar as such findings may be in conflict with the findings set forth herein.

(b) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing or shipping milk covered by this amended order) of at least 50 percent of the volume of milk covered by said order, as amended and as hereby further amended, which is marketed within the Greater Boston, Massachusetts, marketing area, refused or failed to sign the tentatively approved marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the Greater Boston, Massachusetts, marketing area; and it is further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said tentatively approved marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order further amending the order, as amended, is the only practical means, pursuant to the declared policy of the act, of advancing the interests of producers of milk which is produced for sale in the Greater Boston, Massachusetts, marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order further amending the said order, as amended, is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who during November 1945 (hereby determined to be a representative period) were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said Greater Boston, Massachusetts, marketing area.

§ 904.2 Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered that, from and after the effective date hereof, the handling of milk in the Greater Boston, Massachusetts, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended and as hereby further amended; and the aforesaid order, as amended, is hereby further amended as follows:

1. Delete § 904.3 (a) (5) and insert the following:

(5) The term "dairy farmer" means any person who produces milk.

2. In § 904.3 (a) renumber subparagraphs (6), (7), (8), and (9) as (7), (8), (16), and (17), respectively, and add new subparagraphs (6), (9), (10), (11), (12), (13), (14), and (15), to read as follows:

(6) The term "producer" means any dairy farmer who, in conformity with the health regulations which are applicable to milk which is sold for consumption as milk in the marketing area, distributes or delivers to a handler milk of his own production.

(9) The term "pool handler" means any handler, other than a producer-handler, who receives milk from producers.

(10) The term "pool plant" means any plant at which a pool handler receives milk from producers.

(11) The term "regulated plant" means any pool plant, or any other plant from which Class I milk is distributed in the marketing area.

(12) The term "city plant" means any pool plant which is located not more than 40 miles from the State House in Boston.

(13) The term "country plant" means any pool plant which is located more than 40 miles from the State House in Boston.

(14) The term "emergency period" means the period of time for which the market administrator declares that an emergency exists in that the milk supply available to the marketing area from producers and from plants designated as pool plants under the New York order (Order No. 27 regulating the handling of milk in the New York metropolitan marketing area) is insufficient to meet the demand for Class I milk in the marketing area.

(15) The term "emergency milk" means that milk received at a regulated plant during an emergency period from a plant which was an unregulated plant in the delivery period or in the portion of a delivery period which immediately preceded the beginning of the emergency period, except that the term shall not be deemed to include milk received from plants designated as pool plants under the New York order.

3. Insert the word "pool" immediately before the word "handler" or any variation thereof in the first instance in which this word appears in § 904.7 (c) and (d);

(4) To recommend to the Secretary amendments hereto.

6. In § 904.4 (d) renumber subparagraphs (6) and (7) as (7) and (8), and add a new subparagraph (6) to read as follows:

(6) Prepare and disseminate for the benefit of producers, consumers, and handlers statistics and information concerning the operation of this order.

7. Delete § 904.5 (a), (b), and (c) and substitute therefor the following:

(a) Classes of utilization. All milk and milk products received by a handler shall be classified as Class I milk or Class II milk. Subject to the other provisions of this section, the classes of utilization of milk shall be as follows:

(1) Class I milk shall be all milk the utilization of which is not established as Class II milk.

(2) Class II milk shall be all milk the utilization of which is established:

(i) As being sold, distributed, or disposed of other than as or in milk which contains one-half of 1 percent or more but less than 16 percent of butterfat; and other than as or in chocolate or flavored whole or skim milk, buttermilk, or cultured skim milk, for human consumption; and

(ii) As plant shrinkage not in excess of 2 percent of the volume handled.

(b) Classification of milk utilized at regulated plants of pool handlers. All milk and milk products received at a regulated plant of any pool handler shall be classified in accordance with their utilization at such plant, except as provided otherwise in paragraph (c) of this section.

(c) Classification of milk and milk products moved to other plants. Milk, flavored milk, skim milk, cultured or flavored skim milk, or buttermilk which is moved from the regulated plant of a pool handler to any other plant shall be classified as follows:

(1) If moved to any other regulated plant, it shall be classified in accordance with its utilization at the plant to which it is moved.

(2) If moved to an unregulated plant, it shall be classified as Class I milk up to the total quantity of milk, or the corresponding milk product so moved, which is utilized as Class I milk at the unregulated plant.

(3) If moved to a regulated plant of a nonpool handler or to an unregulated plant, and thence to another such plant, it shall be classified as Class I milk.

8. Revise § 904.6 (a) to read as follows:

(a) Class I prices. (1) Each pool handler shall pay producers, in the manner set forth in § 904.10 and subject to the differentials set forth in (c) of this section, for Class I milk delivered by them, not less than the price per hundredweight determined for each delivery period as follows, except that for the months of May and June 1946 the price shall be increased by 25 cents over the price otherwise applicable:

(i) Compute the average of the quotations per pound of U. S. Grade A or U. S. 92-score butter at wholesale in the New York market, as reported daily by the United States Department of Agriculture for the 30 days ending on the 24th day of the immediately preceding month.

(ii) Using the midpoint of any range as one quotation, compute the average of all the hot roller process dry skim milk quotations per pound for "other brands, animal feed, carlots, bags, or barrels", and for "other brands, human consumption, carlots, bags, or barrels", published during the 30 days ending on the 24th day of the immediately preceding month in "The Producers' Price Current"; subtract 4 cents; and multiply the remainder by 1.8.

(iii) Add the values determined pursuant to (i) and (ii).

(iv) The Class I price per hundredweight shall be as shown in the following table:

	April through June	July through March
Under 25	1.84	2.09
25 or over, but under 30	2.04	2.29

90 or over, but under 95	4.64	4.89
95 or over, but under 100	4.84	5.09
100 or over	5.04	5.29

(2) For the purpose of this paragraph, the milk received from producers which was sold or distributed during each delivery period by each pool handler as Class I milk shall be considered to have been first, that milk which was received from producers' farms at such handler's city plants; and then, that milk which was received from producers' farms at his country plants and which was shipped as milk, flavored milk, skim milk, cultured or flavored skim milk, or buttermilk from each of his country plants, in the order of the nearness of the plants to Boston, except the quantity shipped to a plant located in the States of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, or New York, which has been established as Class II milk.

9. Revise § 904.6 (b) to read as follows:

(b) Class II prices. Each pool handler shall pay producers, in the manner set forth in § 904.10 and subject to the differentials set forth in this section, for Class II milk delivered by them, not less than the price per hundredweight calculated by the market administrator for each delivery period by combining in one sum such of the following computations as apply:

(1) Divide by 33.48 the weighted average price per 40-quart can of 40 percent bottling quality cream f. o. b. Boston, as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture for the delivery period during which such milk is delivered, multiply this result by 3.7, and subtract 27 cents.

(2) For any delivery period for which no cream price as described in (1) of this paragraph is reported, multiply the average price reported for such delivery period by the United States Department of Agriculture for U. S. Grade A or U. S. 92-score butter at wholesale in the Chicago market by 1.4, multiply this result by 3.7, and subtract 27 cents.

(3) Compute any plus amount for skim milk value which results from the following calculation. Using the midpoint in any range as one quotation, compute the average quotation per pound of nonfat dry milk solids in carlots for roller process human food products in barrels, and for hot roller process animal feed products in bags, as published during the delivery period by the United States Department of Agriculture for New York City. Multiply each such average quotation by the applicable percentage indicated for the delivery period in the following table and combine the results; subtract 4 cents; and multiply the remainder by 7.5.

Delivery period	Human food products	Animal feed products
	Percent	Percent
January	100	0
February	100	0
March	50	50
April	50	50

October	100	0
November	100	0

10. Revise § 904.6 (c) and (d) to read as follows:

(c) Plant handling and transportation differentials. The minimum prices set forth in (a) and (b) of this section shall be subject to the differentials contained in the following table for the zone applicable to the plant at which the milk is received from producers. For each country plant the zone shall be determined in accordance with the railroad freight mileage distance to Boston from the railroad shipping point for such plant. In case the rail tariff for the transportation of milk in carlots in tank cars, as published in the New England Joint Tariff, M-4, is increased or decreased, the differentials set forth in Column B for zones other than 201–210 miles shall be increased or decreased to the extent of any increase or decrease in the difference between the rail tariff for mileage distances of 201–210 miles, inclusive, and for the other applicable distances. Such adjustment shall be made to the nearest one-half cent per hundredweight, effective with the first complete delivery period in which such increase or decrease in the rail tariff applies. For the purpose of this paragraph, it shall be considered that the rail tariff on milk received at a city plant is zero.

(d) Announcement of class prices and differentials. The market administrator shall make public announcements of the class prices and differentials in effect pursuant to this section, as follows:

(1) He shall announce any change in the Class I price on the 25th day of the month preceding the delivery period in which such change is effective.

(2) He shall announce the Class II price, the butter and cheese differential, and the casein differential on or before the 5th day after the end of each delivery period.

11. Revise § 904.6 (e) to read as follows:

(e) Butter and cheese adjustment. During the months of April, May, June, and July, the value of a pool handler's milk computed pursuant to § 904.9 (a) (2) shall be reduced by an amount determined as follows:

(1) From the average price for the delivery period as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture (or by such other Federal agency as may be authorized to perform this function) for U. S. Grade A or U. S. 92-score butter at wholesale in the New York market, deduct 5 cents and add 20 percent.

(2) Divide by 3.7 the value determined as applicable to milk delivered to country plants in the 201–250 freight mileage zones pursuant to § 904.6 (b) (1) or (2), whichever applies, and subtract therefrom the value determined in (1) hereof. The result is the butter and cheese differential.

(3) Determine the pounds of butterfat in milk received from producers, which was made into butter, Cheddar cheese, American Cheddar cheese, Colby cheese, washed curd cheese, or part skim Cheddar cheese at a plant of the first handler of such butterfat or at a plant of a second person to which such butterfat is moved.

(4) Multiply the pounds of butterfat determined pursuant to (3) hereof by the butter and cheese differential determined pursuant to (2) hereof.

12. Revise § 904.6 (f) to read as follows:

(f) Casein adjustment. During the months of April, May, and June, the value of a pool handler's milk computed pursuant to § 904.9 (a) shall be reduced by an amount determined as follows:

(1) Divide by .9075 any plus amount for skim value determined pursuant to § 904.6 (b) (3).

(2) Using the midpoint of any range as one quotation, compute the average of all quotations per pound for domestic, acid-precipitated casein, in lots of 100 bags or more, f. o. b. shipment point, as published during the delivery period in the "Oil, Paint and Drug Reporter"; subtract 6.6 cents; and multiply by 2.42.

(3) Subtract any plus value determined in (2) hereof from the value determined in (1) hereof. The result is the casein differential per hundredweight of skim milk. If the value determined in (2) hereof is zero or a minus value, the value determined in (1) hereof shall be the casein differential.

(4) Multiply the number of hundredweight of skim milk obtained from milk from producers, which was used to make casein, by the casein differential determined pursuant to (3) hereof.

13. In § 904.7 (a) delete the words "handler who receives milk from producers" and substitute therefor the words "pool handler".

14. Revise § 904.7 (a) (3) to read as follows:

(3) Receipts at each plant pursuant to § 904.8 (c);

15. Revise § 904.7 (b) to read as follows:

(b) Reports of handlers who receive no milk from producers. Each handler who receives no milk from producers shall file reports with the market administrator relating to the receipt and utilization of milk and milk products. Such reports shall be made at such time and in such manner as the market administrator may require.

16. In § 904.7 (c) (4) delete the word "and" at the end of the subparagraph and change the semicolon to a period. Delete § 904.7 (c) (5).

17. Delete § 904.8 and substitute therefor the following:

§ 904.8 Application of provisions. Insofar as the provisions of this section may be inconsistent with other terms and provisions of this order, the provisions of this section shall prevail.

(a) Producer-handlers and buyer-handlers. The provisions of this order, except as set forth in §§ 904.3 and 904.7, shall not apply to a producer-handler or to a handler whose sole source of milk supply consists of receipts from other handlers.

(b) Milk received from producer-handlers. Milk of a producer-handler's own production which is delivered in bulk to another handler shall be considered as being delivered by a producer unless the receiving handler is also a producer-handler or a handler subject to the provisions of (f) hereof.

(c) Receipts from dairy farmers for other markets. Milk received by a handler at a regulated plant in April, May, June, or July from farms from which dairy farmers delivered milk to a nonpool plant of such handler (or of any person affiliated with, or controlled directly or indirectly by, such handler) on more than three days in any one of the preceding months of August to January, inclusive, shall be considered as receipts from dairy farmers for other markets and not as receipts from producers. Such milk shall be allocated to classes in the same manner as milk received from producers, shall be reported pursuant to § 904.7, and the handler shall make payments in connection therewith as provided in § 904.10 (h) and (i), and § 904.12.

(d) Milk subject to the New York order. (1) Milk considered as received from producers under the provisions of the New York order (Order No. 27, regulating the handling of milk in the New York metropolitan marketing area, Part 927 of this chapter) shall not be considered under the provisions of this order as received from producers, nor shall the provisions of paragraph (f) of this section apply to handlers subject to the New York order.

(2) Milk, flavored milk, skim milk, cultured or flavored skim milk, and buttermilk, received in all delivery periods except April, May, June, and July from a plant designated as a pool plant under the New York order shall be allocated to classes in the following manner:

(i) If received as milk or flavored milk, it shall be allocated to Class I milk to the extent that it is classified in Classes I–A, I–B, or I–C, under the New York order, except that the quantity established as Class II milk shall be allocated to Class II milk;

(ii) If received as skim milk, cultured or flavored skim milk, or buttermilk, it shall be allocated to Class II milk, except that if the quantity so received is in excess of the total quantity of the corresponding milk product classified in Class II milk at the receiving plant, such excess shall be allocated to Class I milk.

(3) All milk, flavored milk, skim milk, cultured or flavored skim milk, and buttermilk, received in April, May, June, and July from a plant designated as a pool plant under the New York order shall be allocated to Class II milk.

(e) Emergency milk. Emergency milk shall not be considered as received from producers, nor shall the provisions of paragraph (f) of this section apply to handlers of such milk. Receipts of emergency milk shall be allocated to classes in the following manner:

(1) Emergency milk received by a pool handler shall be allocated to Class II milk to the extent that it is specifically established as used as Class II milk, or to the extent that such handler's Class II milk is in excess of 10 percent of his total supply of milk during the emergency period within the month, whichever is greater.

(2) Any remaining quantity of emergency milk shall be allocated to Class I milk.

(f) Handlers with less than 10 percent of total receipts as Class I in the marketing area. (1) Milk received from dairy farmers by a handler who sells or distributes as Class I milk in the marketing area less than 10 percent of his total receipts of milk shall not be considered as receipts from producers. Such handlers shall make payments on the quantity of milk received from dairy farmers which is sold or distributed as Class I milk in the marketing area, as provided in § 904.10 (g) and (i), and § 904.12.

(2) During April, May, June, and July the provisions of (1) of this paragraph shall not apply to any handler who operates a country plant.

18. In § 904.9 (a) delete the words prior to subparagraph (1) and substitute therefor the following:

(a) Computation of value of milk received from producers. For each delivery period, the market administrator shall compute the value of milk received from producers which is sold, distributed, or used by each pool handler in the following manner:

19a. Revise § 904.9 (b) (4) to read as follows:

(4) Deduct the amount of the plus differentials, and add the amount of the minus differentials, which are applicable pursuant to § 904.10 (e).

19b. Revise § 904.9 (b) (5) to read as follows:

(5) Divide by the total quantity of milk for which a value is determined pursuant to (1) hereof.

20. In § 904.9 (c) revise the paragraph caption to read "Announcement of blended prices" and delete the words ". . . handlers who received milk from producers" in the two instances in which these words appear and substitute therefor the words "pool handlers".

21a. In § 904.10 (b) (1) delete the words "set forth" and substitute therefore the word "provided".

21b. In § 904.10 (d) delete the words "in the Boston market" and substitute therefor the words "f. o. b. Boston", and delete the words "92-score butter" and substitute therefor the words "U. S. Grade A or U. S. 92-score butter".

22. Revise § 904.10 (e) to read as follows:

(e) Location differentials. The payments to be made to producers by handlers pursuant to (b) (1) of this section shall be subject to the differentials set forth in Column B of the table in § 904.6 (c), and to further differentials as follows:

(1) With respect to milk delivered by a producer whose farm is located more than 40 miles but not more than 80 miles from the State House in Boston, there shall be added 23 cents per hundredweight, unless such addition gives a result greater than the Class I price pursuant to § 904.6 (a) and (c) which is effective at the plant to which such milk is delivered, in which event there shall be added an amount which will give as a result such price.

(2) With respect to milk delivered by a producer whose farm is located not more than 40 miles from the State House in Boston, there shall be added 46 cents per hundredweight, unless such addition gives a result greater than the Class I price pursuant to § 904.6 (a) and (c) which is effective at the plant to which such milk is delivered, in which event there shall be added an amount which will give as a result such price.

23. Revise § 904.10 (f) (1) to read as follows:

(1) With respect to milk delivered by producers to a city plant which is located outside the marketing area and more than 14 miles from the State House in Boston, 10 cents per hundredweight.

24. Revise § 904.10 (g) to read as follows:

(g) Payments by handlers with less than 10 percent of total receipts as Class I in the marketing area. On or before the 23d day after the end of each delivery period, each handler subject to the provisions of § 904.8 (f) (1) shall pay to producers through the market administrator the value determined by multiplying the quantity of milk received from dairy farmers which was sold or distributed as Class I milk in the marketing area by the difference between the price pursuant to § 904.6 (a) and the price pursuant to § 904.6 (b) effective in the location or freight mileage zone of the plant at which such milk was received.

25. Revise § 904.10 (h) to read as follows:

(h) Payments for milk received from dairy farmers for other markets. On or before the 23d day after the end of each delivery period, each handler who received milk pursuant to § 904.8 (c) shall pay to producers through the market administrator the value determined by multiplying the quantity of such milk in each class by the price applicable to such class pursuant to § 904.6 effective in the location or freight mileage zone of the plant at which such milk was received, and subtracting the value of such milk at the Class II price for such zone.

26. Revise § 904.12 (a) to read as follows:

(a) Payments by handlers. As his pro rata share of the expense of the administration hereof, each handler, except as set forth in § 904.8 (a), shall, on or before the 23d day after the end of each delivery period, pay to the market administrator a sum not exceeding 2.5 cents per hundredweight with respect to all milk which he received from producers during such delivery period, including milk received from his own production, and with respect to all milk upon which he is required to make payments for such delivery period pursuant to § 904.10 (g) or (h), the exact sum to be determined by the market administrator, subject to review by the Secretary.

PART 927—MILK IN THE NEW YORK METROPOLITAN MILK MARKETING AREA

PARTIAL SUSPENSION OF ORDER

Pursuant to the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), hereinafter referred to as the "act," and of the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the New York metropolitan marketing area (7 F.R. 2370, 9109; 8 F.R. 6327, 8589; 10 F.R. 6156), hereinafter referred to as the "order," it is hereby determined that the table contained in § 927.5 (a) (1) of the order, with the exception of the words "Dollars per cwt." and the figure or price "4.10" does not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act with respect to milk received from producers or cooperative associations of producers during the month of June 1946.

It is therefore ordered, That the entire table contained in § 927.5 (a) (1) of the order, with the exception of the words "Dollars per cwt." and the figure or price "4.10" be and it hereby is suspended with respect to milk received from producers or cooperative associations of producers during the month of June 1946.

It is further ordered, That the partial suspension order of April 24, 1946 (11 F.R. 4580), relating to the suspension of certain provisions of § 927.5 (a) (1) of the order, is hereby terminated with respect to milk received from producers or cooperative associations of producers during the month of June 1946, but such partial suspension order shall continue to remain in full force and effect with respect to milk received from producers or cooperative associations of producers during the month of May 1946.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 29th day of May 1946.

PART 927—MILK IN THE NEW YORK METROPOLITAN MARKETING AREA

ORDER AMENDING THE ORDER, AS AMENDED, REGULATING THE HANDLING OF MILK IN THE NEW YORK METROPOLITAN MARKETING AREA [1]

§ 927.0 Findings and determinations—(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress (May 12, 1933), as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (hereinafter referred to as the "act"), and the rules of practice and procedure governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR. Cum. Supp., 900.1 et seq.; 10 F.R. 11791) a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentatively approved marketing agreement, as amended, and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the New York metropolitan marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is hereby found that:

(1) The said order, as amended and as hereby amended, and all of the terms and conditions of said order, as amended and as hereby amended, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The prices calculated to give milk produced for sale in the New York metropolitan marketing area a purchasing power equivalent to the purchasing power of such milk as determined pursuant to sections 2 and 8 (e) of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of foods, available supplies of foods, and other economic conditions which affect market supplies of and demand for such milk, and the minimum prices set forth in the aforesaid order, as amended and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended and as hereby amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

The foregoing findings are supplementary and in addition to the findings made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order, and the findings made in connection with the issuance of each of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings are hereby ratified and affirmed except insofar as such findings may be in conflict with the findings herein set forth.

(b) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing or shipping milk covered by this amended order) of at least 50 percent of the volume of milk covered by said order, as amended and as hereby amended, which is marketed within the New York metropolitan marketing area, refused or failed to sign the tentatively approved marketing agreement, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the New York metropolitan marketing area; and it is further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said tentatively approved marketing agreement, as amended, tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order further amending the said order, as amended, is the only practical means, pursuant to the declared policy of the act, of advancing the interests of producers of milk which is produced for sale in the New York metropolitan marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order further amending the said order, as amended, is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who, during March 1946 (hereby determined to be a representative period), were engaged in the production of milk for sale in said New York metropolitan marketing area.

§ 927.00 Order relative to handling. It is, therefore, ordered that, from and after the effective date hereof, the handling of milk in the New York metropolitan marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended and as hereby further amended; and the aforesaid order, as amended, is hereby further amended in the following respects:

1. Amend § 927.5 (a) 5 to read:

(5) For Class II–A Milk the price during each month shall be as set forth in the following tables: Provided, That during the month of June 1946 the price shall be $3.00 per hundredweight:

2. Amend § 927.5 (a) (6) to read:

(6) For Class II–B Milk the price during each month shall be 12 cents less than the Class II–A prices: Provided, That during the month of June 1946 the price shall be $2.75 per hundredweight.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 29th day of May 1946, to be effective on and after the 1st day of June 1946.

Acting Secretary of Agriculture.

Approved: May 29, 1946.

Acting Economic Stabilization Director.

PART 945—MILK IN THE WASHINGTON, D. C., MARKETING AREA

ORDER AMENDING THE ORDER, AS AMENDED, REGULATING THE HANDLING OF MILK IN THE WASHINGTON, D. C., MARKETING AREA [2]

§ 945.1 Findings and determinations—(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress (May 12, 1933), as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (hereinafter referred to as the "act"), and the rules of practice and procedure covering the formulation of marketing agreements and orders (7 CFR, Cum. Supp., 900.1 et seq.; 10 F.R. 11791), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentatively approved marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Washington, D. C., marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is hereby found that:

(1) The said order as amended and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions of said order, as amended and as hereby further amended, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The prices calculated to give milk produced for sale in the said marketing area a purchasing power equivalent to the purchasing power of such milk as determined pursuant to sections 2 and 8 (c) of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supplies of and demand for such milk, and the minimum prices specified in the said order are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in the said tentatively approved marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

The foregoing findings are supplementary and in addition to the findings made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and the findings made in connection with the issuance of each of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings are hereby ratified and affirmed except insofar as such findings may be in conflict with the findings set forth herein.

(b) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing or shipping milk covered by this amended order) of at least 50 percent of the volume of milk covered by said order, as amended and as hereby amended, which is marketed within the Washington, D. C., marketing area, refused or failed to sign the tentatively approved marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the Washington marketing area; and it is further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign such tentatively approved marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

TITLE 29—LABOR

Chapter IX—Department of Agriculture (Agricultural Labor)

PART 1100—REGULATIONS RELATIVE TO SALARIES AND WAGES OF AGRICULTURAL LABOR

STANDARDS FOR GRANTING APPLICATIONS FOR WAGE INCREASES

On March 8, 1946, the Economic Stabilization Director promulgated supplementary wage and salary regulations pursuant to the authority vested in him by the Stabilization Act of 1942, as amended, and by Executive Order 9250 of October 3, 1942 (7 F.R. 7871), Executive Order 9328 of April 8, 1943 (8 F.R. 4681), Executive Order 9599 of August 18, 1945 (10 F.R. 10155), Executive Order 9651 of October 30, 1945 (10 F.R. 13487), Executive Order 9697 of February 14, 1946 (11 F.R. 1691) and Executive Order 9699 of February 21, 1946 (11 F.R. 1929). The purpose of such supplementary wage and salary regulations is to carry out the policies established in Executive Order 9599, Executive Order 9651 and Executive Order 9697 with respect to increases in wages and salaries and their relationship to price and rent ceilings and costs to the United States. Such supplementary wage and salary regulations designate the Secretary of Agriculture as a stabilization agency with respect to wages and salaries as to which he exercised jurisdiction on August 17, 1945. In the exercise of the authority so conferred on the Secretary of Agriculture, with the approval of the Economic Stabilization Director, the following supplementary regulations are hereby promulgated to supplement and supersede, in the manner and to the extent hereinafter indicated, but only to the extent that these supplementary regulations are inconsistent therewith, the regulations relative to wages and salaries of Agricultural Labor issued January 17, 1944, as amended (9 F.R. 655, 6011, 7378, 9641), and as revised on October 3, 1944 (9 F.R. 12117, 12611) and as further revised on June 23, 1945 (10 F.R. 7609), and amended (10 F.R. 9581, 11793).

Sec.
1100.101 What §§ 1100.101 to 1100.103, inclusive, do.
1100.102 Approval of applications for approval of increase in wage and salary payments.
1100.103 Agreements for conditional increases in wage or salary payments.
1100.104 Applicability.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1100.101 to 1100.104, inclusive, issued under 56 Stat. 765 as amended by 57 Stat. 63, 57 Stat. 632 and Public Law 108, 79th Cong., 59 Stat. 306; E.O. 9250 (7 F.R. 7871), E.O. 9328 (8 F.R. 9681), E.O. 9599 (10 F.R. 10155), E.O. 9651 (10 F.R. 13487), E.O. 9697 (11 F.R. 1691), E.O. 9699 (11 F.R. 1929), Regulations of the Economic Stabilization Director, dated March 8, 1946 (11 F.R. 2517).

§ 1100.101 What §§ 1100.101 to 1100.103, inclusive, do. Sections 1100.1 to 1100.18, inclusive, and §§ 1107.1 to 1107.11, inclusive, of this chapter (specific wage ceiling regulations, as amended), continue in effect and increases in wage or salary payments subject to §§ 1100.101 to 1100.104, inclusive, are not lawful unless the increases, before being put into effect, have been approved as required by such regulations or unless the increases are permissible under the terms of such regulations. Sections 1100.101 to 1100.104, inclusive, merely provide standards upon which applications for approval of increases in wage or salary payments subject to those regulations may be granted. Applications for approval of increases in wage or salary payments made pursuant to § 1100.11, will be approved as provided in § 1100.102. When so approved, such increases in wage or salary payments are lawful under §§ 1100.101 to 1100.104, inclusive, and the regulations relative to wages and salaries of agricultural labor. Increases in wage or salary payments approved pursuant to the regulations relative to wages and salaries of agricultural labor, the specific wage ceiling regulations or §§ 1100.101 to 1100.104, inclusive, and increases in wage or salary payments permissible under the regulations relative to wages and salaries of agricultural labor and the specific wage ceiling regulations without approval are "approved" wage or salary increases within the meaning of that term as used in the supplementary wage and salary regulations issued by the Economic Stabilization Director on March 8, 1946, and are "approved" increases for the purposes of those regulations.

§ 1101.102 Approval of applications for approval of increases in wage or salary payments. Applications for approval of increases in wage or salary payments filed pursuant to § 1100.11 shall be approved in the following cases:

(a) Increases which fall within one of the standards in effect on August 17, 1945 (except the standards relating to "rare and unusual" cases) under which application for increases in wage and salary payments were approved.

(b) Increases found necessary to eliminate gross inequities among time and piece-work rates paid under the regulations relative to wages and salaries of agricultural labor and under specific wage ceiling regulations on the same farm or on other farms in the locality. In determining whether a gross inequity exists, consideration shall be given to the historical relationship between average earnings on a weekly or other comparable basis, including perquisites, in the specific or related job classifications.

(c) Increases found necessary to correct maladjustments which would interfere with the effective transition to a peacetime economy and which are further necessary to make the average increases since January 1941, in wage or salary rates equal the percentage increase in the cost of living between January 1941 and September 1945. For the purposes of this section this percentage increase in the cost of living shall be deemed to be 33 percent.

(d) Increases found necessary to correct substandards of living.

(e) Increases necessary to eliminate gross inequities between job classifications in agriculture and job classifications requiring comparable or related skills in other activities within the same locality. In determining whether a gross inequity exists, consideration shall be given to the historical relationship between wages, including perquisites, of job classifications in agriculture and job classifications requiring comparable or related skills in other activities within the same locality.

§ 1100.103 Agreements for conditional increases in wage or salary payments. No consideration will be given to or action taken upon an application for approval of any increase in wage or salary payments which appears to be conditioned in whole or in part upon the granting of an increase in price or rent ceilings. This provision, however, shall not be a bar to consideration of an increase which is conditioned upon approval by the Secretary, or any increase which is not to be put into effect until a determination has been made by the Office of Price Administration as to whether an increase in price or rent ceilings is required.

§ 1100.104 Applicability. Sections 1100.1 to 1100.18, inclusive and Part 1107 of this chapter (Specific Wage Ceiling Regulations), to the extent that they are inconsistent with §§ 1100.101 to 1100.104, inclusive, are hereby superseded.

Issued this 24th day of May 1946.

Secretary of Agriculture.

Economic Stabilization Director.

PART 984—LEAD

[General Preference Order M-38, as Amended May 29, 1946]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of lead for defense for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 984.1 General Preference Order M-38—(a) Scope of the order. This order controls generally the use of lead. Lead may be used only for the items and purposes set forth in the order. Other restrictions may also be found in other orders of the Civilian Production Administration relating to particular articles or parts. In such case the more restrictive provision governs. In no case shall any person use, purchase, sell, deliver or accept delivery of any lead in violation of this order.

(b) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Lead" means metallic lead, lead alloys, components or products (such as, but not limited to, sheet, pipe, ingot, castings and foil), in any form containing 50% or more by weight of the element lead (Pb). It includes battery lead oxide, but does not include other lead chemicals.

(2) "Battery lead oxide" means litharge, black oxide, red lead, basic lead sulphate or any other lead chemical produced from primary or secondary lead, for use in the manufacture of storage batteries.

(3) "Refiner" means any person who produces lead in refinery shapes, and includes any person who has such lead produced for him under toll agreement.

(4) "Dealer" means any person who procures lead either by importing or from domestic sources for sale or resale without change in form, whether or not such person receives title to or physical delivery of the material, and includes selling agents, warehousemen, and brokers.

(5) "Military order" means a specific contract or sub-contract necessitating the use of lead in the manufacture of any product, or any component to be physically incorporated into such products, produced for or for the account of the Army or Navy of the United States, Maritime Commission, War Shipping Administration, Veterans' Administration or Office of Scientific Research and Development.

(6) "Implement of war" means combat end products, complete for tactical operations (including, but not limited to, aircraft, ammunition, armaments, weapons, ships, tanks, military vehicles and radio and radar equipment), and any parts, assemblies or materials to be incorporated in any of the foregoing items. This term does not include facilities or equipment used to manufacture the foregoing items.

(7) [Deleted Apr. 2, 1946.]

(8) "Item" means any article or component thereof.

(c) Restrictions on use. (1) No person may melt, form, alloy, assemble, or process any lead for use in any item or product, or in any process, not set forth in List I of this order. Lead may be used for the items and processes and subject to the restrictions set forth in List I only to the extent necessary to meet applicable specifications, or for the proper service performance of the end product, or where the use of any less critical material is impracticable or when satisfactory substitutes are prohibited in other Civilian Production Administration orders.

(2) No person shall use primary lead for any items or purpose set forth in List I if secondary lead is obtainable and usable for the item or purpose. "Primary lead" means metallic lead obtained mainly from mine ores and concentrates. "Secondary lead" means metallic lead obtained mainly from remelting or smelting of scrap materials.

(3) Manufacturing quotas are set in List I for certain of the items and processes in which lead may be used. If an item or process in List I has a manufacturing quota, a manufacturer or processor must not use, in the manufacture of the item or in the process during the current calendar period listed, more lead than the specific percentage of the amount legally used for that purpose during the base period indicated, or than the amount specifically authorized in writing by the Civilian Production Administration. These quotas may not be transferred except in accordance with Priorities Regulation 7A. Manufacturers or processors who did not use lead during the period indicated as the base period in the manufacture of an item or in a process which is subject to a quota restriction (including persons who were not in business at that time) may nevertheless apply for a quota, and their applications, as well as all applications for quotas which are individually assigned by the Civilian Production Administration will be considered on an equitable basis. Applications for quotas for the second quarter 1946 should be filed promptly with the Civilian Production Administration, Tin, Lead and Zinc Branch, Washington 25, D. C. Ref: M-38, or in any event not later than April 20, 1946.

(4) In some cases List I permits the use of lead in making a product only if the product is to be used for a particular purpose. No person may use any of these products for any purpose other than the purpose permitted by List I.

(d) Special directions. The Civilian Production Administration may at any time issue special directions to any person respecting the production, distribution, delivery, or acceptance of delivery of lead.

(e) Lead from Office of Metals Reserve, Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Any person who is unable to use secondary lead and who is unable to obtain primary lead from regular sources of supply may apply to the Civilian Production Administration to buy lead from the Office of Metals Reserve, Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Applications should be made on Form CPA-95 and should be filed with the Civilian Production Administration, Tin, Lead and Zinc Branch, Washington 25, D. C. not later than the 20th of the month preceding the month in which shipment is requested.

(f) Inventory restrictions. Lead appears on Table 1 of Priorities Regulation 32. Inventories of lead are subject to all provisions of that regulation. Inventories of scrap dealers are controlled by Direction 5 to Priorities Regulation 32. All inventory appeals from the provisions of paragraph (f) of M-38 granted before April 2, 1946 are hereby revoked.

(g) Special restriction on deliveries of battery lead oxide. (1) Beginning July 1, 1946, no person shall deliver or accept delivery of battery lead oxide for use in the manufacture of storage batteries without a specific authorization in writing by the Civilian Production Administration. This restriction applies not only to deliveries to other persons including affiliates and subsidiaries, but also to deliveries from one branch division or section of a single enterprise to another branch, division or section of the same or any other enterprise under common ownership or control.

(2) Requests for authorization to accept delivery of battery lead oxide should be made to the Civilian Production Administration on Form CPA-95-A not later than the 10th day of the month before the month in which delivery is requested. Failure by any person to file an application in accordance with this paragraph may be construed as notice to the Civilian Production Administration that such person does not wish to accept delivery of battery lead oxide in the succeeding month.

(h) Restrictions on sales and deliveries of lead. No person shall sell or deliver any lead to any person if he knows, or has reason to believe, such material is to be used in violation of the terms of this order.

(i) Appeals. Any appeal from the restrictions of this order must be by letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds for the appeal and should be addressed to the Civilian Production Administration, Tin, Lead and Zinc Branch, Washington 25, D. C., reference M-38. The appeal should contain the following information:

(1) Product in which the lead will be used.

(2) Period of time, not exceeding one calendar quarter for which relief is requested.

(3) Monthly schedule of amount of lead to be used.

(4) Prime contract numbers on military orders.

(5) If the appeal is filed because the restrictions on use of lead will prevent the filling of non-military orders of extreme urgency, give exact information as to the use of the product in which the lead is used.

(6) Why other less critical materials cannot be used.

PART 903—DELEGATIONS OF AUTHORITY

[Directive 42, as Amended May 31, 1946]

VETERANS' EMERGENCY HOUSING PROGRAM

§ 903.155 Directive 42—(a) Purpose of this directive. This directive delegates to the National Housing Agency authority to approve applications for priorities assistance under Priorities Regulation 33 (HH ratings and the right to place certified orders, generally referred to as "HH ratings") or for authorization under Veterans' Housing Program Order 1. It describes the kinds of action which the National Housing Agency will take with respect to these applications and requires certain information and reports from the National Housing Agency. Under Civilian Production Administration Veterans' Housing Program Order 1, approval of a Form CPA–4386 constitutes authorization under that order for the construction, alterations or repairs covered by the CPA–4386.

(b) Delegation of authority. The National Housing Agency is hereby authorized to take the following actions in its own name on behalf of the Civilian Production Administration:

(1) To approve under Priorities Regulation 33 applications on Form CPA–4386 which it determines qualify under that regulation, and to assign the HH rating for the dwellings covered by the application as approved.

(2) To approve under Priorities Regulation 33 supplemental applications on Form CPA–4387 which it determines qualify under that regulation, and to assign the HH rating to the dwellings covered by the application as approved.

(3) To grant requests for amendments of approved applications in the following respects:

(i) As to the plans and specifications of the proposed dwellings.

(ii) As to the time by which construction of the proposed dwellings is to be started (such an amendment may be approved even if requested after the expiration date of the original application).

(iii) As to the location of the proposed dwellings.

(iv) As to the sales price, cost or rents for the dwellings.

(v) As to the number of units covered by an application.

(4) To approve under Priorities Regulation 33 to the extent permitted by paragraph (b) (1) above, applications on Form CPA–4386 superseding previous approvals where the former builder wishes to have the new applicant replace him as builder.

(5) To deny applications under Priorities Regulation 33 which it determines do not meet the requirements of that regulation.

(6) To require builders to whom HH ratings have been assigned and owners of housing accommodations built or converted under the Veterans' Emergency Housing Program to give information and file reports concerning the use of HH ratings and other facts necessary to determine the status of the program and the effect of it upon the supply of and demand for building materials and the enforcement of the program (subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942).

(7) To investigate any alleged violations of Priorities Regulation 33 with respect to preferences for veterans or the sales price, cost, rent, occupancy or disposition of dwellings, and to refer violations to the Civilian Production Administration for appropriate administrative or criminal action.

(8) To approve or deny applications on Form CPA–4415 for priorities assistance under Direction 8 to Priorities Regulation 33 within material quantity limitations established by the Civilian Production Administration.

(c) Appeals and exceptions. The National Housing Agency may, in its discretion, grant any appeals from the provisions of Priorities Regulation 33 or any direction to that regulation except appeals which, under the regulation or the direction, should be filed with the Civilian Production Administration. The National Housing Agency may also, in its discretion, grant priorities assistance under Priorities Regulation 33 or authorization under Veterans' Housing Program Order 1 for housing accommodations covered by the regulation, even though the application fails in some respect to satisfy the requirements of the regulation.

(d) Instructions and procedures. In exercising the authority given by this directive the National Housing Agency shall be governed by Priorities Regulation 33 as amended from time to time and by any written instructions which may be given by the Administrator, Deputy Administrator or Director of the Bureau of Reconversion Priorities of the Civilian Production Administration. The National Housing Agency may issue regulations, orders, and instructions under this Directive setting up criteria and standards for the approval of applications under Priorities Regulation 33 in order to carry out the purposes of that regulation and the Veterans' Emergency Housing Program.

(e) Reports to the Civilian Production Administration. The National Housing Agency shall furnish the Civilian Production Administration with copies of approved applications and with such reports and other information as may be requested by the Civilian Production Administration for the purpose of determining the status of the program and the effect of it upon the supply of and demand for critical building materials, and the allocation thereof.

(f) Redelegations. The authority delegated by this directive to the National Housing Agency may be redelegated by it to its authorized officials or to any constituent unit of the National Housing Agency which may in turn redelegate to its authorized officials or to any department of the United States Government which may in turn redelegate to its authorized officials.

Issued this 31st day of May 1946.

J. D. SMALL,
Civilian Production Administrator.

[1] An Industrial Storage Battery means an electric storage battery of other than SLI type which has been completely assembled and sealed, whether charged or uncharged and which is designed and built for industrial applications such as, but not confined to, railway signaling and lighting, mine locomotives, industrial trucks, farm lighting, public utilities stand-by equipment, commercial radio installations, airplane and commercial boat installations and components thereof.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Suspension Order S–939, as Amended]

THEODORE G. MEYER

Theodore G. Meyer is a general contractor located at 200 Quint Street, San Francisco, and is engaged in the building of small family dwellings. On January 28, 1946, Theodore G. Meyer was authorized on Form CPA–4386, Serial No. 66–121–00098, to carry on the construction of 38 housing units located in Miraloma Park Subdivision, San Francisco, California pursuant to Veterans' Housing Program under PR–33 and assigned an HH rating to procure certain construction materials. In February of 1946, Theodore G. Meyer applied HH ratings granted pursuant to the above authorization to obtain 760,000 board feet of lumber although only 565,068 board feet of lumber were required to complete the 38 houses. The application of these HH ratings to get 194,392 board feet of lumber in excess of the amount required to meet his construction schedule constituted a grossly negligent violation of Direction 1 to Priorities Regulation No. 33 and Priorities Regulation No. 3. On February 1, 1946, Theodore G. Meyer placed an order bearing HH ratings assigned pursuant to the foregoing authorization for the purchase of 1200 doors, although only 600 doors were required to complete the above project. The placing of these rated orders for 600 doors in excess of the amount required to complete the project constituted a wilful violation of Priorities Regulations Nos. 1 and 33. These violations have diverted critical materials to uses not authorized by the Civilian Production Administration. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered that:

§ 1010.939 Suspension Order No. S–939. (a) For a period of four months from the effective date of this order, no authorization shall be granted to Theodore G. Meyer to do construction, nor shall he during such period apply or extend any preference ratings, regardless of the delivery date named in any purchase order to which such ratings may be applied or extended.

(b) Theodore G. Meyer shall cancel immediately all preference ratings which he has applied or extended to orders which have not yet been filled, except that if he has extended a customer's rating to get an item for delivery without change in form to that customer (as distinct from replacing it in inventory), he need not cancel the rating, provided the item when received is promptly delivered to the customer whose rating was extended.

(c) All preference ratings, allotments and allocations presently outstanding in connection with orders for delivery of materials to Theodore G. Meyer or placed prior to the termination date of this order are void and shall not be given any effect by suppliers of Theodore G. Meyer or any other person. This does not apply to material already delivered or in transit for delivery to him on the effective date of this order.

(d) The provisions of this order shall not apply to preference ratings placed or to be placed on orders for materials necessary to complete the construction of the 38 houses authorized on Form CPA-4386, project Serial No. 66-121-00093 and located in Miraloma Park Subdivision, San Francisco, California.

(e) Theodore G. Meyer shall refer to this order in any application or appeal which he may file with the Civilian Production Administration or the FHA for priorities assistance or for authorization to carry on construction.

(f) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Theodore G. Meyer from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Civilian Production Administration, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(g) The restrictions and prohibitions contained herein shall apply to Theodore G. Meyer, his successors and assigns or persons acting on his behalf. Prohibitions against the taking of any action include the taking indirectly as well as directly of any such action.

(h) This order shall take effect on the 30th day of May 1946.

Issued this 29th day of May 1946.

Recording Secretary.

(3) Restrictions on financing of imports. No bank or other person shall participate, by financing or otherwise, in any arrangement which such bank or person knows or has reason to know involves the importation after the governing date of any material subject to this order, unless such bank or person either has received a copy of the authorization issued by the Civilian Production Administration under the provisions of paragraph (b) (2) or is satisfied from known facts that the proposed transaction comes within the exceptions set forth in paragraph (b) (4).

(4) Exceptions. Unless otherwise directed by the Civilian Production Administration, the restrictions set forth in this paragraph (b) shall not apply:

(i) To the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, U. S. Commercial Company, Commodity Credit Corporation, Metals Reserve Company, Defense Supplies Corporation, or any other United States governmental department, agency, or corporation, or any agent acting for any such department, agency or corporation; or

(iii) To any material which on the governing date was in transit to a point within the continental United States.

(iv) [Deleted Mar. 30, 1944.]

(v) To any material consigned as a gift or imported for personal use where the value of each consignment or shipment is less than $100.00; or to any material consigned or imported as a sample where the value of each consignment or shipment is less than $25.00; or to any used material in the category of household goods imported by the owner for his own personal use; or

(vi) To materials consigned as gifts for personal use by or to members of the Armed Services of the United States; or

(c) [Deleted June 4, 1945.]

(d) [Deleted June 4, 1945.]

In addition, the Civilian Production Administration may direct the disposition and use of any material which is imported without authorization as required by paragraph (b).

(i) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the Civilian Production Administration as amended from time to time.

(j) Effect on liability of removal of material from order. The removal of any material from the order shall not be construed to affect in any way any liability for violation of the order which accrued or was incurred prior to the date of removal.

Paper, standard newsprint	4711.00	8/3/45

N. S. C.—No separate class or commodity number has been assigned for the material as described by the Department of Commerce, Statistical Classification of Imports.

INTERPRETATION 1: Revoked June 4, 1945.

INTERPRETATION 2

The following official interpretation is hereby issued by the Civilian Production Administration with respect to the meaning of the term "in transit" as defined in paragraph (a) (6) of General Imports Order M-63 (§ 1042.1) as amended.

By amendment dated December 17, 1942, the definition of material "in transit" was changed by adding the following clause, "or if it has actually been delivered to and accepted by a rail, truck, or air carrier for transportation to a point within the continental United States." The question has been raised as to the meaning of the term as applied to a case where the material on the governing date had been delivered to and accepted by a rail, truck, or air carrier on a through bill of lading for transportation to a specified port and from thence by boat to a point within the continental United States.

The material in the stated case is not deemed to be in transit within the meaning of the term as used in the order. If the material is to be carried to the port of arrival in the continental United States by ship the material must have been afloat, or an on board ocean bill of lading must have been issued with respect to it on the governing date in order for it to be considered as having been in transit on such date.

Material which has been delivered to and accepted by a rail, truck, or air carrier on the governing date for transportation to a point within the continental United States is deemed to be in transit within the meaning of the term as used in the order only when the transportation specified in the bill of lading issued by such carrier calls for delivery of the material at the port of arrival in the continental United States by rail, truck, or air carrier, not by ship. (Issued March 5, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 3: Revoked June 4, 1945.

PART 3293—CHEMICALS

[Limitation Order L-355, as Amended May 31, 1946]

ETHYL FLUID

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of lead and tetraethyl lead, both imported and domestic, for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate to the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3293.662 Limitation Order L-355—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

[1] Certain food items formerly on Lists I, II, and III are now subject to import control in accordance with War Food Administration Order 63.

(1) "Ethyl fluid" is a mixture of tetraethyl lead and other ingredients designed to raise the octane number of gasoline. It includes: (i) "Motor ethyl fluid" which is ethyl fluid containing organic chlorides and bromides designed for use in motor gasoline for land- and sea-going engines; and (ii) "Aviation ethyl fluid" which is ethyl fluid without organic chlorides designed for use in aviation gasoline.

(2) "Use" means to blend ethyl fluid with gasoline or any component of gasoline or with any other material that can be blended with gasoline.

(3) "Base period" means the three months of November, December, 1945 and January, 1946 or such other period heretofore or hereafter established for a particular user by the Civilian Production Administration on appeal.

(b) Restrictions on delivery. (1) No producer of ethyl fluid shall deliver to any person in any calendar month more than 24% of the aggregate quantity of motor ethyl fluid delivered to such person in the base period except that when a person certifies to a producer that he used more ethyl fluid than the quantity he received in the base period, the producer may deliver to such person in any month a quantity not in excess of the aggregate of 27% of the quantity certified to have been used in the base period in production of house brand gasoline and 22% of the quantity certified to have been used in the base period in production of premium gasoline.

(2) No producer of ethyl fluid may export outside the United States, its territories or possessions, in any calendar month, more motor ethyl fluid than 24% of the aggregate quantity exported in the base period except on special authorization by the Civilian Production Administration.

(3) No person shall accept delivery of motor ethyl fluid at any one blending point if his inventory of motor ethyl fluid at that point is or will by virtue of such delivery become more than he needs in the succeeding 30 days on the basis of his current or scheduled rate of operations. Persons normally receiving deliveries of motor ethyl fluid by tank car or tank truck shall not maintain any inventory except in scale tanks for blending motor ethyl fluid with gasoline.

(4) Nothing in this paragraph shall prevent the delivery and receipt of a minimum tank car, tank wagon or drum carload by any person whose inventory of motor ethyl fluid is less than 30-days' supply.

(c) Restrictions on use. (1) No person shall in any month beginning with June, 1946 use a greater quantity of motor ethyl fluid than the aggregate of 27% of the quantity used in the base period in production of house brand gasoline and 22% of the quantity used in the base period in production of premium gasoline. A person's consumption quota may be used in either house brand or premium gasoline without regard to percentage of use in the base period so long as gasoline of higher than 78½ octane is not produced.

(2) No person shall use aviation ethyl fluid in the production of motor gasoline or any component thereof, or use any gasoline component containing aviation ethyl fluid in the production of motor gasoline.

(3) No person shall use ethyl fluid to produce motor gasoline having higher octane than 78½ octane (not to reach 79 octane ASTM-D-357-45) at blending point for use in motor-propelled vehicles, trucks, tractors or boats except to fill military contracts on special authorization from the Civilian Production Administration or to produce aviation gasoline of 100 octane (A & N grade 100-130) or higher, except on special authorization from the Civilian Production Administration.

(d) Exceptions. Nothing in this order shall prevent the delivery, receipt and use for laboratory purposes of ethyl fluid in containers of one litre or less.

(e) Newcomer's quota. Any person who was not a user of ethyl fluid in November or December, 1945 or January, 1946 and who wishes to have a quota established for him to receive or use ethyl fluid in any calendar month, may apply by letter to the Civilian Production Administration, Chemicals Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: L-355.

(f) Carry-over. If a person uses less ethyl fluid than he is permitted to use in any calendar month, he may add this quantity to his consumption quota but not to his delivery quota, in the succeeding month.

NOTE: Paragraph (g) formerly paragraph (f), redesignated May 31, 1946.

(g) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected hereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the Civilian Production Administration, as amended from time to time.

(2) Appeals. Any appeals from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing with the Civilian Production Administration, Chemical Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: L-355, a letter in triplicate referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(3) Violations. A person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment.

(4) Communications to Civilian Production Administration. Communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: Civilian Production Administration, Chemicals Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: L-355.

(5) Effective date. This amended version of Order L-355 shall become effective on June 1, 1946. Order L-355, as amended May 2, 1946, shall remain in effect until June 1, 1946.

Issued this 31st day of May 1946.

Recording Secretary.

PART 1309—COPPER

[RMPR 20, Amdt. 6]

COPPER SCRAP AND COPPER ALLOY SCRAP

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 20 is amended in the following respects:

1. The maximum prices listed in the column headed "maximum prices in cents per pound of material" in section 16 (a) (2) are amended as follows:

Group No.	Grade	Maximum prices in cents per pound of material
1	No. 1 heavy copper and No. 1 copper wire.	11.50 on No. 1 heavy copper, a deduction of 0.15 cent per pound shall be made for the weight of all pieces which exceed 12 inches in width or diameter or 48 inches in length.
1	No. 1 tinned copper wire and No. 1 tinned heavy copper.	11.50 on No. 1 tinned heavy copper, a deduction of 0.15 cent per pound shall be made for the weight of all pieces which exceed 12 inches in width or diameter or 48 inches in length.
1	No. 2 copper wire and mixed heavy copper.	10.50 on mixed heavy copper, a deduction of 0.15 cent per pound shall be made for the weight of all pieces which exceed 12 inches in width or diameter or 48 inches in length. If by an analysis, other than by inspection, the copper content is found to exceed 96%, an addition of 0.1415 cent shall be made for each 1% of such additional copper content with proportionate adjustments for fractional variations of 1%.
1	Copper tuyeres	10.50 subject to a deduction of 0.1050 cent for each 1% or fraction thereof of adhering iron in excess of 5%.
1	Light copper	9.50 if by an analysis, other than by inspection, the copper content is found to exceed 92%, an addition of 0.1415 cent shall be made for each 1% of such additional copper content with proportionate adjustments for fractional variations of 1%.
1	No. 1 copper borings	11.50 subject to the deduction provided for in footnote 1.
1	No. 2 copper borings	10.50 subject to the deduction provided for in footnote 1. If the copper content in a button analysis is found to exceed 96%, an addition of 0.1415 cent per pound shall be made for each 1% of such additional copper content, with proportionate adjustments for fractional variations of 1%.
1	Lead-covered copper wire and cable.	(*) *The maximum price shall be calculated as follows: (A) Multiply the weight of the lead-covered copper wire and cable, less the weight of the lead covering and any insulation, by the above maximum price for the applicable grade of copper wire; (B) divide the resulting product by weight of the lead-covered copper wire and cable and (C) deduct from the resulting quotient 0.15 cents. This result is the maximum price. In addition to this maximum price, payment may be made for the lead covering at the maximum price established by maximum price regulation No. 70. The maximum price for a lot of lead-covered copper wire and cable may be determined by applying the foregoing computation to a representative sample.
2	Bell metal	17.25 subject to the deduction provided for in footnote 2.
2	High grade bronze gears	15.00 subject to the deduction provided for in footnote 2.
2	High grade-low lead bronze solids.	() The maximum price shall be calculated by the application of section 16 (a) (3) to an analysis, other than by inspection, of the material. As an alternative to payment on the analysis basis, the consumer, if he receives less than 5,000 pounds in a shipment at one time, may determine by inspection that the material meets the specification, but in such case the maximum price shall be 12.50 cents. High grade-low lead bronze solids which, except for the copper content or the tin content, or both, meet the specification and which, except for form, meet the specification for high grade-low lead bronze borings, may be priced as high grade-low lead bronze borings. In every case the maximum price shall be subject to the deduction provided for in footnote 2.
2	High grade-low lead bronze borings.	(*) *The maximum price shall be calculated by the application of Section 16 (A) (3) to a wet or natural analysis, after a button analysis has determined the proper classification of the material. As an alternative to payment on the analysis basis, the consumer, if he receives less than 5,000 pounds in a shipment at one time, may determine by inspection that the material meets the specification, but in such case the maximum price shall be 11.75 cents, subject to the deduction provided for in footnote 1.
2	Babbitt lined brass bushings	14.75 subject to the deduction provided for in footnote 2.
2	High lead bronze solids	(*) *The maximum price shall be calculated by the application of the following method to and analysis, other than by inspection, of the material: If the zinc content is— 0.00 to 1.25%—copper content×11.00¢+tin content×33.00¢. 1.26% to 4.00%—copper content×10.75¢+tin content×32.00¢. 4.01% or more—copper content×10.25¢+tin content×30.00¢. However, 0.01 cents per pound of material shall be added or deducted for every 0.01% of antimony below .25% or above .75%. As an alternative to payment on the analysis basis the consumer, if he receives less than 5,000 pounds in a shipment at one time, may determine by inspection that the material meets the specification, but in such case the maximum price shall be 11.25 cents. High lead bronze solids which, except for the copper content or the tin content, or both, meet the specification and which, except for form, meet the specification for high lead bronze borings may be priced as high lead bronze borings. In either event the maximum price shall be subject to the deduction provided for in footnote 2.
2	High lead bronze borings	(*)*The maximum price shall be calculated by the application of the same method as that used for determining the maximum price of high lead bronze solids to a wet or natural analysis, after a button analysis has determined the proper classification and the zinc content, of the material. As an alternative to payment on the analysis basis, the consumer, if he receives less than 5,000 pounds in a shipment at one time, may determine by inspection that the material meets the specification but in such case the maximum price shall be 10.25 cents, subject to the deduction provided for in footnote 1.
2	Red trolley wheels	12.50 subject to the deduction provided for in footnote 2.
2	Tinny bronze (phosphor bronze) solids.	12.25 subject to the deduction provided for in footnote 2.
2	Tinny bronze (phosphor bronze) borings.	12.25 subject to the deduction provided for in footnote 1.
2	Copper-nickel solids and borings.	11.00 subject to the deductions provided for in footnotes 1 and 2.
2	Bronze paper mill wire cloth.	11.25 subject to the deduction provided for in footnote 2.
2	Aluminum bronze solids	10.75 subject to the deduction provided for in footnote 2.
2	Soft red brass (No. 1 composition).	10.75 subject to the deduction provided for in footnote 2. Soft red brass which, except for the copper content or the tin content, or both, meets the specification and which, except for form, meets the specification for soft red brass borings, may be priced as soft red brass borings.
2	Soft red brass borings (No. 1 composition borings).	10.75, an addition of 0.1 cent per pound or a deduction of 0.12 cent per pound shall be made for each 1% that the copper content, as determined in the button analysis, is above 84% or below 82%, respectively, and an addition of 0.4 cent or a deduction of 0.6 cent per pound shall be made for each 1% that the tin content, as determined in the button analysis, is above 5.5% or below 4.5%, respectively, with proportionate adjustments for fractional variations of 1%. As an alternative to payment on the analysis basis, the consumer, if he receives less than 5,000 pounds in a shipment at one time, may determine by inspection that the material meets the specification, but in such case the maximum price shall be subject to the deduction provided for in footnote 1.
2	Contaminated gilding metal solids.	10.25 subject to the deduction provided for in footnote 2.
2	Contaminated gilding metal turnings.	10.25 subject to the deduction provided for in footnote 1.
2	Zinc bronze solids	9.75 subject to the deduction provided for in footnote 2.

2	Automobile radiators	8.75 subject to the deduction provided for in footnote 2. A further deduction of 0.0875 cent shall be made for each 1% or fraction thereof of adhering iron; and a further deduction of 0.25 cent shall be made unless both the top and bottom tanks are present.
2	Old nickel silver solids	7.50 subject to the deduction provided for in footnote 2.
2	Old nickel silver borings	7.50 subject to the deduction provided for in footnote 1.
2	Copper-lead solids	6.75 subject to the deduction provided for in footnote 2. An addition of .0675 cent per pound shall be made for each 1% that the copper content, as determined by an analysis other than by inspection, exceeds 52%, with proportionate adjustments for fractional variations of 1%.
2	Copper-lead borings	6.75 subject to the deduction provided for in footnote 1. An addition of .0675 cent per pound shall be made for each 1% that the copper content, as determined in the button analysis, exceeds 52%, with proportionate adjustments for fractional variations of 1%.

As an alternative to payment on the analysis basis, the consumer, if he receives less than 40,000 pounds in a shipment at one time, may determine by inspection that the material meets the specification, but in such case the maximum price shall be 6.00 cents.

[1] Whenever a reference in the foregoing table is made to "footnote 1" the maximum price shall be reduced by 1% for each 1% of the following, singly or combined: Moisture, oil, grease, free iron, dirt, pulp, and other free non-metallics. Proportionate adjustment shall be made for fractional variations of 1%.

[1] Whenever a reference in the foregoing table is made to "footnote 2", the maximum price shall be reduced by 1% for each 1% of the following, singly or combined: Adherent moisture, oil, grease, dirt, pulp, and other non-metallics. PART 1355—LEAD

[MPR 70, Amdt. 2]

LEAD SCRAP MATERIALS, SECONDARY LEAD, BATTERY LEAD SCRAP, AND PRIMARY AND SECONDARY ANTIMONIAL LEAD

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Maximum Price Regulation No. 70 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1355.64 Appendix "A": the table headed Maximum Price Per Pound is amended to read as follows:

Maximum price per pound (f. o. b. point of shipment)

Grade or type of lead scrap material:	Base price less
Soft lead scrap	0.75¢
Hard lead scrap	.75¢
Battery lugs	.85¢
Lead content of lead covered copper cable	.85¢
Cable lead scrap	.75¢

2. Section 1355.66 Appendix C, subparagraph (a) (1) is amended to read as follows:

(1) Single shipments of 8,000 pounds or more, net shipping weight (gross weight at the time of shipment, minus the weight of containers, if any.) The maximum price per pound, f. o. b. point of shipment, shall be determined for each such shipment according to the following formula:

multiplied by

the percentage of lead and antimony in the plate as determined by the purchaser thereof by a sample assay upon receipt of the shipment at his plant

Provided, That the seller may charge and the buyer may pay for the copper content of terminals of submarine batteries in addition to the maximum price established by this section, the maximum price provided by Revised Price Schedule No. 20, as amended Copper scrap and copper alloy scrap for such copper scrap.

3. Section 1355.66 Appendix C, subparagraph (a) (3) is amended to read as follows:

(3) Alternate method of determining the maximum price for single shipments of less than 8,000 pounds, net shipping weight. For single shipments of less than 8,000 pounds, net shipping weight, the maximum price may be determined without recourse to the formula stated in subparagraph (a) (2) of this section. In that case the maximum price shall be $4.45 per cwt., f. o. b. point of shipment.

4. Section 1355.67 Appendix D, subparagraph (a) (1) is amended to read as follows:

(1) Single shipments of 8,000 pounds or more, net shipping weight (gross weight at the time of shipment, minus the weight of containers, if any). The maximum price per pound, f. o. b. point of shipment, shall be determined for each such shipment according to the following formula:

multiplied by

the percentage of lead and antimony in the plates as determined by the purchaser thereof by a sample assay upon receipt of the shipment at his plant

Provided, That the seller may charge and the buyer may pay for the copper content of terminals of submarine batteries in addition to the maximum price established by this section, the maximum price provided by Revised Price Schedule No. 20, as amended Copper scrap and copper alloy scrap for such copper scrap.

5. Section 1355.67 Appendix D, subparagraph (a) (3) is amended to read as follows:

(3) Alternate method of determining the maximum price for single shipments of less than 8,000 pounds, net shipping weight. For single shipments of less than 8,000 pounds, net shipping weight, the maximum price may be determined without recourse to the formula stated in paragraph (a) (2) of this section. In that case the maximum price shall be $4.45 per cwt., f. o. b. point of shipment.

6. Section 1355.67 Appendix D, paragraph (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Used storage batteries (in boxes) drained of liquid. The maximum price per cwt., f. o. b. point of shipment, shall be $3.00.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[MPR 188,[1] Incl. Amdts. 1–80]

MANUFACTURERS' MAXIMUM PRICES FOR CONSUMERS' GOODS OTHER THAN APPAREL [1a]

This compilation of Maximum Price Regulation 188 includes Amendment 80 effective June 3, 1946. The text added or amended by Amendment 80 is underscored. Deletions are indicated by notes.

The General Maximum Price Regulation [2] provides, in general, that commodities sold by a manufacturer shall be priced at the price of a same or similar article sold during March, 1942; and lacking the price of a same or similar article, at a price to be determined by the seller after specific authorization by the Office of Price Administration in advance of the offering of the commodity for sale.

In the case of a considerable list of consumers' goods at the manufacturers' level, so many new articles which are not "similar" to an already sold article within the meaning of the General Maximum Price Regulation are customarily offered for sale as unnecessarily to retard manufacturers in their pricing.

This Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, accordingly, sets forth for these manufacturers a different procedure than that used in the General Maximum Price Regulation, although the base date thereof is preserved. By eliminating pricing by the price of a similar article, it limits the number of articles which may be priced at the maximum price of another article. But in the pricing of most new articles the manufacturer may follow self-executing pricing methods which obviate advance resort to this office.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices established by this regulation are necessary to check inflation and to effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, and to adjust the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation to the particular circumstances of manufacturers of consumers' goods.

The statement of considerations involved in the issuance of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 is issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.[3]

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, and in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 1,[4] issued by the Office of Price Administration, Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 is hereby issued.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1499.151 to 1499.168, inclusive, issued under 56 Stat. 23, 765; 57 Stat. 566; Pub. Law 383, 78th Cong.; Pub. Law 108, 79th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871; E.O. 9328, 8 F.R. 4681; E.O. 9599, 10 F.R. 10155; E.O. 9651, 10 F.R. 13487; E.O. 9697, 11 F.R. 1691.

§ 1499.151 Applicability of the General Maximum Price Regulation. The provisions of §§ 1499.1 to 1499.3, inclusive, and § 1499.18, of the General Maximum Price Regulation shall not apply to sales or deliveries by manufacturers of certain consumers' goods set forth in § 1499.166, Appendix A, of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 188. All other sections of the General Maximum Price Regulation, together with existing and subsequent amendments and supplementary regulations, shall apply to sales and deliveries by such manufacturers, and are hereby incorporated by reference into this Maximum Price Regulation No. 188.

[§ 1499.151 amended by Am. 2, 7 F.R. 8943, effective 11–4–42]

§ 1499.152 Buying or selling above ceiling prices forbidden. (a) Regardless of any contract or any other obligation:

(1) No manufacturer of an article covered by this regulation shall sell or deliver such article at a price higher than the maximum price permitted by this regulation. A manufacturer's sales of all articles covered by this regulation which are set forth in Appendix A, but which are not also set forth in Appendix C (and which are not exempted from price control by Supplementary Order No. 126), are suspended from price control for an indefinite period of time, provided the manufacturer complies with the requirements of § 1499.159d of this regulation. If a manufacturer fails to file the information required by that section, his sales of those articles are not suspended from price control, and his maximum prices are those properly determined under the pricing provisions of this regulation.

(2) No person in the course of trade or business shall buy or receive any such article from a manufacturer at a price higher than the maximum price permitted by this regulation:

Provided, That in the case of articles for which a maximum price has been established under § 1499.156 or 1499.157 of this regulation, if the purchaser shall receive from the seller a written affirmation that the seller has calculated the maximum price for the article in accordance with either of these sections, and has filed a report with the Office of Price Administration and complied with the prescribed waiting provisions, and if in such case the purchaser shall have no knowledge of the maximum price and no cause to doubt the accuracy of the affirmation, the purchaser shall be deemed to have complied with this section if the price paid is not in excess of the maximum price as affirmed by the seller.

(b) No manufacturer may sell, offer for sale, or deliver any article for which a maximum price must be determined under §§ 1499.156 or 1499.157 until he has complied with the reporting and waiting provisions of the applicable section, or an article for which a maximum price must be established under § 1499.158 until an order under that section establishing his maximum prices has become effective.

[§ 1499.152 amended by Am. 4, 8 F.R. 537, effective 1–18–43 and Am. 77, 11 F.R. 3892, 5443, effective 4–8–46]

§ 1499.153 Maximum prices for articles of consumers' goods finally priced before August 1, 1942—(a) Articles priced in March 1942. The maximum price for any article which was delivered or offered for delivery in March 1942, by the manufacturer, shall be the highest price charged by the manufacturer during March 1942 (as defined in § 1499.163), for the article.

(b) Articles priced on and after April 1, 1942, and before August 1, 1942. (1) The maximum price for any article listed in § 1499.166, Appendix A of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 as originally issued on July 29, 1942, which was not delivered or offered for delivery in March 1942 by the manufacturer but for which a maximum price was finally determined in accordance with the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation, Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 3 or No. 5 or any other maximum price regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration and which was offered for sale before August 1, 1942 (or which was offered for sale to the United States or an Allied government before September 1, 1942) shall be the price so determined.

(2) The maximum price for any article first listed in § 1499.166, Appendix A of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 by an amendment to Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, issued after July 29, 1942, which was not delivered or offered for delivery in March 1942 by the manufacturer but for which a maximum price was finally determined in accordance with the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation, Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 3 or 5, or any other maximum price regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration and which was offered for sale before the effective date of the amendment first listing such commodity shall be the price so determined.

(c) Reports of maximum prices. On or before August 20, 1942 (or in the case of sales to the United States Government on or before November 1, 1942), the manufacturer shall report to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., all maximum prices determined under paragraph (b) (1) of this section which have not already been reported in accordance with the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation or Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 3 or 5, or any other maximum price regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration. Such reports shall contain a description of the articles and shall indicate the method of determining the maximum prices. All such maximum prices shall be subject to adjustment (not to apply retroactively) at any time upon written order of the Office of Price Administration.

No reports need be filed with respect to maximum prices determined under paragraph (b) (2) of this section.

[Paragraphs (b) and (c) amended by Am. 1, 7 F.R. 7967, effective 10–6–42; and Am. 4, 8 F.R. 537, effective 1–18–43]

§ 1499.154 Maximum prices for articles of consumers' goods not finally priced before August 1, 1942. This section shall apply to articles first offered for sale before August 1, 1942, for which no maximum price was finally determined, and to all articles first offered for sale on or after August 1, 1942.

The maximum price for any such article shall be the price determined by the first one of the methods set forth in §§ 1499.155, 1499.157, and 1499.158 which applies to the article. New small-volume manufacturers, as defined in Revised Order No. 4332 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, may obtain ceiling prices for their articles under the method provided by that order instead of the methods provided in §§ 1499.157 and 1499.158.

[§ 1499.154 amended by Am. 69, 10 F.R. 13450, effective 11–5–45]

§ 1499.155 First pricing method: minor changes. The maximum price of any article differing from any article for which a maximum price has already been established, only by reason of minor changes in material, design, or construction which do not reduce cost of materials or prevent its offering fairly equivalent serviceability shall be the maximum price of the article already priced.

§ 1499.156 [Revoked]

[§ 1499.156 amended by Am. 1, 7 F.R. 7967, effective 10–6–42; Am. 54, 10 F.R. 5649, effective 5–21–45 and revoked by Am. 69, 10 F.R. 13450, effective 11–5–45]

§ 1499.157 Third pricing method: pricing by comparable articles. The maximum price of any article which cannot be priced under § 1499.155 and which is comparable to any article produced by the manufacturer for which a maximum price has already been established, shall be the price derived by the pricing formula set forth in this section.

NOTE: The meaning of certain terms used in this section is further explained in subsequent provisions of the section. The terms so explained are in quotation marks the first time that they appear in the text.

(a) Pricing formula. To establish a maximum price the manufacturer shall:

(1) Determine the "unit direct cost" for the article being priced.

(2) Select from his line of "comparable articles" for which maximum prices have already been established, two comparable articles: the one which has a unit direct cost immediately higher and the one which has a unit direct cost immediately lower than the unit direct cost of the article being priced. If a comparable article has the same unit direct cost as the article being priced, it shall be selected in addition to the comparable articles immediately above and below. If all comparable articles are either above or below, the one closest in unit direct cost shall be selected.

(3) Determine both the average percentage and the average dollar mark-up over unit direct cost for the comparable articles selected.

In calculating the mark-up over unit direct cost for the comparable articles selected, the manufacturer shall use the maximum prices for those articles, including only adjustments authorized under Supplementary Order 118, Revised Supplementary Order 119, or § 1499.159e of this regulation, or under this section. However, in the case of household furniture articles covered by Order No. 4800 under this regulation, or by Order No. 8 under § 1499.159e of this regulation, the manufacturer shall use, instead, the maximum prices of the comparable articles, exclusive of all adjustment charges or permitted increases. The maximum prices used shall be those applicable to the class of purchaser to whom he sold the largest quantities of those articles. The same class of purchaser shall be used for all the comparable articles. If the class of purchaser to whom he sold the largest quantities is not the same for all of the comparable articles, the manufacturer shall determine which of the comparable articles has the largest sales volume and use the maximum prices applicable to the class of purchaser to whom he sells that article in the largest volume.

(4) Apply to the unit direct cost of the article being priced either the average percentage or the average dollar mark-up, whichever will yield the lower price. The resulting price shall be the maximum price for sales of the article being priced to such largest volume class of purchaser. That price may be adjusted for other classes of purchaser according to § 1499.159.

In the case of all articles except household furniture covered by the orders referred to above, these maximum prices will automatically include any individual adjustments permitted the manufacturer under Supplementary Order 118 or Revised Supplementary Order 119, or any industry-wide adjustment permitted under § 1499.159e of this regulation. These maximum prices may not, therefore, be increased by any industry-wide adjustment set forth in an order under § 1499.159e of this regulation, unless the order specifically provides for increasing maximum prices determined on the basis of comparable articles whose maximum prices include adjustments.

In the case of household furniture articles covered by the orders referred to above, these maximum prices may be increased under either of the following provisions:

(i) If the manufacturer was permitted to increase his maximum prices for the comparable articles under Supplementary Order 118 or Revised Supplementary Order 119 or under this provision, he may increase these maximum prices by the percentage which he determines in accordance with "Note 3" in section 8 of Revised Supplementary Order No. 119.

(ii) If the manufacturer's industry was granted an industry-wide adjustment under § 1499.159e of this regulation (for example, metal furniture covered by Order No. 8 under that section), he may increase these maximum prices by the percentage amount of that industry-wide adjustment.

EXAMPLE OF COMPUTATION OF MAXIMUM PRICE WHEN NO INCREASE HAS BEEN PERMITTED IN MAXIMUM PRICES OF COMPARABLE ARTICLES

Unit direct cost of the article being priced.....$9.00

Unit direct costs of comparable articles selected according to (2)	Maximum selling price for each such article	Dollar mark-up for each such article	Average dollar mark-up for such articles	Average percentage mark-up for such articles
$10	$14	$4	$23 (sum of maximum prices).	$23 (sum of maximum prices).
7	9	2	−17 (sum of unit direct costs).	−17 (sum of unit direct costs).
			6 divided by $2 equals $3.	6 divided by $17 equals 35.3%.

Unit direct cost plus average percentage mark-up=$9 plus $3.18=$12.18.

Unit direct cost plus average dollar mark-up=$9 plus $3=$12.

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 77, 11 F.R. 3892, effective 4–8–46]

(b) Computation of unit direct cost. To establish the unit direct cost of the comparable articles and of the article being priced, the manufacturer shall compute the cost per unit of direct labor and materials on the basis of the following wage rates, material prices, and operating conditions:

(1) Wage rates. The wage rates applicable to any article shall be the straight time wage rates for each class of labor involved in the production of the article prevailing in the manufacturer's plant at the time the report required by this section is filed.

(2) Material prices. The prices of materials used in the comparable article and the article being priced shall be the prices being paid by the manufacturer at the time the report required by this section is filed, but not in excess of legal ceiling prices. Material prices must be based on purchases in comparable quantities from the same or corresponding class of supplier for both the comparable article and the article being priced.

(3) Operating conditions. Using the wage rates and material prices determined under (1) and (2), the manufacturer shall compute the cost per unit of direct labor and materials for an article according to the methods customarily employed by him in computing his cost. He shall compute this cost on the basis of the same productive techniques, the same labor efficiency and the same volume of production for the comparable articles as for the article being priced.

(4) Alternative method of computation by base period manufacturers. If, during March 1942, a manufacturer produced articles of the same type as the article being priced, he may compute his unit direct costs by using the following wage rates and material prices instead of those provided above in paragraphs (b) (1) and (b) (2). A manufacturer who computes his unit direct costs in this way must indicate on the report he files under paragraph (e) of this section that his unit direct costs were computed in accordance with this alternative method.

(i) The wage rates applicable to any article shall be the highest wage rates in effect in the manufacturer's plant for any substantial portion of March 1942, for each class of labor involved in the production of the article. If the manufacturer did not employ a given class of labor in March 1942, he shall use the highest wage rate paid for any substantial portion of March 1942, by the nearest employer operating under comparable conditions who employed that class of labor during that month.

(ii) The price of any material used in the comparable article and the article being priced shall be the highest price charged during March 1942 (as defined in § 1499.163) by the "manufacturer's supplier". Material prices must be based on purchases in comparable quantities from the same or corresponding class of supplier for both the comparable articles and the article being priced. If a particular material is a new material which was not produced during March 1942, the price used shall be the lower of the manufacturer's cost, or the ceiling price for sales to the manufacturer of a supplier who is of the same class as the manufacturer's March 1942 supplier of the material having a use most similar to that of the new material. For the purposes of this provision the "manufacturer's supplier" shall be his March 1942 supplier of the material, or, lacking a March 1942 supplier of the material, his most recent supplier of the material; and if neither of these exists, it shall be his potential supplier.

[Subparagraph (4) added by Am. 77, 11 F.R. 3892, effective 4-8-46]

(c) Computation of markup—(1) Percentage. The average percentage markup over unit direct costs shall be calculated by computing the percentage markup between the sum of the unit direct costs and the sum of the maximum prices of the comparable articles selected.

(2) Dollar markup. The average dollar markup over unit direct cost shall be calculated by averaging the individual dollar markups between the unit direct costs and the maximum prices of the comparable articles selected.

(d) Comparable articles. An article shall be deemed comparable to another article which although differing therefrom by more than minor changes within the meaning of § 1499.155 of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, has the same general use as the other article and is recognized by the industry as being the same general type of product, even though different materials and construction are used; except that articles for which maximum prices were established under Order No. 4332 or Revised Order No. 4332 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 shall not be deemed to be comparable articles.

(e) Reports of maximum prices—(1) Articles first offered for sale before August 1, 1942. In the case of an article first offered for sale before August 1, 1942, for which a maximum price must be determined under this section, the manufacturer shall report the maximum price as computed by him to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., on or before August 20, 1942. The report shall contain a description of the article being priced and of any innovation in manufacturing process involved and an explanation of the computation of the cost and the maximum price. It shall also describe each of the comparable articles, giving for each the maximum prices for all classes of purchasers and, if practicable, the volume of production for the three calendar months immediately preceding the filing of the report.

At any time prior to September 4, 1942, the manufacturer may offer for sale, sell, or deliver the article at a tentative price if he informs the purchaser that the maximum price must be determined under this section. In such case he must refund any amounts collected in excess of the price so determined. Fifteen days after mailing the report, in the absence of a contrary direction from the Office of Price Administration, he may offer for sale or complete the sale of the article at the price reported.

(2) Articles first offered for sale during August 1942. In the case of articles first offered for sale during August 1942, the manufacturer shall submit the report required in (1) on or before September 10, 1942.

At any time prior to September 25, 1942, the manufacturer may offer for sale, sell, or deliver the article at a tentative price if he informs the purchaser that the maximum price must be determined under this section. In such case he must refund any amounts collected in excess of the maximum price so determined. Fifteen days after mailing the report, in the absence of a contrary direction from the Office of Price Administration, he may offer for sale or complete the sale of the article at the price reported.

(3) Articles first offered for sale on or after September 1, 1942. Except as provided in the next paragraph of this subparagraph (3), in the case of an article first offered for sale on or after September 1, 1942, the manufacturer shall submit to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., the report required in (1) prior to first offering the article for sale. Fifteen days after the mailing of the report, in the absence of a contrary direction from the Office of Price Administration, the manufacturer may offer for sale the article at the price reported.

The report shall not be filed in the National Office, however, but rather in the appropriate District Office, if it is filed in conjunction with an application for an adjustment for which the manufacturer qualifies under Revised Supplementary Order 119; or if the maximum prices of the comparable articles reported were established by a Regional or District Office of the Office of Price Administration.

In the case of an article for which a maximum price must be determined under this section for a sale to the United States Government or an Allied Government the manufacturer may at any time offer for sale, sell, or deliver the article at a tentative price to such a government or agency if he informs the purchaser that the maximum price must be determined under this section. In such case, he must refund any amounts collected in excess of the price so determined. The manufacturer shall submit the report required in (1) ten days after the formation of the contract. Fifteen days after the mailing of the report, in the absence of a notification to the contrary from the Office of Price Administration the reported maximum price shall stand approved.

The Price Administrator, or his duly authorized representative may by order under this section establish maximum prices for sales by persons other than the manufacturer of an article for which a manufacturer's maximum price has been determined under this section.

[§ 1499.157 amended by Am. 1, 7 F.R. 7967, effective 10-6-42; Am. 53, 10 F.R. 4107, effective 4-21-45; Am. 54, 10 F.R. 5649, effective 5-21-45; Am. 69, 10 F.R. 13450, effective 11-5-45, and as otherwise noted]

§ 1499.158 Fourth pricing method; specific authorization by the Office of Price Administration—(a) Maximum prices. If a maximum price cannot be established under any of the preceding pricing methods of this regulation, or if the use of the third pricing method (§ 1499.157) is not feasible because of the large number of new articles for which a particular manufacturer is required to determine his maximum prices, the maximum price for sales of an article to a particular class of purchaser shall be the price in line with the level of maximum prices established by this regulation fixed by the Price Administrator or his duly authorized representative. For the purpose of this section, maximum prices established in accordance with Order No. 4332, or Revised Order No. 4332, under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 shall not be considered to be representative of the level of maximum prices established by this regulation. The maximum price will be fixed by an order establishing a maximum price or a method of determining maximum prices. The order may also establish maximum prices for sales of the article by persons other than the manufacturer. Maximum prices so established for sales by persons other than the manufacturer supersede maximum prices fixed by other regulations for such sales.

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 77, 11 F.R. 3892, effective 4-8-46]

(b) Reports of maximum prices. Before offering to make any sale for which a maximum price must be established under this section, the manufacturer shall submit a report in duplicate applying for the establishment of a maximum price or prices for his sales of the article. In the case of consumers durable goods, the manufacturer shall submit the report to the District Office of the Office of Price Administration having jurisdiction over the area in which the principal place of his business is located.

The report shall contain a description in detail of the article (including the manufacturing process), a statement of the facts which make it necessary to price the article under this section, and the proposed maximum price together with the facts which support the proposed maximum price. If the manufacturer applies for approval of a pricing formula for a line or group of related articles, he shall also include a statement of the pricing formula he proposes for such articles and the reasons why such a pricing formula will establish maximum prices in line with the level of maximum prices established by this regulation.

The manufacturer shall also submit a sample of the article being priced, if practicable. The sample should not be forwarded, however, until the manufacturer has been advised where to send it. If it is not practicable to submit a sample, the manufacturer shall submit with his application in lieu of a sample, a photograph, blueprint, or other illustration of the article being priced. In addition, the manufacturer shall submit such other relevant information to supplement his report as the Office of Price Administration may require.

Upon issuance of the order by the Price Administrator or his duly authorized representative, the manufacturer may offer the article for sale in accordance with the terms of the order. Authority to offer an article for sale and make deliveries before an order has been issued under this section, may be given by the Office of Price Administration by letter or telegram. Upon receipt of such an authorization the manufacturer may offer the article for sale and deliver the article in accordance with the terms of that authorization. Such an authorization will be given only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

In the case of an article for which a maximum price must be determined under this section for a sale to the United States Government or an Allied Government, the manufacturer shall submit the report required in the above paragraph of this paragraph (b) ten days after the formation of the contract. The manufacturer may at any time offer for sale, sell, or deliver the article at a tentative price, to such government or agency if he informs the purchaser that the maximum price must be determined under this section. In such case he must refund any amounts collected in excess of the price so determined. The price shall remain tentative until the maximum price has been determined in the manner provided in this regulation.

NOTE: Notwithstanding the above provisions, certain orders issued under § 1499.159b require the manufacturer to file a report with the National Office of the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. These orders and the articles to which they apply are:

Order No. 1470—New Metal Cots and Double Deck Beds.

Order No. 1509—Upholstered Sofa Beds, Studio Couches, and all other Upholstered Dual Purpose Sleeping Equipment.

Order No. 3145—War Bicycles.

Revised Order No. 3261—Upholstered Household Furniture covered with a fabric not furnished by the manufacturer.

§ 1499.158a Delegation of authority. Any Regional Administrator, or any District Director authorized by the appropriate Regional Administrator, may act on reports filed under § 1499.157; may issue orders under §§ 1499.157, 1499.158 and 1499.159c establishing maximum prices in accordance with the terms of those sections; and may, in accordance with § 1499.158, authorize manufacturers to offer or deliver articles prior to the issuance of an order under that section.

[§ 1499.158a added by Am. 44, 9 F.R. 14108, effective 12-4-44; amended by Am. 48, 10 F.R. 867, effective 1-27-45; Am. 69 10 F.R. 13450, effective 11-5-45 and Am. 77, 11 F.R. 3892, effective 4-8-46]

§ 1499.158b Establishment of maximum prices in certain cases. If a manufacturer is required by this regulation (or an order under this regulation) to file a report of maximum prices before his maximum prices are deemed to be properly established, or to file an application for the establishment of maximum prices, and he fails or refuses to do so or to furnish any of the information required under the applicable pricing provision, the Office of Price Administration may, on its own motion, issue an order under this section fixing the manufacturer's maximum prices which, according to the best information available to it, are in line with the maximum prices which would have been established had the manufacturer complied with the regulation or order. Maximum prices so established will be effective as of the date of first sale.

A Regional Administrator, or any district Director authorized by the appropriate Regional Administrator, may issue orders under this section.

§ 1499.159 Price differentials and economies effected by new or changed articles—(a) Price differentials. Every manufacturer shall continue all his allowances, discounts, and other price differentials in effect in March 1942. In the case of articles priced under §§ 1499.155, 1499.157, or 1499.159c of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, every manufacturer shall in the case of sales to different classes of purchasers adjust the maximum prices determined for one general class of purchaser to reflect all allowances, discounts, and other price differentials which he had the established practice of making during March 1942, or which were established for his sales by an order under § 1499.158. If a manufacturer does not have an established differential for sales to a particular class of purchaser or on particular terms or conditions of sale, he must apply under § 1499.158 for the establishment of maximum prices for such sales.

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 69, 10 F.R. 13450, effective 11-5-45]

(b) A manufacturer who desires to change any of his terms, discounts, price differentials or conditions of sale in effect in March 1942, or thereafter properly established under the applicable regulation, shall apply to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., setting forth in detail the proposed change and the reasons therefor. The Price Administrator may grant permission to the manufacturer to make the proposed changes when, in his opinion, the manufacturer has demonstrated that the general level of his maximum prices to each class of purchaser will not be raised thereby, and that the granting of such permission will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. No manufacturer may, prior to the issuance of an order by the Office of Price Administration authorizing such change, change his established terms, discounts, allowances, price differentials, or conditions of sale. Nothing in this section shall be construed as forbidding a manufacturer from selling below the established ceiling prices.

[Paragraph (b) added by Am. 78, 11 F.R. 4162, effective 4-29-46]

(c) Economies effected by new or changed articles. Wherever after the introduction of a new or changed article the manufacturer realizes savings in indirect costs and expenses because of its introduction, the Office of Price Administration will by order require that such economies be reflected in the maximum price for such new or changed article. Wherever possible, such savings should be indicated in the reports required by §§ 1499.157 and 1499.158.

[Paragraph (c), formerly (b) amended by Am. 69, 10 F.R. 13450, effective 11–5–45 and redesignated by Am. 78]

§ 1499.159a Classification of purchasers in sales to the United States Government and Allied Governments. For a sale to the United States Government or an Allied Government of an article for which a maximum price has not been determined for sales to the class of purchasers to which such government belongs, but for which a maximum price has been determined under §§ 1499.153, 1499.155, 1499.156, 1499.157, or 1499.158 for sales to purchasers of a different class, if the manufacturer had no customary differential between the class of purchasers for which the maximum price has been determined and such government or the class to which it belongs, such government shall be regarded as belonging to the class of purchasers to whom the manufacturer customarily sold the article in quantities most nearly equal to the quantity of the article involved in the sale to such government. If the manufacturer customarily sells to more than one class of purchaser in such quantities, the lowest maximum price applicable to sales of the article to such classes of purchasers shall apply.

[§ 1499.159a added by Am. 1, 7 F.R. 7967, effective 10–6–42]

§ 1499.159b Modification of provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188. The provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 as applied to certain commodities subject thereto may be modified by order under this § 1499.159b.

[§ 1499.159b added by Am. 6, 8 F.R. 1980, effective 2–16–43]

§ 1499.159c Revision of maximum prices reported or approved under the second and third pricing methods. Any price reported or established under the second or third pricing methods may, at any time, be disapproved or revised downward by an order under this section so as to bring it into line with the general level of maximum prices otherwise established by this regulation.

Such a price may be revised upward, so as to bring it into line with the general level of maximum prices otherwise established by this regulation, by an order under this section if it appears that the maximum price is below the general level of maximum prices otherwise established by this regulation and results in undue hardship, caused only by the operation of the pricing method, and not because the manufacturer is subject to financial hardship with respect to the production and sale of the comparable articles.

§ 1499.159d Catalogues, price lists, and notifications to the trade. On or before July 15, 1945, every manufacturer of any consumers' durable goods listed in paragraph (b) of Appendix A (§ 1499.166) of this regulation must file with the District Office of the Office of Price Administration having jurisdiction over the area in which his principal place of business is located, three copies of every catalogue and price list which was issued by him to the trade and is currently in effect. In addition, every manufacturer must file three copies of every notification he issues to the trade on and after July 15, 1945, concerning new prices, changes in prices, changes in terms, discounts, allowances, and conditions of sale, and changes in the model designation of any article he manufactures, as well as three copies of every catalog, price list, and other announcement by which he offers articles covered by this regulation for sale to the trade. Copies of these notifications and announcements must be filed within ten days after they were first issued to the trade.

In the case of a manufacturer whose sales of particular articles have been exempted or suspended from price control, the requirements of this section shall be deemed to be satisfied if he files with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., only one copy of the notifications or announcements described above which he issues on and after the date on which his sales were exempted or suspended.

[§ 1499.159d added by Am. 58, 10 F.R. 6590, effective 6–7–45 and amended by Am. 77, 11 F.R. 3892, effective 4–8–46]

§ 1499.159e Industry-wide adjustments for reconversion products. Special pricing provisions applicable to particular products may be established by orders issued under this section when, with respect to the product, the Administrator finds:

(a) That in 1944 its production was approximately one-half or less of its production in its last representative period of peacetime production;

(b) That this reduction in dollar volume resulted from (1) governmental restrictions on the manufacture of products or on the use of materials, facilities, or manpower, or (2) the use of facilities for the production of war goods, or (3) other direct needs of the war effort; and

(c) That because of change in government restrictions or in the needs of the war program, manufacturers of the product generally are able to begin or to increase substantially the production of the product line.

If, in the judgment of the Administrator, the purposes of this section will be effectuated, as to a particular product, without any special pricing provisions, an order under this section will not be issued with respect to that product even though the above findings could be made as to it.

Orders under this section will, generally, authorize industry-wide increases in the established maximum prices of manufacturers in those industries, based upon surveys conducted by the Price Administrator, either upon the request of the particular industry or upon his own motion. Those orders will establish adjusted maximum prices or methods of determining such prices by the use of price increase factors. Where, however, in the judgment of the Price Administrator, the use of an industry-wide factor will, by reason of the diversity in the products made by the member firms, the wide variation in cost experience among them, or other reasons, be an inequitable and inappropriate means of establishing reconversion prices, he may provide for the calculation and application of individual price increase factors.

Broadly stated, the new maximum prices will represent costs experienced during the last period of normal production adjusted for subsequent lawful changes in the level of materials prices and in basic wage rate schedules of factory workers, plus the industry's average peacetime profit margin over cost. Changes in materials prices may be measured by materials cost increase factors, determined by the Administrator, in those cases where such action may be necessary to eliminate temporary or artificial influences. In the case of an industry for which the Administrator has decided that price increase factors should be determined and applied for each firm, the profit element in each increase factor will be the firm's own base period profit margin or one-half the industry's average peacetime margin, whichever is the higher.

Orders issued under this section may also modify or supersede the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, with respect to the establishment of maximum prices, if, on the basis of the particular characteristics of the industry involved, the Administrator finds that another method of price determination will effectuate the purposes of this regulation better than the general pricing provisions of the regulation. In addition, those orders may establish new maximum prices or a method of determining new maximum prices for sales by persons other than manufacturers which will supersede maximum prices fixed by other regulations for such sales and which will be consistent with the standards applied by the Office of Price Administration for the reasonable absorption of necessary cost increases.

Orders issued under this section will not ordinarily reduce higher maximum prices which manufacturers have previously established in accordance with the applicable provisions.

A manufacturer of a product covered by an order issued under this section may not obtain an adjustment of his maximum prices under any adjustment provision other than Supplementary Order No. 118 and Revised Supplementary Order No. 119, unless the adjustment provision itself or the order issued under this section covering his product expressly provides otherwise. This rule does not apply, however, to any adjustment which may be made in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 6 with respect to any Government contract or subcontract thereunder, for the sale of a commodity essential to the war program.

Small volume manufacturers may use as their new maximum prices those which they calculate under Supplementary Order No. 118, and general orders issued pursuant thereto, if the maximum prices so calculated are higher than maximum prices set under orders issued under this section. Any other manufacturer may apply for an individual adjustment under Revised Supplementary Order No. 119 if, after the adjustment authorized for his industry by an order under this section, his maximum price still continues eligible for adjustment in accordance with the provisions of that supplementary order.

Orders issued under this section may require a manufacturer to arrange the production and distribution of his products so that they will be representative of his production and distribution in a specified past period for goods in a particular category. The Administrator may also require authorized price increases to be applied among articles or price lines in a manner consistent with the need, under the stabilization program, to maintain the production of lower-priced articles.

[§ 1499.159e added by Am. 67, 10 F.R. 10972, effective 8–23–45]

§ 1499.160 Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 shall not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of, or relating to, an article of building material or consumers' goods, alone or in conjunction with any other commodity or by way of commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying-agreement or other trade understanding, or otherwise.

§ 1499.161 Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.

[§ 1499.161 amended by Supplementary Order 26, 7 F.R. 8948, effective 11–4–42; Am. 2, 7 F.R. 8943, effective 11–4–42; Am. 7, 8 F.R. 3105, effective 3–11–43; Am. 9, 8 F.R. 3650, effective 4–2–43 and Am. 77, 11 F.R. 3892, effective 4–8–46]

[NOTE: Procedural Regulation No. 6 (9 F.R. 10623) provides for the filing of applications for adjustment of maximum prices for commodities or services under Government contracts or subcontracts. Revised Supplementary Order No. 9 (8 F.R. 6175) makes the provisions of Procedural Regulation No. 6 applicable to all price regulations, excepting those which expressly prohibit such applications, and certain specific regulations listed in Revised Supplementary Order No. 9.]

[NOTE: 2d Revised Supplementary Order No. 34 (10 F.R. 2014) permits, under certain conditions, the addition of extra packing expenses on sales to procurement agencies of the United States.]

Section 1499.162 Enforcement. Persons violating any provisions of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

[§ 1499.162 amended by Am. 77, 11 F.R. 3892, effective 4–8–46]

§ 1499.162a Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[1] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation or schedule. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

[§ 1499.162a added by Supplementary Order 72, 8 F.R. 13244, effective 10–1–43]

§ 1499.163 Definitions. (a) When used in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, the term:

(1) "Article" means any consumers' goods set forth in Appendix A (§ 1499.166) which is manufactured or sold as a distinct item.

(2) "Highest price charged during March 1942" means

(i) The highest price which the seller charged to a purchaser of the same class for delivery of the article or material during March 1942; or

(ii) If the seller made no such delivery during March 1942, such seller's highest offering price to a purchaser of the same class for delivery of the article or material during that month; or

(iii) If the seller made no such delivery and had no such offering price to a purchaser of the same class during March 1942, the highest price charged by the seller during March 1942, to a purchaser of a different class, adjusted to reflect the seller's customary differential between the two classes of purchasers: Provided, however, That

(a) If before April 1, 1942, the seller raised his prices for a commodity to all his classes of purchasers (or to all his classes of purchasers except those to which he was bound to make delivery during March 1942 under a firm commitment made before the price rise), and

(b) If during March 1942, he delivered the commodity at the increased price to at least one class of purchasers, then, in order to allow the seller to apply the price rise to any class of purchasers to which no delivery was made during that month after the price rise (except under a firm commitment made before the price rise), the highest price charged during March 1942 shall be deemed to be:

(1) The seller's increased offering price to such class of purchasers for delivery during March 1942, or

(2) If the seller had no such increased offering price to that particular class of purchasers, the highest price charged during March 1942 to a purchaser of a different class, adjusted to reflect

(i) The seller's customary differential in price between the two classes of purchasers; or

(ii) If the seller had no such customary differential, the actual percentage differential in price between the two classes of purchasers which existed at the time the seller last entered into a commitment, or, if he did not enter into such a commitment, last submitted an offering price for delivery to a purchaser of that particular class during March 1942.

[Subparagraph (2) amended by Am. 1, 7 F.R. 7967, effective 10–6–42; and Am. 3, 7 F.R. 10155, effective 12–10–42]

(3) "Manufacturer" means the person who makes the first sale of the completed article, that is, the first person having title to the article after it has been fabricated, and is ready for use, regardless of whether or not he has fabricated it. If a person purchases a completed article, and then resells it after making changes in it, he is a manufacturer of the changed article.

Example: (i) A person who buys unfinished furniture, and finishes it, is a manufacturer of finished furniture.

(ii) A buys fountain pen barrels from B; and he buys nibs from C. He then delivers the barrels and the nibs to D to be assembled. After assembly D delivers the completed fountain pen to A. A is the manufacturer since he is the first person having title to the article after it has been fabricated, and is ready for use. D is not the manufacturer although he did the actual assembly work, and fabricated the finished fountain pen, since he never had title to the finished article.

ARTICLE I—SCOPE OF THE REGULATION

SECTION 1. Prices higher than ceiling prohibited. (a) On and after May 31, 1946, regardless of any contract or other obligation, no person shall sell or deliver, buy or receive in the course of business, any Douglas fir or other West Coast lumber for direct-mill shipment at prices higher than the maximum prices fixed by this regulation, and no person shall agree, offer, or attempt to do any of these things.

(b) Prices lower than the maximum prices, may, of course, be charged and paid.

SEC. 2. What products are covered. (a) This regulation covers all Douglas fir (Pseudotsuga taxifolia). West Coast hemlock (Tsuga heterophylla and Tsuga mertensiana) and all species of true fir (Abies) lumber produced in those parts of Oregon, Washington, and Canada lying west of the crest of the Cascade Mountains, and in California and Alaska. Any such lumber produced in these areas is covered, regardless of the kind of mill or plant in which it is produced.

The regulation applies whether the particular item is specifically priced in the price tables or not, with the following exceptions:

Ungraded log-run lumber produced in Alaska and California which is covered in Section 30 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation 94.

Switch ties and cross ties, not covered by Article VI of this regulation, which are covered in Maximum Price Regulation 556—Western Railroad Ties and Wooden Mine Materials.

Mouldings, which are covered in Maximum Price Regulation 601—Softwood Mouldings.

Car strips, which are covered by RMPR 186.

Shingles, which are covered by Revised Maximum Price Regulation 164.

(b) If a mill is located in Oregon, Washington, or Canada, near the crest of the Cascade Mountains, or in California, and has customarily graded and sold its lumber under the Western Pine Association Grading Rules, it may apply to the Regional Office in the Area in which such mill is located for special permission to use the maximum prices established in Revised Maximum Price Regulation 94, instead of prices established in Second Revised Maximum Price Regulation 26. Such an application may be made by letter, and should be supported by evidence of the mill's actual practices in the past. The Regional Administrator in the area in which the mill is located may grant permission to use such maximum prices established in Revised Maximum Price Regulation 94 instead of Second Revised Maximum Price Regulation 26, as provided above.

SEC. 3. What transactions are covered—(a) Direct-mill shipments. The maximum prices for direct mill shipments apply to all shipments, other than those out of distribution yard stock, no matter who the seller is, and no matter whether he usually is known as a mill, wholesaler, retailer, or anything else.

(b) How to tell a mill from a distribution yard. The term "mill", as used here, covers what are known in the trade as sawmills, planing mills, and concentration yards. Three types of establishment are described below: The first, (1) a typical sawmill or planing mill; the second (2) a typical concentration yard; and the third, (3) a typical distribution yard. An establishment which resembles (1) or (2) more than it does (3) is considered a mill; and one which resembles (3) more than it does (1) or (2) is considered a distribution yard.

(1) "A typical sawmill or planing mill" is an establishment which is chiefly engaged in manufacturing lumber from logs or rough lumber by sawing or planing; which is located in or near a lumber producing area; which makes and sells chiefly Douglas fir and other west coast lumber;

(2) "A typical concentration yard" is an establishment which concentrates and prepares lumber for commercial shipment, which keeps in stock mostly Douglas fir and other west coast lumber, which has its lumber brought in chiefly in rough green form by truck from small local sawmills and sells chiefly for rail shipment, and which has been located at its particular site to be near the lumber producing area;

(3) "A typical distribution yard" is a wholesale or retail lumber yard as defined in 2d Revised Maximum Price Regulation 215—Distribution Yard Sales of Softwood Lumber.

(c) No quantity limits. There are no quantity limits on the transactions covered by this regulation. All direct mill sales, large or small, are covered.

SEC. 4. What persons are covered. Any person who makes the kind of sale or purchase described above, for himself or others, is subject to this regulation. The term "person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association or any other organized group, their legal successors and representatives, the United States or any government or any of their political subdivisions or any agency of any of the foregoing.

NOTE: Under the provisions of Revised Supplementary Order 44, Revised Maximum Price Regulation 26 is adopted and affirmed to be applicable to the Territory of Hawaii.

ARTICLE II—MAXIMUM PRICES AND TERMS OF SALE

SEC. 5. Basic prices and cash discount—(a) Basic prices. The maximum prices f. o. b. mill are set forth in article V—Price Tables.

(b) Cash discount. If cash is paid, the maximum price must be reduced by the seller's August 1941, cash discount. For example, if the August 1941 discount for cash was 2%, and the maximum price without discount according to this regulation is $30.00, the maximum price when cash is paid is $29.40. When a seller was not in business in August 1941, 2% cash discount must be allowed for payment within 10 days of date of invoice or date of bill of lading, whichever is later.

(c) The maximum prices in this regulation are the maximum prices which may be charged for lumber produced by a custom saw mill (or other producer) regardless of whether such custom saw mill manufactures such lumber for account of the owner of the timber or logs or for the account of the seller of the lumber.

SEC. 6. Direct-mill retail sales. An addition of $3.50 per thousand board feet may be made on a sale of less than 18,000 feet BM delivered by truck to any buyer who does not purchase for resale, where the shipment originates at a mill and the seller:

(a) Delivers the lumber to the job site at such time and in such manner as the buyer specifies. (See sec. 7 for permissible delivery charges.) Delivery by seller is not required on sales of 2,000 feet BM or less.

(b) Gives the buyer the privilege of exchanging the lumber and returning unused material; and

(c) Makes good any shortage promptly from stocks kept on hand for this purpose.

The size of the sale is determined by the total quantity involved in the transaction without regard to whether it is broken up into smaller orders or deliveries.

SEC. 7. Sales on delivered basis—(a) Rail charges. (1) Only two methods of selling are recognized by this regulation. Any other method is prohibited, as a device to evade the ceiling by manipulation of freight.

The two permitted methods are: on a delivered basis using the estimated weights in Article VII or on an f. o. b. mill basis with actual freight (figured of course, on actual weights) to be paid by the purchaser.

The two methods may not be combined in a single transaction; that is, a seller may not sell on a basis which gives him the benefit of favorable estimated weights but require the use of actual weights on items where estimated weights would be unfavorable to him. Note that sales described as "ceiling delivered", or as f. o. b. mill with freight paid or included to a given destination are to be treated as sales on a delivered basis. In such cases, the given estimated weights must be used. However, sales f. o. b. mill with seller to pay the freight to a stated destination and include it in his invoice to the buyer is a sale on an f. o. b. mill basis and settlement on the basis of the actual weights must be made.

(2) The estimated green weights may be used only when green lumber is actually specified and shipped.

(3) The transportation charge, when estimated weights are used, must be evened out to the nearest quarter-dollar per 1000 feet board measure or surface measure, as the case may be.

(b) Common or contract carrier (other than rail). Where transportation is by common or contract carrier (other than rail), only the actual cost of transportation may be added to the maximum f. o. b. mill prices established under this regulation. However, where any part of such transportation is by way of water shipments, no transportation charges accruing prior to lumber being placed f. a. s. may be added.

(c) Private truck. When shipment is by truck owned or controlled by the seller, the following amounts may be added for transportation: For distances up to and including 10 miles, $1.50 per M'; over 10 and up to and including 20 miles, $2.00 per M'; and over 20 and up to and including 30 miles, $2.50 per M'. Where the distance is greater than 30 miles the seller may charge the amount of the railroad charge at the carload rate for the most similar haul or $3.00 per M', whichever is greater. Distance as used in this paragraph, means the distance from the mill to the point of destination as measured by the speedometer. No addition may be made for the return trip. On sales under section 6 a minimum charge of $1.00 may be made.

(d) Truck delivery after rail haul. When truck delivery to yard or job site follows a rail haul, and is specified in the order, the actual cost of truck delivery may be added. This may include the actual cost of handling and reloading involved in transfer from rail cars to trucks.

(e) All-truck haul. When an all-truck haul ends in delivery to the job site, no special addition may be made above the charges provided in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section.

(f) Portland rate on delivered sales. Regardless of other provisions in this section, on delivered sales to purchasers in California, if shipment originates at a mill in California from which the railroad freight rate to point of final destination within California is less than the rate from Portland, Oregon to the same destination, or if shipment originates at a mill in Oregon or Washington from which the railroad freight rate to point of final destination outside the states of Oregon or Washington is less than the rate from Portland, Oregon to the same destination, the addition for transportation may be computed by multiplying the appropriate estimated weight as shown in Article VII by the applicable freight rate from Portland, Oregon to the point of final destination. This provision does not apply to f. o. b. sales nor to direct-mill retail sales.

(g) Government bill of lading. Where shipment is made on government bill of lading, the maximum price payable to the shipper may be computed by determining what would be the maximum delivered price on the basis of estimated weights and commercial rates and subtracting therefrom the commercial rate times the actual weights.

SEC. 8. Mixed car or mixed truck shipments. (a) A $2.00 addition per M'BM may be charged for mixed car or mixed truck shipments. No addition may be made for mixed cargo shipment without special authorization under section 12.

(b) A mixed car shipment consists of four or more items as defined in paragraph (c) below, of at least 1000 board feet each. A mixed truck shipment consists of four or more items of at least 250 board feet each.

(c) For the purpose of paragraph (b) each of the following numbered groups of lumber products, regardless of species, whether covered by this or other price regulations, constitutes a separate item whether one or all classifications within a group are loaded:

1. Boards and strips (any working not listed below), dimension, plank and small timbers, timbers and box.
2. Flooring.
3. Siding.
4. Ceiling, partition.
5. Stepping.
6. Finish and clears, thick clears, shop.
7. Casing and base, mouldings.
8. Lath, shingle band sticks (12 M pieces minimum).
9. Corn cribbing, well curbing.
10. Gutter.
11. Silo stock (when worked to pattern).
12. Shingles, shakes, any species, stained or natural (20 squares minimum).

SEC. 9. Sales for export. Maximum prices f. a. s. vessel for lumber to be exported when graded in accordance with "N" Export Grading Rules adopted by the West Coast Lumbermen's Association and British Columbia Lumber and Shingle Manufacturers, Ltd., 1929, are set forth in Article VI of this regulation. Otherwise, the maximum prices for export sales are governed by Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation.

SEC. 10. Canadian lumber. The maximum prices for lumber produced in Canada, west of the crest of the Cascade Mountains, and imported into or resold in the United States are the maximum prices, f. o. b. car at mill, set forth in article V plus allowable additions under this regulation: Provided, however, That the amount added for transportation may not be greater than if the shipment had originated at Seattle, Wash.

SEC. 11. Alaskan lumber. (a) The basic maximum prices f. o. b. mill for shipments originating in Alaska and delivered to points within Alaska or outside the continental United States shall be the maximum f. o. b. mill prices set forth in Article V plus an amount equal to freight under the Maritime Commission's published freight rate from Seattle, Washington, to the mill's shipping point including surcharges, War Risk insurance, and wharfage and handling charges under the published Seattle Wharfage and Handling rate for comparable lumber.

(b) The basic maximum prices f. o. b. mill for shipments originating in Alaska and delivered to a buyer in the continental United States who does not purchase for resale shall be the maximum prices arrived at according to paragraph (a) above: Provided, That the seller, before shipping the lumber, obtains a written statement in duplicate from the buyer certifying that the lumber is not purchased for resale and showing the location of the job site where the lumber will be used. The seller shall, prior to the first shipment of the lumber, mail one of the duplicate copies of the buyer's statement to the Office of Price Administration, Region IX, Fisheries Building, Washington 25, D. C., with a covering letter showing the name and address of the buyer, a complete description (including the quantity and any other specification affecting the maximum price) of the lumber sold, and the price charged.

(c) For all other shipments originating in Alaska the regular basic maximum f. o. b. mill prices in Article V apply.

SEC. 12. Items, services, or extras not listed. (a) If a seller wishes to sell an item which is not specifically priced in the price tables, or wishes to make an addition for special workings, specifications, services, or other extras for which additions are not specifically permitted, he must apply to the Lumber Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., for a maximum price. He must provide the following information:

(1) The requested price;

(2) A complete description of the item to be priced;

(3) The price differential between it and the most comparable item in the price tables, between October 1, 1941 and June 1, 1942, from the seller's own records, or if that is impossible, from the experience of the trade. If no established price differential existed, a detailed analysis of comparative value should be furnished.

(4) Applications under this section will be considered only when accompanied by a true copy of the order or customer's inquiry which forms the basis of the application, and a written statement by the purchaser showing that none of the items specifically priced in the regulation will serve the purpose for which the stock is to be used, and that it has been his custom to purchase lumber on these special specifications.

(b) As soon as the request has been filed, quotations and deliveries may be made at the requested price but the same shall be subject to approval by the OPA and payment may not be made until the price has been approved.

(c) In all cases where special prices have been approved by the Lumber Branch of the Office of Price Administration under § 1381.62 paragraph (g) of Maximum Price Regulation 26 or under section 12 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation 26, these special prices shall no longer apply if a specific price for the items is established by this regulation; but if no specific price is established in the price tables, the price approved under the earlier regulation shall continue in effect (except as provided in section 12 (e) below).

(d) On any sale involving a "nonlisted" price or addition contemplated by paragraph (a) of this section, if the seller, for any reason shall have failed to apply for approval of a maximum price under paragraph (a), the maximum price for the item sold shall be $15.00 per thousand board feet, which maximum price shall include all allowances or additions for grade, size, condition, special workings, specifications, or other extras.

(e) Each price approved by letter order under this section which specifies that the special price is based on, or related to, the price of a named item in one of the tables is automatically adjusted by the amount (dollars and cents) of any subsequent increase or decrease in the price of the basic item.

SEC. 13. Distributors' direct-mill sales—(a) Definitions—(1) Direct-mill distributor. A direct-mill distributor is a person who has been registered and assigned a registration number as required under paragraph (b) of this section, and who makes either a wholesale-type or commission-type sale of lumber covered by the regulation.

(2) Wholesale-type sale. A wholesale-type sale is a direct-mill sale in which the seller buys lumber from a mill or concentration yard or wholesaler and takes title to and delivers the lumber to the buyer in substantially the same form.

(3) Commission-type sale. A commission-type sale is a direct-mill sale through a commission-man. For purposes of this section, a commission man is a person who represents, and customarily sells lumber in carload quantities for two or more independently owned mills or concentration yards, receives his compensation from the mills in the form of commission based on the amount of the lumber sold, and operates independently of both buyer and seller.

(b) Application for and granting of registration as a direct-mill distributor—(1) Application. All persons desiring to operate as direct-mill distributors must apply to the Lumber Branch of the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., for, and receive, a registration number before charging or receiving the additions provided in paragraph (c) of this section. Applications shall contain all information relative to the applicant's connection with any saw mills, concentration yards or other lumber producers which may have any bearing on the question of "control relationship" as described in paragraph (c) (5) of this section, including specifically any financial interest, any arrangement for distribution of profits, any loan arrangements, family relationship by blood or marriage, past employer-employee relationship, and any other direct or indirect beneficial interest between the applicant and such other operation.

(2) Registration. Upon the filing of an application as set forth in (b) (1) of this section, the Office of Price Administration shall issue an order registering the applicant as a direct-mill distributor. The issuance of an order of registration is proof merely that an application has been filed, but does not constitute a finding by the Office of Price Administration as to the existence or non-existence of a "control relationship" with a mill. Paragraph (b) (5) sets forth when an addition may not be made by a direct-mill distributor, even though registered.

(3) Distribution yards. Distribution yards subject to Second Revised Maximum Price Regulation 215 do not have to be registered and may charge the markup or receive the commission permissible on direct-mill distributors' sales when making a direct-mill sale, subject however to all the conditions and limitations set forth in paragraph (c) of this section on a sale by a registered direct-mill distributor.

(c) Direct-mill distributors' additions—(1) Wholesale type sales. Except as specified in subparagraph (5) of this paragraph registered direct-mill distributors may add 5 percent to the basic f. o. b. mill prices established in or approved under this regulation on wholesale type direct-mill sales of lumber covered by the regulation. The distributor's addition must be evened out to the nearest quarter dollar per M'BM, or in the case of plastering or fence lath, to the nearest 5 cents per 1,000 pieces. For example, if the maximum price for a particular item is $32.00 f. o. b. mill, the ceiling price for a wholesale-type sale is $33.50. This mark-up applies only to carload quantities if shipped by rail, except that sales for resale purposes in less than carload quantities may carry a direct-mill distributor's mark-up when shipped in a pool carload; or to quantities of 5 M'BM or more if shipped by truck or water.

(2) Commission-type sales. Except as specified in subparagraph (5) of this paragraph, the f. o. b. mill maximum price on commission type direct-mill sales of lumber covered by this regulation and made through a registered direct-mill distributor is 3 percent higher than the basic f. o. b. mill prices established in or approved under this regulation. The f. o. b. mill price including the distributor's commission must be evened out to the nearest quarter dollar per M'BM, or, in the case of plastering or fence lath, to the nearest 5 cents per 1,000 pieces. The mill must allow the direct-mill distributor making a commission-type sale a commission at least equal to the excess over the basic f. o. b. mill prices. For example, if the maximum price for a particular item is $35.00 the mill ceiling on a commission-type sale made through a registered direct-mill distributor is $36.00 and the mill must allow the distributor at least $1.00. This mark-up applies only to carload quantities if shipped by rail, except that sales for resale purposes in less than carload quantities may carry a direct-mill distributors' mark-up when shipped in a pool carload; or to quantities of 5 M'BM or more if shipped by truck or water.

(3) Mill's price or realization on commission type sales. This section increases maximum prices only on sales by direct-mill distributors. The mill's price or realization after deducting a commission of at least 3 percent may never be higher than the basic mill prices established in this regulation. The mill, of course, may sell at a price at which it will realize less than its regular ceiling.

(4) Pyramiding prohibited. The price additions permitted in this section may not be made more than once to the basic f. o. b. mill price in the regulation regardless of the number of persons participating in the transaction. For example: if direct-mill distributor making a "commission-type" sale sells a car of $30.00 lumber to a yard which, in turn, sells for direct-mill shipment to a consumer, the mill's ceiling price on the sale through the distributor is $31.00 (3 percent addition) and the yard's ceiling price to the consumer is $31.50 (5 percent addition). Note that the yard cannot add its 5 percent either to the $31.00 on a purchase through a direct-mill distributor making a commission-type sale, or to $31.50 if the purchase was from a direct-mill distributor making a "wholesale-type" sale. In both cases, the 5 percent may be added only to the basic f. o. b. mill price of $30.00.

(5) When additions may not be made by registered direct-mill distributors. (i) On any sale for which the invoice from the mill or concentration yard does not contain the statement, "This mill has no control relationship with any direct-mill distributor."

(ii) On any sale which carries an addition for a direct-mill retail-type sale sale.

(iii) On any sale of less than carload quantity when shipped by rail, except that sales for resale purposes in less than carload quantities may carry a direct-mill distributor's mark-up when shipped in a pool carload; or of less than 5 M'BM when shipped by truck or water.

(iv) On any sale of lumber which originates from a mill or concentration yard which has a control relationship with a direct-mill distributor. However, where a sale is made to or through a direct-mill distributor under this section, and the invoice rendered by the mill contains the statement referred to in subdivision (i) of this paragraph, the direct-mill distributor may legally make the mark-up or addition unless the direct-mill distributor knows or has reason to know that that the mill's statement is false.

A "control relationship" includes any of the following relationships:

(a) Profit sharing, direct or indirect. This means a financial interest by a direct-mill distributor in the profits, return or realization of a mill or concentration yard, or by a mill or concentration yard in the profits, return or realization of a direct-mill distributor, and includes common ownership or control of a mill and direct-mill distributor by a third person. It also includes any arrangement whereby a distributor or producer shares in the profits of the other, whether such arrangement is written or oral, direct or indirect. It does not include such interest as arises from a genuine indebtedness of such distributor or producer to the other where the obligation of the debtor is limited in amount to repayment of the loan plus a rate of interest no greater than the maximum legal rate of interest in the State where the loan is made, or no greater than 6%, if no maximum rate is prescribed.

Where a mill or concentration yard is a corporation, stock ownership of 10 percent or less of the total outstanding stock issue by a direct-mill distributor is not a "control relationship."

It is to be noted that the section of the regulation which makes it unlawful to pay or receive any purchasing commission or other compensation over the permissible maximum prices, remains in effect. In this connection the granting of a loan on unusually low rates of interest, or in any other unusually favorable terms, would ordinarily constitute additional compensation in violation of such prohibition.)

(b) Family relationship. A family relationship exists if an owner or any part owner of a mill or concentration yard or any member of his family, has any interest in a direct-mill distributor, (or vice versa) and such interest was acquired on or after January 1, 1942. Member of a family means any person related to an indivdual or his spouse by blood or marriage within the fifth degree.

(c) Past employer-employee relationships which were terminated after December 31, 1945.

(d) Report of changes. Where a direct-mill distributor has made an application for registration and any of the facts set forth in the application have changed, or new facts have arisen since the filing of the application, having any bearing on the question of "control relationship," either before or after registration has been granted, he shall file a written report of such change or addition with the Lumber Branch of the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., within 10 days after such a change. Reports shall be deemed filed on the date received, or, if sent by registered mail, on the date of mailing.

ARTICLE III—SECIFIC DUTIES AND PROHIBITED PRACTICES

SEC. 14. Invoicing—(a) F. o. b. or f. a. s. price. An invoice must be submitted by the seller on all sales and must contain a sufficiently complete description of the lumber to show whether the price is proper or not. Any working, specification or extra which affects the maximum f. o. b. or f. a. s. prices must be mentioned in the description. The amount added for these does not have to be separately shown.

When an invoice does not contain a complete description of an item shipped, the maximum price which may be charged or paid for that item is that of the lowest priced item to which the incomplete description could be applied, but not exceeding 15.00 per M'BM on a shipment of a combination of grades if the invoice does not name the lowest grade contained in the shipment or if no grade is named.

(b) Transportation charges. In delivered sales, the invoice must contain the:

(1) Point of origin of shipment;

(2) Destination;

(3) Rail rate (if estimated weights are used; otherwise the actual amount for transportation); and in the case of the sales of imported lumber, the method of calculation of the freight addition;

(4) The words "direct-mill shipment."

(c) Delivery and related charges. Any separate charge which the seller is permitted to make for truck delivery after rail haul must be separately shown on the invoice.

(d) Direct-mill retail sale. If the price exceeds the basic mill price because of a "direct-mill retail sale" markup authorized in this regulation, the invoice must show the amount of the mark-up separately labeled "direct-mill retail sale."

(e) Distributors' invoicing requirements. The invoice on any distributor's direct-mill sale must be plainly marked "wholesaler's direct-mill sale", or "commission-man's direct-mill sale", or "distribution-yard's direct-mill sale", as the case may be, and must show the name of the direct-mill distributor and his registration number.

(f) Statements as to "control relationship." A mill or concentration yard must make either one of the following two statements on all invoices issued by it, whichever statement is applicable:

(1) This mill has no "control relationship" with any direct-mill distributor.

(2) This mill has a "control relationship" with a direct-mill distributor.

If a mill or concentration yard makes a statement on an invoice that it has no control relationship with a direct-mill distributor, and such statement is false, the maximum prices at which the lumber, covered by such invoice, may be sold by it, is 5% less than the f. o. b. mill prices set forth in the price tables. However, the direct-mill distributor who makes the addition or mark-up under this section shall not be considered as buying or selling above the ceiling prices where the mill's invoice bears a statement that it "has no control relationship with any direct-mill distributor" even though the mill's statement is false, unless the direct-mill distributor knows, or has reason to know, that such statement is false.

SEC. 15. Records. All sellers and all buyers who, in any one calendar month, sell or buy 20,000 board feet or more of Douglas fir or other West Coast lumber, must keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration records which show a complete description of the items of lumber sold (i. e., grade, condition, dressing, quantity, etc.) the name and address of the other party to the transaction, the date of sale and price for each item.

Such records must be retained for the duration of the Emergency Price Control Act, as amended.

SEC. 16. Prohibited practices—(a) General. Any practice which is a device to get the effect of a higher-than-ceiling price without actually raising the dollars-and-cents price is as much a violation of this regulation as an outright over-ceiling price. This applies to changes in credit practices and cash discounts and to devices making use of commissions, services, transportation arrangements, premiums, special privileges, tying agreements, trade understandings and the like.

(b) Specific practices. The following are some of the specific practices prohibited:

(1) Getting the effect of a higher price by changing credit or cash discount practices from what they were in August 1941. This includes decreasing credit periods or making greater charges for extension of credit.

(2) Refusing to ship except in higher grades or under other circumstances which bring the seller an extra return.

(3) Grading as a special grade lumber which can be graded as a standard grade; or wrongly or falsely grading or invoicing lumber.

(4) Making additions for special specifications, services, or other extras which are not specifically permitted.

(5) Unnecessarily routing lumber through a distribution yard.

(6) Quoting a gross price above the maximum price, even if accompanied by a discount, the effect of which is to bring the net price below the maximum.

(7) Getting a higher price by charging the buyer on the basis of ripping, resawing or cross-cutting an original size larger than the item actually delivered.

except where items ordered and delivered are not priced under the tables and footnotes. This prohibition has no application where the buyer specified the larger size to be ripped or resawn into items of smaller sizes at a total price not higher than the price for the resultant item shown in the table.

(8) Breaking up an order or apportioning deliveries in order to get the direct-mill retail sale addition.

(9) Making the buyer take something he does not want in order to get what he does want; for example, making a buyer who orders No. 2 Common take all the upper grades that develop.

(c) Adding commission to ceiling prohibited. It is unlawful for any person to charge, receive, or pay a commission for the service of procuring, buying, selling, or locating lumber, or for any related service (such as "expediting") which does not involve physical handling of lumber, if the commission plus the purchase price results in a total payment by the buyer of lumber which is higher than the maximum price of the lumber. For purposes of this regulation, a commission is any service charge or payment which is figured either directly or indirectly on the basis of the quantity, price, or value of the lumber in connection with which the service is performed.

This prohibition has no application to the case of a bona fide employer-employee relationship where the employee serves only one employer insofar as lumber procurement is concerned, and where the compensation paid by the employer is a fixed salary and is not based directly or indirectly on the quantity, price, or value of the lumber in connection with which the service is rendered.

(d) Combined grades. Lumber sold in a combination of grades may not be sold above the maximum price for the lowest grade in the combination. For example, the maximum price for lumber sold as No. 2 and Btr. is the maximum price for No. 2. It is, however, permissible to quote on the basis of specified higher or lower grades developing to be shipped at the respective maximum price for each grade actually developed and shipped, provided, that not more than a total of seven grades of any one size of the same species may be charged for on any one shipment by rail or water, or on any one order delivered by truck, without specific written authorization by the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C.

When more than one grade of any one size is forwarded in any one shipment, each piece (or bundle, if bundled) shall bear some symbol of grade identification and each grade shall be separately invoiced and the identification symbol used on the lumber shall be shown opposite the respective grade on the invoice. Alternatively, shipper may separate grades in loading and clearly identify by symbol the grade of each separate lot in the shipment and on the invoice.

If any one shipment contains more than one grade of one size and grade identification is not made in the shipment and on the invoice, the maximum price which may be charged for a shipment of mixed grades is the price for the respective sizes of the lowest grade named in the order or on the invoice. Shop grades when sold to millwork manufacturers and items priced in tables 16, 17, 18 and 19 are exempt from the requirements of this paragraph insofar as it pertains to the use of grade symbols on lumber and on invoices.

SEC. 17. Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of shipment; but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after shipment. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration having authority to act upon the pending request for a change in price or to give the authorization.

The authorization will be given by order, except that it may be given by letter or telegram when the contemplated revision will be the granting of an individual application for adjustment.

SEC. 18. Pricing rules. (a) Each order or confirmation thereof must clearly describe the items required. Where the order or confirmation fails to specify the grade required, the seller may only charge for No. 2 Common, unless otherwise specifically agreed prior to shipment, except that grades lower than No. 2 Common must be invoiced at the prices in the tables for such lower grades.

(b) No additions contained in the footnotes to Tables in Articles V and VI or in the body of the regulation, or approved under section 12 may be charged unless the order or confirmation expressly requires the working, grade, condition, service, treatment, specification, size or length for which the addition is permitted.

(c) When a specific item or items are ordered and a higher priced item or items are shipped without permission of the buyer prior to shipment the maximum prices which may be charged for the item or items shipped are the prices for the item or items shown in the written order.

(d) Where the buyer orders a random length shipment, and the given percentages of lengths as specified in footnotes to some of the price tables are not met because there is too large a percentage of shorts, the excess shorts must be priced at the separate prices for the short lengths.

(e) Where random length shipments required to average a specified length (e. g., 12' in the Board Table) fall short of this average, the price may not exceed that of the nearest shorter even length below the average length actually shipped.

(f) Where moisture content requirements are waived by the purchaser, the maximum price for the whole order, shipment, or delivery shall be the price herein established for green lumber. Where such a sale is made on a delivered basis, the seller may only use the given estimated weights for dry lumber in computing transportation costs.

ARTICLE IV—MISCELLANEOUS

SEC. 19. Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1 issued by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 20. Enforcement. (a) Persons violating any provisions of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages, and proceedings for suspension of license provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(b) War procurement agencies and their contracting or paying finance officers are not subject to any liability, civil or criminal, imposed by this regulation. Persons who make sales covered by this regulation to war procurement agencies and buyers to whom lumber has been allocated by any such agencies are, however, subject to all the liabilities imposed by this regulation. "War procurement agencies" include the War Department, the Navy Department, the United States Maritime Commission and the Lend-Lease Section in the Procurement Division of the Treasury Department, or any of their agencies.

SEC. 21. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1 licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

SEC. 22. Grades. All grade and size terms and "paragraph" references appearing in this regulation refer to, and have the meaning given in, the Standard Grading and Dressing Rules No. 12, issued by the West Coast Lumbermen's Association, effective March 1, 1943, or, in the case of export sales from the "N" list, to the "N" Export Grading Rules adopted by the West Coast Lumbermen's Association and British Columbia Lumber and Shingle Manufacturers, Ltd., 1929.

6. Materials graded according to paragraph 210 or 218 when sap limitation is waived, deduct $1.00 per M.

Lengths

7. Omitting short lengths in R/L loading 20' and shorter, add to R/L price of the same size and grade: (Applies to all grades)

8' and/or 10'	$0.50
12' and shorter	1.00
14' and shorter—Specified length price of lengths shipped.

Omitting lengths in price groups longer than 20', add to the R/L group price. (Applies to No. 1 and lower grades.)

Omitting 1 length	$0.50
Omitting 2 lengths	1.00
Omitting 3 lengths	Specified length price of lengths shipped.

Omitting lengths longer than 20' in select merchantable and higher grades within a R/L group add to the R/L group price: For omitting one or two lengths in one group add $1.00 per M to the R/L group price; for omitting any three or more lengths in one group, use specified length price of the lengths shipped.

8. For omitting any lengths in R/L groups covering more than one length bracket, the additions permitted by footnote 7 may be made only within the bracket from which lengths have been omitted but such additions to the 8/20' brackets may not result in a price higher than the bracket price for 22/30'.

9. Specified lengths up to 40'; select merchantable and select structural, add $2.00 per M; other grades, add $1.00 per M to the length group in which the specified length falls.

10. Where an average length is named in a random length specification covering one or more price brackets which include no lengths over 40', the maximum price shall be the specified length price of the average length specified.

If the specification includes lengths over 40', the price shall be the same as if no average length was required.

No addition may be made under footnote 7 in either case.

If the average specified is an odd length, the price of the next higher even length shall apply.

11. Accumulated 4', 5' and/or 6' No. 1 and higher grades, sold separately or in R/L shipments, deduct $10.00 per M'BM from price of 8/20'' of corresponding grade: for No. 2 and No. 3 charge same price as No. 4.

Widths

12. Odd or fractional widths not listed (within listed widths) add $1.50 per M to price of next wider even width. Compute footage on nominal rough measure, of the odd or fractional width.

13. Widths, wider than listed, add $1.00 per M for each additional 2'' or fraction thereof to price of widest listed width of corresponding thickness; if the wider than listed widths are odd or fractional add an additional $0.50 per M. Compute footage under this note on nominal rough measure.

Thickness

14. Odd or fractional thicknesses not listed add $1.50 per M to the next larger listed even thickness. Compute footage on nominal rough measure of the odd or fractional thickness.

SEC. 24. Other west coast lumber. (Western hemlock and true fir.) The maximum prices for other West Coast Lumber (Western hemlock and all species of true fir) per 1,000 feet board measure, where shipment originates at a mill, shall be as follows:

(a) For boards (table 1), dimension (table 2) flooring (table 5), drop siding (table 6), bevel siding (table 7), ceiling (table 8), casing and base (table 10) and lath (table 21); same price as for Douglas Fir.

(b) All other items unless otherwise specifically provided for in price tables or footnotes; deduct $1.00 per M'BM from maximum price of corresponding item in Douglas Fir.

SEC. 25. General notes. (Applies to entire article V.)

1. Additions for special provisions permitted by this sec. 25 may be made only when the special provisions are not included in the desired grade and are specifically requested by the buyer. When additions are made for paragraphs 300, 301, 302, 303, 305, and 307, the mill must furnish, with a copy retained in each seller's files, an official certificate of grade by the W. C. L. A., P. L. I. B., or any agency approved by the Portland Office of the Office of Price Administration. This certificate must be attached to the original invoice, except on truck orders involving more than one shipment where a certificate must be furnished either upon completion of the order, or at the end of every thirty-day period during the time of shipment on such specific order. This rule applies regardless of quantity, except that an order for less than 10,000 board feet for truck shipment direct to the job may be covered by mill certificate only.

When the buyer specifies inspection by his own or any other agency (which agency must have been approved by the Portland Office), the purchaser may pay the cost of inspection without adjustment of the seller's price provided the purchaser shows that he has customarily borne the cost of inspection since October 1, 1941.

II. No addition may be made for any "grain" paragraph to any grade of hemlock.

GRAIN

III. Addition for "grain" paragraphs may be made to grade paragraphs (W. C. L. A. Standard Grading and Dressing Rules No. 12 and Supplements No. 1 of September 15, 1943, and No. 2 of September 15, 1944), as follows:

Grade paragraphs	For par. 300	For par. 301	For par. 302

[1] Where a specification includes slope of grain and more exacting slope of grain, is required the charge under these notes shall be the difference between the charge permissible had the specification been free from slope of grain and the permissible charge for the slope of grain required (Example. Par. 214 requires slope of grain not more than 1" in 12". If specified 1" in 15" the maximum charge would be $1.00).

[1] The foregoing working charges are to be added to the surfaced price for same size, length and grade.

XI. Fir Log Cabin Siding.

1. All grades 1 and 2"—add $5.00 per M to the price of same grade, size and seasoning.

2. All grades 3"—add $6.00 per M to the price of same grade, size and seasoning.

3. Machine droppings up to 15% to be included at $5.00 per M less.

4. For less than 1 M board measure—add set-up charge of $5.00.

XII. All prices are based on one thousand feet board measure, except for lath and pickets which are based on one thousand pieces. The board measure of dressed lumber is based upon the corresponding dimensions of rough green lumber. No lumber is sold on less than one inch count unless otherwise specifically stated.

XIII. (Revoked.)

XIV. No charge may be made for "hit or miss" dressing. Where charge is established in any table for surfacing ¼" off or for Industrial Standard sizes, such charge is the maximum addition that may be made to the A. L. S. surfaced price for any surfacing thicker or wider than A. L. S. sizes. If a table does not provide a charge for surfacing ¼" off or to Industrial Standard sizes, an addition of $2.00 per M'BM may be made for surfacing thicker or wider than A. L. S., only if the table charge for surfacing is specifically for American Lumber Standard sizes. This addition may not be made for hit and miss surfacing, or when machine is set for both width and thickness to full nominal rough size shown in W. C. L. A. Grading and Dressing Rules No. 12.

XV. Grade definitions.

1. "E" Grade. This Grade covers the "droppings" from "D" which would otherwise be wasted, and covers flooring, ceiling, drop-siding, rustic, shiplap, and finish.

The grade will admit the following defects which will not seriously impair the lumber for the use intended with a trim waste not to exceed 25%.

Splits, checks and shake	Not serious.
Tongue and groove	Scant.
Skips	H and M.
Stain	White specks.
Rot	Small spots.
Worm holes
Pitch pockets	Large.

Knot holes, wane and other defects that do not prevent use as cheap flooring, sheathing, finish, etc., in 4' lengths and longer.

2. No. 4. This grade covers the down-fall from 1" and thicker No. 3 which would otherwise be wasted. It may be either rough or surfaced. The defects which include splits, checks, shake, skips, rot, stain, worm holes, pitch pockets, knot holes, wane or other defects which in combination will not impair the lumber for the purpose intended.

3. Shims. Shims are boards that are too thin to be surfaced to standard sizes. They may be of such thicknesses as will surface to 7/16", ½", 9/16", ⅝", or 11/16", H & M, or rough if full thickness. Shims are graded as No. 3 and better or according to the grading rules applying to the similar grade of standard size boards.

XVI. For bundling: add $1.00 per M to tables 1 and 2 only.

XVII. For stenciling when required by the buyer, on 10 percent or more pieces, bundles or packages, of any shipment, to an extent beyond grade marking and/or the simple identification of pieces or lots, add fifty cents per M feet to price of items on which stenciling is required. This charge may not be made for grade marking or for grade or lot identification even though a stencil is employed for such marking.

XVIII. Where a footnote under one price table requires the use of a price from another table, then such other table from which the price is obtained shall govern in all respects, including applicable footnotes.

XIX. All rough lumber shall be of sufficient width and thickness to permit dressing S4S to American Lumber Standards.

XX. For any surfacing that does not remove the item surfaced from being classified as rough lumber, insofar as the table of estimated weights is concerned, no charge may be made for surfacing if rough weight is used. Alternatively, mill may charge for surfacing (where table permits) but in doing so, freight charges must be estimated on net surfaced size under "Shipping Weight Formula for Sizes Not Listed."

XXI. (a) No part of the price addition provided in any price table may be charged for the following grades except for direct-mill shipment (see sec. 3 (a)) and only where final delivery is to industries herein designated: Paragraph 284 (barge framing), paragraph 285 (barge planking and decking,) paragraph 287 (ship plank), and paragraphs 288 and 289 (scaffold plank) to shipyard operations, builders or repairers of ships, barges or other water transportation equipment; paragraphs 288 and 289 (scaffold plank) to railroad car builders, railroad car and equipment repair shops, railroad companies, of producers and refiners of crude oil.

(b) The prices in table 13, ladder stock (paragraph 295) are applicable only on direct-mill shipment (see sec. 3 (a)) and where final delivery is to ladder manufacturers or ladder repair shops.

(c) No part of the price addition provided in any price table for paragraph 296 (pole stock) may be charged except for direct-mill shipment (see sec. 3 (a)) and only when final delivery is to manufacturers of agricultural implements.

(d) No part of the price addition provided in any price table for paragraphs 292, 294 and 294.1 may be charged except for direct-mill shipment (see sec. 3 (a)) and only where final delivery is to manufacturers of tanks or other containers historically requiring the use of tank or pipe stave stock grades.

(e) Exceptions to this note XXI may, when warranted, be granted upon direct application by the prospective purchaser to the Lumber Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C.

XXII. (a) For open car loading when required by buyer and when material is of a type ordinarily loaded in box cars, a charge of $7.50 per car may be made including the cost of stakes and all other material required to firmly secure the load. Timber 6" thick, wider than 8", and all timbers thicker than 6" are not subject to this charge.

(b) When the conditions in paragraph (a) above are met and where in addition to open car loading the buyer requires packaging in sling-lots or otherwise whereby the load is divided into individual parcels for the purpose of facilitating mechanical unloading, an additional charge of $6.50 per car may be made to cover the cost of all labor and materials used in so packaging.

(c) No payment may be made by the buyer under this note when cars of lumber are routed through a custom mill.

XXIII. Where purchases are made in random widths and/or thicknesses, shipments may be invoiced at appropriate table prices for the individual widths and thicknesses actually shipped.

XXIV. Where odd or fractional lengths are not priced in tables or footnotes and such lengths are required the prospective purchaser must make application under section 12 (a) (2). If authorization is granted it will be to the effect that odd or fractional lengths (within the range of lengths covered by any table) may be priced the same as the next longer even length and footage computed on next longer even length.

ARTICLE VI—PRICE TABLES FOR EXPORT—"N" LIST

Shipments of Douglas fir and other West Coast Lumber originating at a mill, sold for export to or for a destination outside the Continental United States (except Canada and the territories and possessions of the United States, exclusive of the Philippine Islands) including sales or shipments in the course of being exported from the United States or any territory thereof to any foreign nation, may be graded in accordance with "N" Export Grading Rules adopted by the West Coast Lumbermen's Association and British Columbia Lumber and Shingle Manufacturers, Ltd., 1929, and sold at maximum prices to be determined as follows:

1. Where delivery is made f. a. s. vessel at mill's customary loading point, use the prices in the following tables. (All transportation costs and other charges (if any) incident to placing lumber f. a. s. vessel at mill's customary deep-water loading point are for the account of the mill.)

2. Where delivery is made at a point other than mill's customary deep-water loading point (for inland mills this means nearest deep-water loading point), the maximum price is arrived at as follows: Deduct from the prices in the following tables $2.50 per M'BM plus transportation cost to customary deep-water loading point; then add actual transportation costs necessary to place lumber f. o. b. car f. o. b. barge or f. a. s. vessel at such non-customary loading point, and, if delivered f. a. s. vessel an additional $2.50 per M'BM.

Chapter XVIII—Office of Economic Stabilization

[Directive 114]

DAIRY PRODUCTS

It has become apparent, because of the increased price of grains and protein feeds announced on May 8, 1946, in order to aid in the alleviation of famine abroad, that the program announced on April 15, 1946, with respect to increased returns to dairy farmers must be modified at this time. The increased costs of grain and feed make it necessary to take steps to increase dairy farmer returns in addition to those which were announced in April to be effective on July 1, 1946. It is also now clear that any further increases in dairy farmer returns should be brought about by price increases, since additional subsidy funds will undoubtedly not be available. The increased prices required by these changed conditions will also require increases in the retail prices of fluid milk and in prices of many manufactured dairy products. These secondary increases will also aid in bringing dairy product prices into appropriate relationship with each other and with other products. Finally, the volume of milk and dairy product production is such that it is necessary, in order to insure the most effective utilization of dairy products, that controls over the use of butterfat and over milk and cream sold for manufacturing purposes be established.

Accordingly, pursuant to the authority vested in me by the Stabilization Act of 1942, as amended, and by Executive Order 9250 of October 3, 1942 (7 F.R. 7871), Executive Order 9328 of April 8, 1943 (8 F.R. 4681), Executive Order 9599 of August 18, 1945 (10 F.R. 10155), Executive Order 9651 of October 30, 1945 (10 F.R. 13487), Executive Order 9697 of February 14, 1946 (11 F.R. 1691), and Executive Order 9699 of February 21, 1946 (11 F.R. 1929), It is hereby ordered:

1. Effective June 1, 1946, or as soon thereafter as practicable, the Price Administrator and the Secretary of Agriculture shall take the following steps with respect to maximum prices for milk and dairy products:

A. (1) Maximum prices to producers of milk for fluid uses under MPR 329 shall be increased by the following amounts:

(a) Where ceilings are established on a per hundredweight basis: 40 cents per hundredweight.

(b) Where ceilings are established on a gallonage basis: 4 cents per gallon.

(c) Where ceilings are established on a butterfat basis: 10.5 cents per pound butterfat.

In federal order markets the adjustment of maximum prices under MPR 329 shall correspond to the adjustment of Class I prices under the applicable market order formula.

(2) Wholesale and retail prices of fluid milk shall be increased by one cent per quart, and corresponding adjustments shall be made in prices of containers of other sizes. Appropriate provision shall be made for adjustment of wholesale and retail prices in federal order markets.

(3) Prices at wholesale and retail of buttermilk, cream other than in bulk, cottage cheese, and similar products shall be increased in proportion to the increase in other prices authorized under this directive to the extent required by applicable pricing standards.

(4) The increases herein authorized shall not be made in the states of Arizona and New Mexico. Increases in the West Texas, Memphis, Tennessee, Western Oregon and Western Washington areas shall be one-half the increase herein authorized.

B. (1) Maximum prices shall be established for sales of bulk fluid cream by either a purchaser of farm separated cream, a processor who separates milk, or a processor who has purchased from a purchaser of farm separated cream. Such prices shall be established on the principle that they will not exceed the highest price charged during the period May 1–May 15, 1946. In addition, dollars and cents overriding maximum prices shall be established. The overriding price shall be 77 cents per pound butterfat f. o. b. seller's place of business in a zone comprising the major producing north central states, and appropriate differentials shall be established in other areas. In no case shall maximum prices be established under this paragraph lower than 63 cents per pound butterfat.

(2) Maximum prices shall not be established at this time for sales of cream manufactured from milk subject to pricing under federal market orders. However, maximum prices shall be established for such sales if the price of milk used for cream production rises above the levels fixed by the applicable federal market order.

(3) Margins of handlers of bulk cream shall be frozen at the levels in effect during the period May 1–May 15, 1946.

C. Manufacturer's maximum prices for butter shall be increased by 10 cents per pound. In addition, these prices shall be increased monthly, during the period August 1, 1946 through January 31, 1947, by amounts representing storage costs during these months. Such storage increases shall be deducted from the maximum price on February 1, 1947.

D. The price of cheddar cheese shall be increased 5 cents per pound to the manufacturer. No other type of cheese shall be increased except where necessary to prevent hardship.

E. Evaporated milk prices to the processor shall be increased by 35 cents per case for both government and civilian sales.

F. Maximum prices shall be established for the purchase of milk for manufacturing purposes in all areas, and shall be based on the principle of freezing prices at the November 1945 average paying price plus 40 cents for milk of 3.5 per cent butterfat or equivalent. However, prices for purchasers in Zone I of the evaporated milk pricing schedule shall be established at no less than $3.00 and no more than $3.20 per hundredweight of milk of 3.5 per cent butterfat and in other zones where the processing of milk is important in milk usage, appropriate differentials shall be established.

G. Maximum prices of other dairy products such as condensed whole milk, whole milk powder, malted milk, baby foods made from milk and dry ice cream mix shall not be increased except where necessary to relieve hardship.

H. Ice cream manufacturers shall be permitted to reduce the butterfat content of ice cream by 2.5 percentage points without corresponding reduction in maximum prices, subject to the condition that the butterfat saved by such reduction shall not be used in expanded gallonage. It is understood that the power necessary to ensure the requisite restriction on expanded gallonange will be delegated to the Price Administrator by the Secretary.

I. The Price Administrator shall, with respect to any price increase authorized by this directive, take all necessary steps to avoid inventory windfalls resulting from the price increases.

2. The Secretary of Agriculture shall take the following steps with respect to limitation of production and use of certain dairy products.

A. Effective July 1, 1946, the Secretary shall prohibit all sales of whipping cream or of other cream containing 19% or more butterfat.

B. Effective June 1, 1946, or as soon thereafter as practicable, the Secretary shall issue appropriate orders limiting monthly sale, shipment or movement into storage of cream by or on behalf of any plant which separates cream from milk or buys cream from farmers or cream stations. Such orders shall limit the described movements of cream during the period from the effective date of the orders to August 31, 1946, to the amount of cream and to the proportion of cream (expressed as total butterfat in milk or cream) sold or shipped during the corresponding month of the 3-month period ending August 31, 1945. Before August 1, 1946, the Secretary shall recommend to the Director the limitations which should be placed on these movements of cream after September 1, 1946. Such recommendations shall be based on the principle of limiting cream movements to those representative of a normal period of relative cream utilization.

Appropriate provision shall be made to prevent evasion of the limitation orders provided for by this paragraph by use of "agency" devices, or by similar evasive arrangements.

C. Effective June 1, 1946, or as soon thereafter as practicable, the Secretary shall issue appropriate orders limiting the amount of butterfat which may be used in the production of cream cheese and soup to the amounts used during the corresponding quarter of the 12-month period ending July 31, 1945. Such orders shall contain any necessary provisions restricting output of these commodities in order to insure reduction in total amounts of butterfat used in these products.

Issued and effective this 29th day of May 1946.

CHESTER BOWLES,
Director.

Chapter I—Fish and Wildlife Service, Department of the Interior

[General Direction 46 H 12]

PART 298—PRODUCTION OF FISHERY COMMODITIES OR PRODUCTS

ALLOCATION OF HALIBUT; CONTROL OF RATE OF BUYING

Pursuant to Order No. 1956 of the Secretary of the Interior, as amended April 23, 1946, commonly referred to as the "Halibut Order", 50 CFR 298.4 entitled "Allocation of Halibut", and in order to accomplish the purposes thereof, this General Direction No. 46 H 12 is issued.

1. In each port where the Fish and Wildlife Service employs a port supervisor he will control the rate of buying by each dealer at that port. This control will be exercised in such a manner as to assure each dealer in the port that he will receive, as nearly as practical, his poundage of halibut at that port in the same ratio as all other dealers receive their poundages at that port. Poundages are based on expected port landings, are allocated by the Area Coordinator, and are set out on permits issued pursuant to the Halibut Order. All dealers at a port should complete their purchases at approximately the same time.

2. If actual landings at any port are less than expected, dealers at that port should request the Area Coordinator to issue permits to them at other ports or to amend such permits to make up for the deficiency. If actual landings at any port are greater than expected, the surplus at that port will be assigned to dealers with deficiencies at other ports so that the requirements of the over-all halibut allocation program will be fulfilled.

3. If a dealer refuses or is unable to accept and unload a halibut trip offered to him by a port supervisor he must unload a vessel if offered to him on the next business day or forfeit the poundage of halibut on the latter trip by having that poundage charged to his over-all allocation as well as to his allocation at the port. No load will be considered offered to a dealer on any particular day unless the vessel is at the dealer's dock ready for unloading by an hour in the day recognized by custom in the port or indicated by reasonable consideration of all the circumstances as the hour when a dealer should be expected to receive and unload a halibut trip.

4. This order supersedes General Direction No. H 12 dated June 21, 1945, which is hereby revoked.

Issued this 24th day of May 1946.

1. Adequate facilities are required of each applicant and no permit will be issued to any applicant seeking to establish eligibility through the use of any receiving equipment belonging to the holder of a valid permit.

2. The permit of any person who allows the use of his receiving equipment by another permittee will be canceled unless the prior consent of the Area Coordinator has been obtained.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION.

BROADCAST STATION WHBQ,[1] MEMPHIS, TENN.

PUBLIC NOTICE CONCERNING PROPOSED ASSIGNMENT OF LICENSE

The Commission hereby gives notice that on May 17, 1946, there was filed with it an application (B3-AL-534) for its consent under section 310 (b) of the Communications Act (47 U.S.C.A. 310) to the proposed assignment of license of standard broadcast station WHBQ, Memphis, Tennessee from WHBQ, Inc. to Harding College, Searcy, Arkansas. The proposal to assign said license is based upon an agreement between the stockholders of licensee and the proposed assignee dated April 20, 1946, pursuant to which the former would sell to the latter all of the 1,000 shares outstanding of the common capital stock of the licensee for $300 per share. Purchaser is to pay $25,000 in earnest and the remainder of the $300,000 purchase price is to be paid on a date to be fixed by mutual agreement between the parties not less than five days after notification that the matter has been approved by this Commission, when all the stock is to be transferred. The arrangements between the parties call for subsequent dissolution of the licensee and transfer of the station's assets and properties to Harding College. Further details as to the arrangements may be found with the application and associated papers which are on file with the Commission.

In the Commission's decision of September 6, 1945, granting the application for transfer of control of the Crosley Corporation (Docket No. 6767), it was announced that public hearings would be held to consider proposed new rules and regulations for the handling of assignment and transfer applications, including provision for public notice by the applicant and the Commission of the filing of such applications and pertinent details in cases where controlling interest is involved. Thereafter on October 3, 1945, the Commission also gave public notice (10 F.R. 12926) that pending the issuance of such proposed new rules, hearing thereon and final adoption, such applications would be deferred unless applicants desired to follow the procedure proposed in the Crosley decision and supplement their applications so as to come within the framework of the announced procedure including the provision for public notice. Pursuant thereto, the Commission was advised on May 17, 1946 that starting May 20, 1946 notice of the filing of the application would be published in the Memphis Commercial Appeal, a daily newspaper of general circulation in Memphis, Tennessee.

In accordance with the procedure proposed in the Crosley decision, and that announced in the Commission's release, no action will be had upon the WHBQ application for a period of 60 days from May 20, 1946, within which time other persons desiring to apply for the facilities involved may do so upon the same terms and conditions as set forth in the above-described contract.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION.

[Docket No. G-727]

WASHINGTON GAS LIGHT CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

MAY 28, 1946.

Notice is hereby given that on May 20, 1946, an application was filed with the Federal Power Commission by Washington Gas Light Company ("Applicant"), a corporation organized under the laws of the United States of America, with its principal place of business in the District of Columbia, for a certificate of public convenience and necessity, pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, to authorize the Applicant to construct and operate the facilities hereinafter described.

The application recites that Applicant is engaged in the manufacture, distribution, and sale of mixed gas (i) at retail for public consumption for domestic, commercial, and industrial uses by customers in the District of Columbia and (ii) at wholesale to subsidiaries, for resale for public consumption for similar uses by customers of such subsidiaries in areas adjoining the District of Columbia in Maryland and Virginia. Applicant and its subsidiaries thus furnish gas service to the entire metropolitan area of Washington. For the twelve months ended December 31, 1945, the total sales of gas by the Applicant and its subsidiaries to general consumers was 19,024,500 Mcf.

The Applicant submits that the project for which a certificate is sought will be located entirely within the District of Columbia and consists of a 16-inch pipeline, extending from Applicant's West Station gas manufacturing plant at 26th and G Streets, NW., to the point of connection with an existing 12-inch pipeline of the Company at the north end of Key Bridge, a distance of approximately 5,000 feet, together with regulating and accessory equipment. The 12-inch pipeline is one of the two 12-inch pipelines which extend across the Potomac on Key Bridge and which transport gas from the distribution system of the Applicant, in the District of Columbia, to the distribution system of Rosslyn Gas Company in Virginia.

The proposed construction will be used by Applicant to supply natural gas to Rosslyn Gas Company for resale in substitution of mixed gas heretofore supplied for such purposes. During the period in which the change from mixed gas to straight natural gas is to be made, which is scheduled to commence for Rosslyn Gas Company during the month of July, 1946, it will be necessary for the Applicant to supply Rosslyn Gas Company with both mixed and natural gas. One of the 12-inch pipelines on Key Bridge will be used for the transportation of mixed gas to Rosslyn Gas Company, and the 16-inch pipeline which is the subject of this application, together with the other 12-inch pipe line on Key Bridge, will be used for the transportation of natural gas to Rosslyn Gas Company.

The estimated over-all capital cost by Applicant with respect to the facilities which are the subject of its application is approximately $92,000.

Any interested State commission is requested to notify the Federal Power Commission whether the application should be considered under the cooperative provisions of Part 67 of the provisional rules of practice and regulations under the Natural Gas Act, and, if so, to advise the Federal Power Commission as to the nature of its interest in the matter and whether it desires a conference, the creation of a board, or a joint or concurrent hearing, together with the reasons for such request.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to the application of Washington Gas Light Company should file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., not later than fifteen days from the date of this publication, a petition or protest in accordance with the Commission's provisional rules of practice and regulations under the Natural Gas Act.

[Docket No. G-729]

CITIES SERVICE GAS CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

MAY 28, 1946.

1. Notice is hereby given that on May 10, 1946, an application was filed with the Federal Power Commission by Cities Service Gas Company (hereinafter referred to as "Applicant" or "Cities Service"), a Delaware corporation with its principal place of business at Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, to authorize the construction and operation of certain natural gas transmission pipe line and compressor station facilities located in Texas, Kansas and Oklahoma.

2. Cities Service presently owns and operates (under certificates of public convenience and necessity heretofore issued by the Commission) an integrated natural gas pipe line system through which it transports natural gas in interstate commerce from points where Applicant produces natural gas in Texas, Oklahoma, and Kansas, and from points where Applicant purchases gas in Oklahoma, Kansas, and Missouri, for direct sale and for resale for ultimate public consumption for domestic, commercial, industrial, or other use in Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Kansas, and Nebraska.

3. The facilities for which Applicant seeks authorization to construct and operate are as follows:

(a) Approximately 405 miles of 26-inch gas pipe line extending from a proposed compressor station in the Kansas portion of the Hugoton gas field to a point near the city limits of Kansas City, Missouri.

(b) A compressor station of 12,000 horsepower and a dehydration plant to be located at the terminus of a field trunk pipe line system at the point indicated in paragraph (a) above.

(c) A telephone pole line from the compressor station above mentioned to Applicant's Straight Compressor Station located in the Hugoton gas field in Texas County, Oklahoma.

(d) Approximately 33.5 miles of 16-inch transmission pipe line loop from Applicant's Cotton Valley Measuring Station, Washington County, Oklahoma, to a point on Applicant's existing Quapaw 16-inch gas transmission pipe line, Craig County, Oklahoma.

(e) A 1,610 horsepower compressor station at Hund Junction, Leavenworth County, Kansas.

(f) An additional 230 horsepower compressor unit at Applicant's existing compressor station located in the Lyons gas field, Rice County, Kansas.

4. The estimated total construction cost of the proposed initial facilities, including the primary trunk field lines to be located in the Hugoton gas field, is $22,416,613. Applicant proposes to finance the cost of such facilities by the issuance and sale of First Mortgage Pipe Line Bonds under its existing indenture in the amount of sixty per cent of the total cost of such facilities and the balance to be financed by the issuance and sale of debentures. The application states, however, that the above financing plan is tentative only, and is not supported by firm commitment from any financial source. Applicant is said to be negotiating with certain financial institutions with reference to such financing. The estimated over-all capital cost of the initial facilities, including financing cost of $250,000 and working capital of $300,000, is $22,966,613.

5. The application states that the facilities hereinbefore described, upon completion, will be utilized to meet Applicant's rapidly increasing market demands throughout its system and particularly those markets on the "East Side" of the system, east of Ottawa, Kansas (primarily the Kansas City area). It is said that detailed market surveys for the next four years made by Cities Service and its affiliated distribution company customers indicate that the peak-day domestic demand upon the system during such period will be increased by 220,000,000 cubic feet, and the peak-day industrial demand will be increased by 76,000,000 cubic feet. The facilities described previously herein represent the initial phase of a four-year construction program intended by Applicant to meet these increased demands. Without the proposed facilities, Applicant states that it will be unable to meet the firm demands of connected distributing companies in periods of cold weather.

6. Applicant is now negotiating additional gas purchase contracts with various owners of gas acreage in the Hugoton field, which contracts have not been consummated. Applicant states that the recoverable gas reserves now available to its system exceed four trillion cubic feet.

7. Applicant proposes to commence construction of the facilities for which a certificate is now sought on or before April 1, 1947, and to complete the construction thereof on or about October 1, 1947.

8. Any interested State commission is requested to notify the Federal Power Commission whether the application should be considered under the cooperative provisions of Part 67 of the provisional rules of practice and regulations under the Natural Gas Act, and if so, to advise the Federal Power Commission as to the nature of its interest in the matter and whether it desires a conference, the creation of a board, or a joint or concurrent hearing, together with the reasons for such request.

9. Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to the application of the Cities Service Gas Company should file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., not later than fifteen days from the date of this publication, a petition or protest in accordance with the Commission's provisional rules of practice and regulations under the Natural Gas Act.
